Mendes-France Says Indo Armistice Cruel But Ended Nightmare

Member Of Former Laniel Government Criticizes Premier

PARIS, July 22 (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France reported to the National Assembly today that the Indochina peace he negotiated at Geneva was cruel but that it was the best bargain to be had and it ended a nightmare for France.

He was immediately attacked by Frederic DuPont, a member of the government of Joseph Laniel which Mendes-France displaced.

DuPont accused the Premier of throwing away advantages in the Geneva negotiations and implied that the Laniel government, if allowed to stay in office, could have had peace and perhaps on better terms.

Receives Warm Welcome

Reporting to the National Assembly on the Geneva negotiations after his return this morning, Mendes-France was received with a warm welcome by the deputies including the Communists. The Assembly applauded as he mounted the rostrum, and again after his 45-minute address. He had promised the Assembly he would resign unless he succeeded in negotiating a cease-fire by July 20 — a deadline he missed by only a few hours.

"I have no illusions and I do not want anyone to have any illusions on the contents of the agreements," Mendes-France said. "The text is sometimes cruel. It consecrates facts which were cruel. It was not possible to do otherwise."

The next step, he said, must be to help the reconstruction of southern Viet Nam and to put the French economy on a sound basis.

Communists Applaud

The Communist deputies also applauded when Mendes-France paid tribute to the help given by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain during the negotiations at Geneva. And they joined the rest of the chamber in standing when the Assembly's President, Andre le Troquer, paid homage to French victims of the war at the opening of the session.

Mendes-France said he was sure France's alliance with the United States and Great Britain is stronger as a result of his talks last week with Secretary of State Dulles and Eden.

He emphasized, however, that the French policy with regard to the six-nation European Defense Community had not in any way been bound as a result of the talks.

$3,029,000,000 Deficit Is Less Than Expected

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today, with considerable pride, that the federal government's deficit on June 30 was $3,029,000,000, or $245,000,000 less than had been expected in January.

In other comparisons, he listed the $6,411,000,000 in-the-red showing of a year earlier, and the $9,922,000,000 deficit President Truman had estimated in his final budget would be the deficit on June 30, 1954.

Balanced Budget Nearer

Eisenhower said in a statement at the White House that progress has been made toward a balanced budget while cutting taxes. He said:

"These fiscal achievements mean a great deal to the American people:

"1. We have made possible a program of tax cuts totalling 7½ billion dollars.

"2. We have halted inflation. The purchasing power of the dollar has varied only one-half of one cent in the past 18 months.

"3. Our people have new confidence. We are laying a firm base for a healthy and expanding economy for better national security, and for more jobs for more people."

Downturn Cut Revenues

Eisenhower's report indicated that the economic downturn which set in last summer reduced the government's income by some three billion dollars below the receipts he forecast last January.

But the administration meanwhile chopped spending, mainly national security outlays a little more than enough to fit the shrinkage of its purse, by some three and a fourth billion dollars less than the January estimate.

Consequently, the government was able to wind up fiscal 1954 on June 30 with the less-than-expected deficit of $3,029,000,000.

Czech In Makeshift "Frogman" Outfit Swims To Freedom

VIENNA, Austria, July 22 (AP)—A Czech grocery man has escaped from Communist Czechoslovakia by swimming three miles under water in a submarine suit fashioned from a picture of a U.S. Navy frogman, American officials said today.

Olrich Lopada, 41, made his getaway June 28 across the rain-swollen waters of the Dyje River at the Czech frontier town of Znojmo, 50 miles northwest of Vienna.

Now at a U.S. escapee camp at Wels, Lopada said his makeshift frogman suit was made out of sheet rubber glued together with rubber cement, and a diver's helmet built from an old German gas mask. The mask had two rubber hoses attached to corks that floated on the water.

China Flood Disaster

HONG KONG, July 22 (AP)—The Kiangsi radio said today flood waters had wrecked the Daibouwai dyke in Nanchang July 17, killing many, washing away more than 20,000 acres of farmland and leaving more than 50,000 persons homeless.

Jobless Reserve Fund Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Congress today completed action on a bill to create a 200 million dollar reserve fund to help states if they run into difficulty in paying unemployment benefits.

The act also would earmark all unemployment taxes for the Unemployment Insurance Program, stopping a diversion to the Treasury's general funds.

And, eventually, the act would return surplus federal unemployment funds to the states.

The House passed the bill last year and the Senate approved it recently, with some amendments. The House accepted the Senate amendments late today and sent the measure to the White House.

Asia Alliance Talks Planned Before Sept. 1

U. S., Britain Agree To Call Conference Of About 10 Nations

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The United States and Britain have agreed to join in calling an international conference of about 10 nations by Sept. 1 to create an anti-Communist Southeast Asian Alliance. Consultations with friendly nations which may participate are already being held.

The aim of the conference will be to conclude a defensive treaty that would post "no trespassing" warnings for the Communists along the borders of South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia in Indochina, and of Thailand and Burma.

The British agreement to hold a meeting by Sept. 1 apparently represents a concession on timing by Foreign Secretary Eden. Earlier information had been that Eden believed many months would be required to work out the proposed pact.

Secretary of State Dulles had sought creation of the alliance as a matter of urgency. He believes immediate creation of anti-Communist strength in Southeast Asia is necessary in view of Communist gains through the Indochina peace settlement reached at Geneva yesterday.

While there was no immediate official announcement of the American-British agreement or of the diplomatic arrangements already under way, State Department press officer Lincoln White fully supported information privately available on the subject when he met reporters at a news conference.

He said that consultations were under way but that details regarding the conference have to be worked out. When pressed to state whether he was confirming that a conference would be held, he said: "I think the implication of what I have said is that a conference is in the offing."

The exact date and place of the conference remain to be determined in talks with the other governments which may attend. Consultations with the French regime of Premier Mendes-France, heretofore preoccupied with the Indochina peace negotiations, are expected to begin at once. Some other friendly governments like Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand are already definitely counted in as a result of consultations already held.

The British government is sounding out India's Prime Minister Nehru and leaders of Indonesia, Ceylon, Burma and Pakistan on participation.

Farm Bill Delay Laid To Demos

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) today charged—and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Vt) warmly denied it — that Senate Democrats are forcing a delay which threatens to mean no farm bill this session.

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, called Aiken's statement "most amazing" and an example of "the kind of misunderstandings that can arise when senators are too tired and weary to think clearly."

Aiken is chairman of the Agriculture Committee. He said the Democrats had served notice they would not agree to action on the farm bill — with its central issue of flexible-vs-fixed price supports —until after the July 27 primary in which Sen. Ellender (D-Ala) is running for renomination.

Johnson in his reply said: "The answer to this statement is simply that it is not true."

A highway oil tanker struck a train at Asheville, N. C., and the resulting explosion killed the driver, Carl Greene, 30, Spruce Pine at Union Mills, N. C. Hugh Simpson and Don Hemphill, who attempted to rescue the driver, were burned severely.

Bonn Charges Reds Kidnaped Anti-Spy Chief

BERLIN, July 22 (AP) — West Germany's anti-spy chief, Dr. Otto John, has disappeared mysteriously in Soviet-run East Berlin. The Bonn Interior Ministry charged today Communists kidnaped him. West Berlin police said a note left behind said he did not want to return West.

If he was kidnaped, the Communists landed a major prize.

John, 44, headed the Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution, which is charged with safeguarding the West German republic against treasonable and subversive activities. The FOPC is comparable in many respects to the Central Intelligence Agency in the United States.

Visited U. S. In June

(In Washington, officials reported John had visited the United States in June and conferred with Allen W. Dulles, CIA head. The visit was described as unofficial.)

As chief of the anti-subversion office, John has an intimate knowledge of antisubversive operations in his own territory and of West German intelligence sources in Russian-occupied East Germany.

John has not been seen since he left his hotel in Allied West Berlin in a taxi Tuesday evening. Police said he called a doctor friend and the two went together to the Soviet sector.

Suffered Depression

West Berlin police said John was suffering "serious mental depression" recently. They said a note left behind by John's companion, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, indicated that John did not want to return to the West.

The Interior Ministry in Bonn said "Dr. Wohlgemuth, who is known as an active Communist, has probably written the letter in order to remove suspicion from himself."

Swedish Vessel Collides With Ferry, Three Tugs

LIVERPOOL, England, July 22 (AP) — The Swedish ship Alida Gorthon (3,636 tons) was involved in collisions tonight with a ferryboat, three tugs and a Mersey River landing stage.

The Alida Gorthon, outward bound, and the ferryboat Wallasey collided at St. George's stage while passengers were boarding the ferry.

Probe Asks Criminal Action In Case Of Big Va. Housing Project

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee's probe of apartment house builders turned suddenly today to a project now rising within sight of the Capitol Building—and it was disclosed that criminal action is being sought.

Norman P. Mason, acting commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, said the Justice Department had been asked to act in the case of the Arlington Towers apartment development, a 22 million dollar structure described as "one of the nation's largest."

$35,000 Cash Outlay

Testimony developed that it is being erected on the Virginia side of the Potomac River by a former restaurant operator and two partners with a cash outlay of $35,000.

There was also testimony that the local FHA office was not aware of all the intricate financial and contractual arrangements when it approved a 16½ million dollar loan for building the project last December.

Mason's dramatic announcement of possible fraud came after committee investigator Clarence Dinkins testified that a local FHA official told him only a few days ago that the application for FHA insurance of the loan never would have been approved had it not been for "pressure" from Clyde L. Powell.

"Pressure" Charge Denied

This was denied by the FHA official, Thomas C. Berringer.

Powell was fired as assistant FHA commissioner in charge of the apartment building program after the White House announced a shakeup of the housing agency last April.

The president of Arlington Towers Corp. is Walter P. McFarland of Arlington, who testified he was in the restaurant business for 20 years before getting into the housing project last year. He said his two associates are John Loughran of McLean, Va., and Edward P. Johnson of Alexandria, Va.

Injured Dodging Bat, Woman Sues Her Son But Loses

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Last summer Mrs. Annette Kounitz was visting her son's home in Trenton, N. J., when a bat flew in through a window.

In panic, Mrs. Kounitz dodged the bat and fell, injuring her head and back. A New York dress designer, Mrs. Kounitz sued her son, Jerome, for $25,000 damages.

Today, State Supreme Court Justice Samuel M. Gold dismissed the suit, ruling the younger man was not responsible for the bat's entry.

Budget-Cutting Drive Derailed

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The congressional budget-cutting drive was derailed today as the House, under presidential prodding, added $109,146,549 to a catch-all appropriation bill.

The funds added were restorations of all or part of cuts imposed by the House Appropriations Committee in budget estimates of President Eisenhower for hospital, airport and ship construction.

Even so, the $1,303,334,628 appropriated in the bill was $656,623,639, or 33.5 per cent, below the $1,959,958,627 requested by the President for miscellaneous agencies financed in the measure. Of that cut, $528,400,000 was in funds requested for military public works construction. Instead of providing all the new cash recommended for this work, the committee, and the House, decided to allow the Army, the Navy and the Air Force to use unobligated balances of previously appropriated funds to offset most of the cut in new money.

Grunewald Lied On 10 Occasions, Indictment Says

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, noted Washington wirepuller, was indicted today on 10 charges of perjury.

The indictment charges that he lied four times to the grand jury and six times before a House Ways and Means subcommittee about his alleged connection with tax-filing activities.

Some of the counts involved the same cases.

Count No. 1 charged that Grunewald falsely testified to the House subcommittee in April 1953 that he had never discussed tax cases with Daniel A. Bolich, once the nation's No. 2 tax collector. Bolich himself is now under indictment on charges of evading his own income taxes.

Reply To Question Recorded

The subcommittee record showed that Grunewald was asked whether "During this time that Mr. Bolich was staying in your suite at the Washington Hotel, did he ever discuss tax cases with you."

Grunewald's reply was recorded: "At no time did Mr. Bolich discuss any tax cases with me in any way, shape or form, to my recollection, at any time."

Bolich was one of several officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau during the Truman administration with whom Grunewald was on friendly terms.

Refused To Talk At First

When first brought before congressional investigators of tax scandals, Grunewald refused to answer any questions and was cited for contempt of Congress. He eventually changed his mind and answered questions, but not to the full satisfaction of his interrogators.

In the end, he pleaded guilty to one charge of contempt and received a 90-day sentence last spring. It was suspended with his promise to lead a "clean, honest and temperate life."

Russians Execute Henchman Of Beria

MOSCOW, Friday, July 23 (AP) — Pravda announced today the execution of M. D. Ryumin, chief henchman of the late Police Chief Lavrenty Beria. Ryumin was accused of master-minding the notorious "Doctor's Plot."

The Communist party paper said investigations showed Ryumin had forced the doctors to "slander themselves and other people of perpetrating the heaviest state crime — high treason, espionage, subversive activity and so on."

Ex-Director, 92, Leads Naval Academy Band

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 22 (AP)—Pasquel de Santis, 92, left his wheelchair today and led the Naval Academy band for the first time in 31 years.

Apologetically, he told the 54 musicians, "I can't make much motion."

But his gestures were brave and sweeping as the music swelled through the first bars. The number was "Quanta T'Amo," a Spanish lovesong he arranged for a Naval Academy band of years ago.

Senate Votes To Put AEC In Power Field

Administration Dealt Setback As Marathon Session Continues

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Foes of the Eisenhower atomic energy bill won an upset victory at a marathon Senate session today as the chamber voted 45-41 to authorize the federal government to go into the commercial production of atomic power.

The vote came after critics had hammered away on the thesis that provisions of the Eisenhower bill for permitting private industry into the atomic power field amounted to a "gigantic give-away." Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said the bill would "furnish wheelbarrows" to private companies to cart away vast national resources.

In vain, administration backers declared that the Atomic Energy Commission has no desire to get into the commercial power field. The Senate voted to authorize the AEC and some other federal agencies to build atomic plants capable of producing commercial quantities of power.

In Session Over 36 Hours

At 10 p.m. the Senate had been in continuous session for 36 hours with foes of the administration's bill to rewrite atomic laws showing no signs of wearing out. Knowland took tentative steps toward invoking the debate-limitation rule to break "This full-fledged filibuster."

The Senate adopted another of some 40 amendments to the atomic bill at 7:47 p.m. after Knowland had withdrawn a quorum call.

The amendment was accepted by voice vote after its author, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), modified it. The proposal would assure that utilities, both public and private, must be given ample notice if a nuclear power station is to be built in their area.

The victory over the administration leadership on the power amendment resulted from a lineup of 38 Democrats, 1 Independent, Morse of Oregon, and 6 Republicans: Case and Mundt of South Dakota, Langer and Young of North Dakota, Dworshak of Idaho and Cooper of Kentucky.

AEC Against Move

On the losing side were 35 Republicans and 6 Democrats: Burke of Ohio, Ervin of North Carolina, Frear of Delaware, Holland and Smathers of Florida, and Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) floor manager for the bill, told the Senate the administration doesn't want the AEC in the commercial power field, nor does the AEC itself want to get in it.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) sponsored the amendment authorizing AEC to get into the field. It provides for giving preference to cooperatives and publicly owned utilities in the sale of excess power from any atomic plants. This is now required in the case of hydroelectric facilities.

Korean Casualties Set At 142,067, Drop Of 108

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — A revised summary of battle casualties in Korea today placed the total number of American dead, wounded and missing at 142,067, a decrease of 108 since the last Defense Department report three months ago.

A Pentagon spokesman explained that the decrease in the total had resulted from a continuing correction of records and the elimination of duplications.

The summary showed an increase of 149 for a new total of 23,345 killed in action.

Air Force In Stew As Brass Put On Block Proves Silver

SHELBY, Ohio, July 22 (AP) — High Air Force brass is asking some embarrassing questions today about how tons of silver and silver plated emblems and decorations were put up for auction.

Until the questions are answered, the Air Force is holding up confirmation of the sales. Chances are good the Air Force will end up still owning the emblems and decorations.

The items were offered as brass at yesterday's auction at Wilkins Air Force Base depot. But some sharp-eyed bidders who know brass from silver saw they were getting the real stuff.

Bids on the "brass" leaped from five cents, to $1.90, to $4 a pound. How much was auctioned is not clear. Says Col. Narce Whitaker, the depot commander:

"That's one of the things that isn't clear yet. I have my men working like beavers trying to find out. We do not have a firm figure on the total."

Other sources said the total would be about 52 tons.

Auctioning of the decorations and emblems is being investigated by the Air Material Command headquarters at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio.

The emblems and decorations still are at Wilkins depot. And chances are they'll remain there until they're disposed of by sending them to a central location, as government regulations provide.

The Air Force is prevented by law from disposing of gold or silver material as surplus. Why the emblems and decorations were listed as brass is not known.

Battle Of Recounts Reaches State Court Of Appeals Monday

Top Strategists For Byrd Consider Convention Course In Secret Meetings

[By The Associated Press]

Maryland's Court of Appeals will meet in special session Monday to hear three cases growing from George P. Mahoney's unsuccessful recount effort to upset H.C. Byrd's nomination as Democratic candidate for governor.

The court's session, set for 10 a. m. in Annapolis, just four hours before the Democratic State Convention is scheduled to convene in Baltimore, will mark the first time a statewide election dispute has reached the high court.

A spokesman said the court will make itself available for any other election business on Tuesday.

There will be other business, but it is doubtful it will reach the Court of Appeals by Tuesday.

A Mahoney lieutenant said suits would be filed immediately charging vote buying in Queen Annes County and irregularities in Talbot County. These also are expected to go to the Court of Appeals as soon as they clear the lower courts.

Meanwhile, top strategists for Byrd started a series of secret conferences to decide what the state convention should do next Monday about awarding its nomination for governor.

No decision was reached, however, and the leaders, including Byrd; his campaign director, former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr.; former Congressman Lansdale G. Sasscer; Chairman Arthur H. Brice of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission who also is a Kent County Democratic leader, and city leaders, planned to meet again tomorrow and Saturday.

The 80 delegates Byrd won on the basis of the official canvass, will meet Sunday.

The battle of the recounts, by which Mahoney sought to wrest the nomination from Byrd, moved at a frenzied pace during the day on several fronts—in Talbot, Queen Annes, and Calvert Counties and in Superior Court in Baltimore.

For the moment at least things stood exactly as they did when the last scattered returns from the June 28 primary were being counted at sunup the next morning.

Byrd still held 80 of the all-important county unit nominating votes in the state convention. Mahoney still had but 72.

The meeting of Byrd strategists, most of them top figures in the party for years, went into session after invitations marked "confidential" were delivered to them.

Those familiar with what was going on said the conferences probably would continue over the weekend and right up to the time the convention convenes at the Emer-

Miss Universe Favorites Include Dixie's Miss USA

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 22 (AP) — Lovely women from Brazil, Thailand, Germany and Dixie today found themselves early favorites for the Miss Universe sweepstakes.

Beauties from 33 nations parade before the judges tonight in preliminaries of the contest. Some 18 will be weeded out, but who they are will not be known until just before the start of tomorrow night's finals.

Miss USA suffers a slight psychological disadvantage because her crown traditionally is regarded as much of a prize as that of Miss Universe. But Miriam Stevenson, 21, of Winsboro, S.C. could well sweep both titles. She's got the equipment to do it.

Miss Brazil is a 21-year-old bundle of curves and sex appeal. She is also the only blue-eyed Latin entered.

Miss Thailand, the shortest entrant, is a blackeyed beauty from Bangkok, first ever from that country to enter. Miss Germany could take the crown on natural charm alone but she's got much more than that.

Miss Virginia, runner up, turned out today to be only 17 and a year shy of the minimum age, but as long as her award was only honorary, contest officials said it didn't matter.

Miss Maryland, another favorite, was unveiled as a 16-year-old.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) today charged—and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Vt) warmly denied it — that Senate Democrats are forcing a delay which threatens to mean no farm bill this session.

Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, called Aiken's statement "most amazing" and an example of "the kind of misunderstandings that can arise when senators are too tired and weary to think clearly."

Aiken is chairman of the Agriculture Committee. He said the Democrats had served notice they would not agree to action on the farm bill — with its central issue of flexible-vs-fixed price supports —until after the July 27 primary in which Sen. Ellender (D-Ala) is running for renomination.

Johnson in his reply said: "The answer to this statement is simply that it is not true."

Bonn Charges Reds Kidnaped Anti-Spy Chief

BERLIN, July 22 (AP) — West Germany's anti-spy chief, Dr. Otto John, has disappeared mysteriously in Soviet-run East Berlin. The Bonn Interior Ministry charged today Communists kidnaped him. West Berlin police said a note left behind said he did not want to return West.

If he was kidnaped, the Communists landed a major prize.

John, 44, headed the Federal Office for Protection of the Constitution, which is charged with safeguarding the West German republic against treasonable and subversive activities. The FOPC is comparable in many respects to the Central Intelligence Agency in the United States.

Visited U. S. In June

(In Washington, officials reported John had visited the United States in June and conferred with Allen W. Dulles, CIA head. The visit was described as unofficial.)

As chief of the anti-subversion office, John has an intimate knowledge of antisubversive operations in his own territory and of West German intelligence sources in Russian-occupied East Germany.

John has not been seen since he left his hotel in Allied West Berlin in a taxi Tuesday evening. Police said he called a doctor friend and the two went together to the Soviet sector.

Suffered Depression

West Berlin police said John was suffering "serious mental depression" recently. They said a note left behind by John's companion, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, indicated that John did not want to return to the West.

The Interior Ministry in Bonn said "Dr. Wohlgemuth, who is known as an active Communist, has probably written the letter in order to remove suspicion from himself."

Swedish Vessel Collides With Ferry, Three Tugs

LIVERPOOL, England, July 22 (AP) — The Swedish ship Alida Gorthon (3,636 tons) was involved in collisions tonight with a ferryboat, three tugs and a Mersey River landing stage.

The Alida Gorthon, outward bound, and the ferryboat Wallasey collided at St. George's stage while passengers were boarding the ferry.

Probe Asks Criminal Action In Case Of Big Va. Housing Project

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee's probe of apartment house builders turned suddenly today to a project now rising within sight of the Capitol Building—and it was disclosed that criminal action is being sought.

Norman P. Mason, acting commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, said the Justice Department had been asked to act in the case of the Arlington Towers apartment development, a 22 million dollar structure described as "one of the nation's largest."

$35,000 Cash Outlay

Testimony developed that it is being erected on the Virginia side of the Potomac River by a former restaurant operator and two partners with a cash outlay of $35,000.

There was also testimony that the local FHA office was not aware of all the intricate financial and contractual arrangements when it approved a 16½ million dollar loan for building the project last December.

Mason's dramatic announcement of possible fraud came after committee investigator Clarence Dinkins testified that a local FHA official told him only a few days ago that the application for FHA insurance of the loan never would have been approved had it not been for "pressure" from Clyde L. Powell.

"Pressure" Charge Denied

This was denied by the FHA official, Thomas C. Berringer.

Powell was fired as assistant FHA commissioner in charge of the apartment building program after the White House announced a shakeup of the housing agency last April.

The president of Arlington Towers Corp. is Walter P. McFarland of Arlington, who testified he was in the restaurant business for 20 years before getting into the housing project last year. He said his two associates are John Loughran of McLean, Va., and Edward P. Johnson of Alexandria, Va.

Injured Dodging Bat, Woman Sues Her Son But Loses

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Last summer Mrs. Annette Kounitz was visting her son's home in Trenton, N. J., when a bat flew in through a window.

In panic, Mrs. Kounitz dodged the bat and fell, injuring her head and back. A New York dress designer, Mrs. Kounitz sued her son, Jerome, for $25,000 damages.

Today, State Supreme Court Justice Samuel M. Gold dismissed the suit, ruling the younger man was not responsible for the bat's entry.

Budget-Cutting Drive Derailed

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The congressional budget-cutting drive was derailed today as the House, under presidential prodding, added $109,146,549 to a catch-all appropriation bill.

The funds added were restorations of all or part of cuts imposed by the House Appropriations Committee in budget estimates of President Eisenhower for hospital, airport and ship construction.

Even so, the $1,303,334,628 appropriated in the bill was $656,623,639, or 33.5 per cent, below the $1,959,958,627 requested by the President for miscellaneous agencies financed in the measure. Of that cut, $528,400,000 was in funds requested for military public works construction. Instead of providing all the new cash recommended for this work, the committee, and the House, decided to allow the Army, the Navy and the Air Force to use unobligated balances of previously appropriated funds to offset most of the cut in new money.

Russians Execute Henchman Of Beria

MOSCOW, Friday, July 23 (AP) — Pravda announced today the execution of M. D. Ryumin, chief henchman of the late Police Chief Lavrenty Beria. Ryumin was accused of master-minding the notorious "Doctor's Plot."

The Communist party paper said investigations showed Ryumin had forced the doctors to "slander themselves and other people of perpetrating the heaviest state crime — high treason, espionage, subversive activity and so on."

Grunewald Lied On 10 Occasions, Indictment Says

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, noted Washington wirepuller, was indicted today on 10 charges of perjury.

The indictment charges that he lied four times to the grand jury and six times before a House Ways and Means subcommittee about his alleged connection with tax-filing activities.

Some of the counts involved the same cases.

Count No. 1 charged that Grunewald falsely testified to the House subcommittee in April 1953 that he had never discussed tax cases with Daniel A. Bolich, once the nation's No. 2 tax collector. Bolich himself is now under indictment on charges of evading his own income taxes.

Reply To Question Recorded

The subcommittee record showed that Grunewald was asked whether "During this time that Mr. Bolich was staying in your suite at the Washington Hotel, did he ever discuss tax cases with you."

Grunewald's reply was recorded: "At no time did Mr. Bolich discuss any tax cases with me in any way, shape or form, to my recollection, at any time."

Bolich was one of several officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau during the Truman administration with whom Grunewald was on friendly terms.

Refused To Talk At First

When first brought before congressional investigators of tax scandals, Grunewald refused to answer any questions and was cited for contempt of Congress. He eventually changed his mind and answered questions, but not to the full satisfaction of his interrogators.

In the end, he pleaded guilty to one charge of contempt and received a 90-day sentence last spring. It was suspended with his promise to lead a "clean, honest and temperate life."

Ex-Director, 92, Leads Naval Academy Band

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 22 (AP)—Pasquel de Santis, 92, left his wheelchair today and led the Naval Academy band for the first time in 31 years.

Apologetically, he told the 54 musicians, "I can't make much motion."

But his gestures were brave and sweeping as the music swelled through the first bars. The number was "Quanta T'Amo," a Spanish lovesong he arranged for a Naval Academy band of years ago.

Senate Votes To Put AEC In Power Field

Administration Dealt Setback As Marathon Session Continues

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Foes of the Eisenhower atomic energy bill won an upset victory at a marathon Senate session today as the chamber voted 45-41 to authorize the federal government to go into the commercial production of atomic power.

The vote came after critics had hammered away on the thesis that provisions of the Eisenhower bill for permitting private industry into the atomic power field amounted to a "gigantic give-away." Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said the bill would "furnish wheelbarrows" to private companies to cart away vast national resources.

In vain, administration backers declared that the Atomic Energy Commission has no desire to get into the commercial power field. The Senate voted to authorize the AEC and some other federal agencies to build atomic plants capable of producing commercial quantities of power.

In Session Over 36 Hours

At 10 p.m. the Senate had been in continuous session for 36 hours with foes of the administration's bill to rewrite atomic laws showing no signs of wearing out. Knowland took tentative steps toward invoking the debate-limitation rule to break "This full-fledged filibuster."

The Senate adopted another of some 40 amendments to the atomic bill at 7:47 p.m. after Knowland had withdrawn a quorum call.

The amendment was accepted by voice vote after its author, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), modified it. The proposal would assure that utilities, both public and private, must be given ample notice if a nuclear power station is to be built in their area.

The victory over the administration leadership on the power amendment resulted from a lineup of 38 Democrats, 1 Independent, Morse of Oregon, and 6 Republicans: Case and Mundt of South Dakota, Langer and Young of North Dakota, Dworshak of Idaho and Cooper of Kentucky.

AEC Against Move

On the losing side were 35 Republicans and 6 Democrats: Burke of Ohio, Ervin of North Carolina, Frear of Delaware, Holland and Smathers of Florida, and Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) floor manager for the bill, told the Senate the administration doesn't want the AEC in the commercial power field, nor does the AEC itself want to get in it.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) sponsored the amendment authorizing AEC to get into the field. It provides for giving preference to cooperatives and publicly owned utilities in the sale of excess power from any atomic plants. This is now required in the case of hydroelectric facilities.

Korean Casualties Set At 142,067, Drop Of 108

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — A revised summary of battle casualties in Korea today placed the total number of American dead, wounded and missing at 142,067, a decrease of 108 since the last Defense Department report three months ago.

A Pentagon spokesman explained that the decrease in the total had resulted from a continuing correction of records and the elimination of duplications.

The summary showed an increase of 149 for a new total of 23,345 killed in action.

Battle Of Recounts Reaches State Court Of Appeals Monday

Top Strategists For Byrd Consider Convention Course In Secret Meetings

[By The Associated Press]

Maryland's Court of Appeals will meet in special session Monday to hear three cases growing from George P. Mahoney's unsuccessful recount effort to upset H.C. Byrd's nomination as Democratic candidate for governor.

The court's session, set for 10 a. m. in Annapolis, just four hours before the Democratic State Convention is scheduled to convene in Baltimore, will mark the first time a statewide election dispute has reached the high court.

A spokesman said the court will make itself available for any other election business on Tuesday.

There will be other business, but it is doubtful it will reach the Court of Appeals by Tuesday.

A Mahoney lieutenant said suits would be filed immediately charging vote buying in Queen Annes County and irregularities in Talbot County. These also are expected to go to the Court of Appeals as soon as they clear the lower courts.

Meanwhile, top strategists for Byrd started a series of secret conferences to decide what the state convention should do next Monday about awarding its nomination for governor.

No decision was reached, however, and the leaders, including Byrd; his campaign director, former Gov. William Preston Lane Jr.; former Congressman Lansdale G. Sasscer; Chairman Arthur H. Brice of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission who also is a Kent County Democratic leader, and city leaders, planned to meet again tomorrow and Saturday.

The 80 delegates Byrd won on the basis of the official canvass, will meet Sunday.

The battle of the recounts, by which Mahoney sought to wrest the nomination from Byrd, moved at a frenzied pace during the day on several fronts—in Talbot, Queen Annes, and Calvert Counties and in Superior Court in Baltimore.

For the moment at least things stood exactly as they did when the last scattered returns from the June 28 primary were being counted at sunup the next morning.

Byrd still held 80 of the all-important county unit nominating votes in the state convention. Mahoney still had but 72.

The meeting of Byrd strategists, most of them top figures in the party for years, went into session after invitations marked "confidential" were delivered to them.

Those familiar with what was going on said the conferences probably would continue over the weekend and right up to the time the convention convenes at the Emer-

Miss Universe Favorites Include Dixie's Miss USA

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 22 (AP) — Lovely women from Brazil, Thailand, Germany and Dixie today found themselves early favorites for the Miss Universe sweepstakes.

Beauties from 33 nations parade before the judges tonight in preliminaries of the contest. Some 18 will be weeded out, but who they are will not be known until just before the start of tomorrow night's finals.

Miss USA suffers a slight psychological disadvantage because her crown traditionally is regarded as much of a prize as that of Miss Universe. But Miriam Stevenson, 21, of Winsboro, S.C. could well sweep both titles. She's got the equipment to do it.

Miss Brazil is a 21-year-old bundle of curves and sex appeal. She is also the only blue-eyed Latin entered.

Miss Thailand, the shortest entrant, is a blackeyed beauty from Bangkok, first ever from that country to enter. Miss Germany could take the crown on natural charm alone but she's got much more than that.

Miss Virginia, runner up, turned out today to be only 17 and a year shy of the minimum age, but as long as her award was only honorary, contest officials said it didn't matter.

Miss Maryland, another favorite, was unveiled as a 16-year-old.

French To Begin Evacuation Of Red River Delta Next Week

HANOI, Indochina, July 22 (AP)—A French official announced today preliminary plans for evacuations from the surrendered Red River delta as sporadic fighting continued. The Geneva cease-fire is not yet officially in effect.

Jacques Compain, French delegate general to Northern Indochina, said the removal of French and Vietnamese civilians from Hanoi will begin next week. He stated officials were prepared to remove more than a million persons from the Delta area before it is handed over to the Communist-led Vietminh.

Under armistice terms reached at Geneva, the French have 300 days to evacuate Hanoi and Haiphong, the chief port of the Delta area.

French Army spokesmen, meanwhile, reported that Vietminh troops ambushed a supply column southwest of Hanoi, wounding 100 French and Vietnamese soldiers. There was no announcement of casualties to the attackers.

Several hundred Vietminh also slashed their way through barbed wire entanglements surrounding the key defense post of Vietri, 40 miles northwest of Hanoi. They were beaten back, however.

The French also reported light clashes elsewhere in the Delta in which a total of 22 Vietminh were killed and six captured.

The cease-fire signed Wednesday in Geneva does not become effective until it is countersigned by the field commanders of the two sides. It is estimated it may be a week or more before all the guns are silent.

In Saigon, Viet Nam Premier Ngo Dinh Diem assailed the partioning of his country, but promised not to obstruct the peace. In a message to the nation, Diem said any attempt to oppose the armistice would be a catastrophe. He called on his people to help the thousands of anti-Communist refugees who will flow southward from the Red-ruled side of the cease-fire line.

Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, Vietnamese chief of staff, warned in an order of the day that "the cease-fire is not peace." Hinh told his troops: "The enemy will profit by it to prepare his peace which will place us under the communist yoke. Be ever more vigilant because we, too, are preparing our peace — one of honor and true liberty."

Strike Halts Production At Chrysler

DETROIT, July 22 (AP)—Chrysler Corp.'s production came to a virtual standstill today as the number idled as the result of a strike at its main Dodge plant rose to 44,850.

Its work force of hourly rated workers totals 66,000, but all assembly lines had been shut down.

The Dodge plant produces parts for other Chrysler divisions and among those walking out with Dodge's 10,700 workers four days ago were truck drivers who shuttle parts and bodies from plant to plant.

Latest to be laid off were 8,850 machinists, motor builders and maintenance employes. Like the others they are members of the CIO United Auto Workers Union.

Pickets ringed the big Dodge plant in suburban Hamtramck Monday. Protesting the firing of two Dodge trim department employes last Friday, they persuaded others to stay away, although the action has not yet received approval from UAW international headquarters.

The company said the men were dismissed for refusing to do work assigned them. Spokesmen for Dodge Local 3 of the UAW claimed a speedup in which they said "One man was being asked to do the work of two." The company countered that no one was being asked to do an unreasonable amount of work and termed the demonstration a violation of its UAW contract which runs to mid-1955.

43-Foot Sailing Vessel Carrying Eight Asks Help

SEATTLE, July 22 (AP)—The 43-foot sailing vessel Thunderbird of Seattle, with five adults and three children aboard, radioed for aid this afternoon 40 miles off Coos Bay, Ore., Coast Guard headquarters reported.

The Coast Guard said the Thunderbird messaged heavy seas were breaking over her as she wallowed in giant waves kicked up by 50 to 55 mile an hour winds.

A Coast Guard plane was dispatched immediately from Port Angeles, Wash., and the cutter Bonham put out from Coos Bay.

The Coast Guard said the owner and skipper is Don E. Avery, Seattle and the Thunderbird was en route from Seattle to San Francisco.

Names of the others aboard was not known.

Cool Air Mass Brings Pleasant Weather To East

[By The Associated Press]

Two cool fronts moved across the country Thursday, bringing pleasant weather to more than half of the nation.

The eastern cool air kept temperatures in the 70s and 80s as far south as the southern borders of Virginia and Kentucky.

Cool air from the Pacific, which had covered the Northwest Wednesday, spread eastward into the Northern and Central Plains states.

Early afternoon temperatures in the northwest quarter of the country were down in the 60s and 70s.

But hot and humid weather continued in the southern states and northward to Kansas. Wichita, Kan. recorded 104, Joplin, Mo., 106 and Chanute, Kan., 108. By contrast, it was 59 in Sidney, Nebr.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms brought a little relief to drought-parched southern Illinois, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia.

However, three more persons died from heat causes in Missouri, all in St. Louis. That makes a total of 37 in Missouri so far this week.

It was believed the showers in southern Illinois may alleviate somewhat the need for emergency federal relief for farmers.

Gov. William G. Stratton said, however, surveys by state and federal agencies will continue to determine the extent of damages in distressed areas.

Battle Of

son Hotel Monday afternoon.

The question was whether the delegates should be asked to go ahead and vote the nomination to Byrd with recounts and court actions still pending.

Here was the score on them:

Calvert County—Mahoney attorneys filed notice they were taking to the Court of Appeals a decision by Circuit Judge John B. Gray Jr. last Saturday that the election supervisors could not be forced to open up voter lists and registration books as part of a recount. Byrd retained the county's three unit votes after a recount of the ballots asked by Mahoney.

Queen Annes County — The recount ended Thursday night with Byrd still the winner by 22 votes. The final tally was Byrd 1,835, Mahoney 1,813. The Mahoney forces submitted a second sworn statement in which a Byrd partisan was accused of buying votes. The Queen Annes state's attorney disqualified himself to head an investigation the Mahoney people demanded of "wide-spread vote buying" and the decision was up to Chief Judge William R. Horney of the Second Judicial Circuit. He indicated he might announce some kind of action Friday. Regardless of the outcome of the recount, Mahoney attorneys were expected to file court actions seeking to void more of the ballots. The county has three unit votes.

Talbot County — The recount here was completed after nine days with Byrd's original margin of 60 whittled only to 57 and the Mahoney representatives saying they doubtless will file court actions seeking to void enough additional ballots to give the county to Mahoney. Talbot has four unit votes.

Plan To Censure M'Carthy Backed By Citizen Group

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Public relations counsel for 23 prominent citizens announced today the group is telegraphing Senate members urging them to support a proposed resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The telegrams endorsed a censure resolution proposed by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) as a move "to curb the flagrant abuse of power by Sen. McCarthy."

Among the announced signers are Paul G. Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator; Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Britain and former budget director; Will Clayton, a former undersecretary of state, and other nationally known figures.

William Frye, public relations counsel for the group, announced the telegrams were being sent today to "most Senate members." They said in part:

"The issues posed by McCarthyism override all considerations of party advantage of expediency. At stake are the integrity, dignity and authority of our highest legislative body . . .

"We believe that you should disregard party and other lesser considerations and meet this issue squarely. We urge you and your colleagues to show by your vote on this issue that the Senate of the United States is prepared to assume responsibility and deal resolutely with an abuse of power or contempt of its traditions, within its own ranks, which threatens the orderly and equitable processes of our constitutional system."

Flanders had planned to introduce a censure resolution Tuesday, but postponed his move until July 30. One reason for the postponement, Flanders said, was his desire that the vote be "as massive and bipartisan as possible."

On another section of the McCarthy front today, Sen. Mundt (R-ND) said McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee is "trying for an elemental factor in American justice" in seeking an explanation for the Defense Department's denial of clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel for the subcommittee.

Military Takes Over Phenix City

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 22 (AP) — Qualified martial law was declared in Phenix City, Ala., today by Gov. Gordon Persons. Maj. Gen. Walter J. Hanna, commanding the Alabama National Guard, immediately took over the City Hall and courthouse there.

This action followed by nearly five weeks the gang-style slaying of Albert L. Patterson on June 1 at Phenix City. Patterson had won Democratic nomination for attorney general of the state on an anti-vice platform.

Special troops were sent to Phenix City today. City police and deputy sheriff were ordered to surrender their weapons and Hanna announced all pistol permits had been revoked.

The move came as Persons announced a proclamation to "suppress the state of lawlessness, intimidation, tumult and fear which reigns" in Russell County.

Korean Tot Adopted By GI And Wife Is Flown To U. S.

PITTSBURGH, July 22 (AP) — An Air Force sergeant got off a plane at the greater Pittsburgh airport today. With him was a little girl — just 2½ years old.

The sergeant, Saul Helpern of Brooklyn, walked over to a waiting woman, Mrs. Gladys Boyd of Huntington, W. Va.

"She is a wonderful baby," the sergeant told Mrs. Boyd. "Slept most of the way. I took care of her the whole way, changing diapers and all and I have two dirty uniforms to prove it."

"The whole way" stretched to Seoul, Korea. The little girl — named Florence — is a Korean orphan adopted by Mrs. Boyd and her husband, Army Sgt. Guy Boyd.

Sgt. Boyd first saw Florence in a field in Korea about two years ago. She was only four months old then and was in the arms of her mother whom the sergeant was talking with through an interpreter.

Suddenly, the mother handed the baby to Sgt. Boyd and disappeared.

Boyd placed the baby in an orphanage in Seoul. In an exchange of letters, Boyd and his wife decided to adopt the tot. Sgt. Helpern volunteered to take Florence to the States.

Florence will be taking a trip back to the Orient soon. Sgt. Boyd is now stationed in Japan. So Mrs. Boyd, her 12-year-old son, Pat, and Florence will be joining him in about two weeks.

43-Foot Sailing Vessel Carrying Eight Asks Help

SEATTLE, July 22 (AP)—The 43-foot sailing vessel Thunderbird of Seattle, with five adults and three children aboard, radioed for aid this afternoon 40 miles off Coos Bay, Ore., Coast Guard headquarters reported.

The Coast Guard said the Thunderbird messaged heavy seas were breaking over her as she wallowed in giant waves kicked up by 50 to 55 mile an hour winds.

A Coast Guard plane was dispatched immediately from Port Angeles, Wash., and the cutter Bonham put out from Coos Bay.

The Coast Guard said the owner and skipper is Don E. Avery, Seattle and the Thunderbird was en route from Seattle to San Francisco.

Names of the others aboard was not known.

Cool Air Mass Brings Pleasant Weather To East

[By The Associated Press]

Two cool fronts moved across the country Thursday, bringing pleasant weather to more than half of the nation.

The eastern cool air kept temperatures in the 70s and 80s as far south as the southern borders of Virginia and Kentucky.

Cool air from the Pacific, which had covered the Northwest Wednesday, spread eastward into the Northern and Central Plains states.

Early afternoon temperatures in the northwest quarter of the country were down in the 60s and 70s.

But hot and humid weather continued in the southern states and northward to Kansas. Wichita, Kan. recorded 104, Joplin, Mo., 106 and Chanute, Kan., 108. By contrast, it was 59 in Sidney, Nebr.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms brought a little relief to drought-parched southern Illinois, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia.

However, three more persons died from heat causes in Missouri, all in St. Louis. That makes a total of 37 in Missouri so far this week.

It was believed the showers in southern Illinois may alleviate somewhat the need for emergency federal relief for farmers.

Gov. William G. Stratton said, however, surveys by state and federal agencies will continue to determine the extent of damages in distressed areas.

Battle Of

son Hotel Monday afternoon.

The question was whether the delegates should be asked to go ahead and vote the nomination to Byrd with recounts and court actions still pending.

Here was the score on them:

Calvert County—Mahoney attorneys filed notice they were taking to the Court of Appeals a decision by Circuit Judge John B. Gray Jr. last Saturday that the election supervisors could not be forced to open up voter lists and registration books as part of a recount. Byrd retained the county's three unit votes after a recount of the ballots asked by Mahoney.

Queen Annes County — The recount ended Thursday night with Byrd still the winner by 22 votes. The final tally was Byrd 1,835, Mahoney 1,813. The Mahoney forces submitted a second sworn statement in which a Byrd partisan was accused of buying votes. The Queen Annes state's attorney disqualified himself to head an investigation the Mahoney people demanded of "wide-spread vote buying" and the decision was up to Chief Judge William R. Horney of the Second Judicial Circuit. He indicated he might announce some kind of action Friday. Regardless of the outcome of the recount, Mahoney attorneys were expected to file court actions seeking to void more of the ballots. The county has three unit votes.

Talbot County — The recount here was completed after nine days with Byrd's original margin of 60 whittled only to 57 and the Mahoney representatives saying they doubtless will file court actions seeking to void enough additional ballots to give the county to Mahoney. Talbot has four unit votes.

Plan To Censure M'Carthy Backed By Citizen Group

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Public relations counsel for 23 prominent citizens announced today the group is telegraphing Senate members urging them to support a proposed resolution of censure against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

The telegrams endorsed a censure resolution proposed by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) as a move "to curb the flagrant abuse of power by Sen. McCarthy."

Among the announced signers are Paul G. Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator; Lewis W. Douglas, former ambassador to Britain and former budget director; Will Clayton, a former undersecretary of state, and other nationally known figures.

William Frye, public relations counsel for the group, announced the telegrams were being sent today to "most Senate members." They said in part:

"The issues posed by McCarthyism override all considerations of party advantage of expediency. At stake are the integrity, dignity and authority of our highest legislative body . . .

"We believe that you should disregard party and other lesser considerations and meet this issue squarely. We urge you and your colleagues to show by your vote on this issue that the Senate of the United States is prepared to assume responsibility and deal resolutely with an abuse of power or contempt of its traditions, within its own ranks, which threatens the orderly and equitable processes of our constitutional system."

Flanders had planned to introduce a censure resolution Tuesday, but postponed his move until July 30. One reason for the postponement, Flanders said, was his desire that the vote be "as massive and bipartisan as possible."

On another section of the McCarthy front today, Sen. Mundt (R-ND) said McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee is "trying for an elemental factor in American justice" in seeking an explanation for the Defense Department's denial of clearance to Thomas W. Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel for the subcommittee.

Military Takes Over Phenix City

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 22 (AP) — Qualified martial law was declared in Phenix City, Ala., today by Gov. Gordon Persons. Maj. Gen. Walter J. Hanna, commanding the Alabama National Guard, immediately took over the City Hall and courthouse there.

This action followed by nearly five weeks the gang-style slaying of Albert L. Patterson on June 1 at Phenix City. Patterson had won Democratic nomination for attorney general of the state on an anti-vice platform.

Special troops were sent to Phenix City today. City police and deputy sheriff were ordered to surrender their weapons and Hanna announced all pistol permits had been revoked.

The move came as Persons announced a proclamation to "suppress the state of lawlessness, intimidation, tumult and fear which reigns" in Russell County.

Korean Tot Adopted By GI And Wife Is Flown To U. S.

PITTSBURGH, July 22 (AP) — An Air Force sergeant got off a plane at the greater Pittsburgh airport today. With him was a little girl — just 2½ years old.

The sergeant, Saul Helpern of Brooklyn, walked over to a waiting woman, Mrs. Gladys Boyd of Huntington, W. Va.

"She is a wonderful baby," the sergeant told Mrs. Boyd. "Slept most of the way. I took care of her the whole way, changing diapers and all and I have two dirty uniforms to prove it."

"The whole way" stretched to Seoul, Korea. The little girl — named Florence — is a Korean orphan adopted by Mrs. Boyd and her husband, Army Sgt. Guy Boyd.

Sgt. Boyd first saw Florence in a field in Korea about two years ago. She was only four months old then and was in the arms of her mother whom the sergeant was talking with through an interpreter.

Suddenly, the mother handed the baby to Sgt. Boyd and disappeared.

Boyd placed the baby in an orphanage in Seoul. In an exchange of letters, Boyd and his wife decided to adopt the tot. Sgt. Helpern volunteered to take Florence to the States.

Florence will be taking a trip back to the Orient soon. Sgt. Boyd is now stationed in Japan. So Mrs. Boyd, her 12-year-old son, Pat, and Florence will be joining him in about two weeks.

"Mom" Mulkey Checks Up On Her "Brats"; Stops At White House

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — "Mom" Mulkey, to whom President Eisenhower is just "another of my brats," moved along to New York yesterday to check on others of her brood.

Known formally—if infrequently—as Mrs. P. A. Mukley of Cougar, Wash., she is "Mom" to some 400 servicemen with whom she has corresponded since World War II.

En route to Philadelphia as a delegate to the National Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars later this month, she's making a circle trip of the country to meet some of them for the first time.

Mom, whose adopted son died as the result of war wounds, began enlarging her family by letter-writing early in the war by picking 30 names at random from a list of 300 her VFW auxiliary adopted. It grew rapidly until, hospitalized for an illness, she was spending "two-thirds of my time writing letters."

She tried to stop after the war, but her boys wouldn't let her. They formed an organization known as Mulkey's Brats which meets each year in Cougar on the Sunday nearest her Aug. 20 birth date.

Mom's still under doctor's care. In fact she's making this trip by bus against her doctor's orders.

"Airplanes just don't stop at army camps where many of my brats are," she explains.

Although she once wrote Eisenhower that "a buck private is just as precious to me as a five-star general," Mrs. Mulkey delayed her travels a day at Mrs. Eisenhower's request to spend an hour and a half at the White House Monday.

She didn't see the President—who has carried one of her lucky coins since 1943—but spent the time with the First Lady talking "politics, Brats, Camp David and the West."

She left, by bus, for New York yesterday morning to see four more of her boys, including, she hopes, Arthur Godfrey of radio and television, who is also a Brat.

Then, it's Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, Omaha and other stops.

She plans to be back in Cougar by Aug. 22 a week ahead of this year's "family reunion." She's already ordered 200 pounds of beef and is making plans to bake some 30 or 40 cakes.

Soviet Scientists Believe Viruses Cause Cancers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

SAO PAULO, Brazil, July 22 (AP)—Russian scientists said today they suspect viruses cause cancers and that your nervous system plays a big role in the disease. They said they do not find any link between cigarettes and lung cancer.

The seven-man Soviet delegation to the sixth International Cancer Congress, opening here Friday, granted a news conference to outline the war against cancer in the Soviet Union. The week-long congress brings together delegates from 50 nations to exchange information on better ways to battle cancer.

The Russians in the past have not taken part actively in such congresses, but Prof. Nicolai Blokhin, leader of the Soviet group, said the meetings provide an enormous opportunity for the exchange of information between various countries.

"We expect to learn some things to help us and we will give information on the work of Russian scientists," he said.

The picture of cancer research as presented by the Soviet delegates resembles that of other nations, with some interesting differences. Blokhin and Prof. Alexander Savitski said many Soviet scientists believe they "have found proof that cancers are caused by viruses."

The evidence is based mainly on test tube experiments with animal cancers and extracts from them. Viruses as a cause of cancers is a widely held theory in many countries, but the Russians said they also regard cancer "as something under the control of the nervous system going on in the entire body" and not just some localized part where the cancer is situated.

"A healthy central nervous system has the power to oppose the chemical and physical factors from within and outside the body which cause cancer," they said. "One way the nervous system might do this is through its influence on the glands."

The Russians said they could not cause cancer in the lips and skin of mice by applying extracts from tobacco, as has been done in the United States.

"It may be that our Georgian tobacco does not contain carcinogens (cancer-causing chemicals)," they said. "But we do not consider this an important problem."

Among other highlights, they said Soviet doctors treat various types of cancers with drugs similar to those being developed in other countries. They also use radioactive atoms, including iodine, phosphorus and cobalt, in the treatment of some types.

To speed the early detection of cancer, they said, some 10 to 12 million persons are checked annually by Russian doctors working under the Ministry of Health. The Soviet Union has 300,000 physicians of whom 200,000 are in the public health service.

Maryland Movie Censor Calls For New State Laws

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Sydney R. Traub, Maryland's chief censor, called yesterday for a new law defining how a motion picture can be "immoral" or tend to "incite to crime."

He told a special committee of the Legislative Council that current State laws on censorship are "inadequate" because of recent Supreme Court rulings.

Traub addressed his remarks to a Legislative Council committee headed by Sen. Layman J. Redden (D-Caroline). The hearing was the first of several to be held this summer and fall as preliminaries to what may be major battle in next year's General Assembly between those fighting for tight censorship and those urging less stringent restrictions.

Traub, who is chairman of the State Board of Motion Picture Censors, told the group a recent law passed in New York should be followed to the letter in Maryland.

It reads as follows:

". . . For the purpose of (this) section. . . the term 'immoral' and the phrase 'of such a character that its exhibition would tend to corrupt morals' shall denote a motion picture film or part thereof, the dominant purpose or effect of which is erotic or pornographic; or which portrays acts of sexual immorality, perversion, or lewdness, or which expressly or impliedly presents such acts as desirable, acceptable or proper patterns of behavior.

". . . The term 'incite to crime' shall denote a motion picture the dominant purpose or effect of which is to suggest that the commission of criminal acts or contempt of law is profitable, desirable, acceptable, or respectable behavior, or which advocates or teaches the use of, or the methods of use of narctocs, or habit-forming drugs."

Traub said the new law in New York has not yet been ruled upon in the courts. He said he felt the ban against movies which "incite to crime" was the most important to retain.

Statistical information requested by Lankford showed the censors have banned 21 pictures and have made 225 deletions in others since Traub became chairman in May, 1949.

Traub said the board had considered about 9,000 feature films during this period.

"Humanitarian" Gift To Indochina

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Foreign aid director Harold Stassen said today the United States will leave in Communist-controlled northern Indochina "humanitarian type" equipment such as hospitals, health clinics and water pumps.

"We will not dismantle or destroy those things which will benefit the people who remain behind," he said.

At a news conference, Stassen also said:

1. The United States has agreed with other Western governments to ease East-West trade controls by knocking off some 150 separate items from the master list of commodities and equipment barred from shipment to Russia and its European satellites. He said an announcement could be expected within a month.

2. The "first big step" toward making European currencies convertible into dollars would be taken "within a year" as a result of a London conference of the West's leading finance ministers.

3. The United States definitely plans to continue economic and technical aid to non-Communist areas of Indochina but it is not clear whether military assistance can be provided as a result of the Geneva truce agreement. American military and economic help will be substantially stepped up to non-Communist regions in Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific as a result of the Indochina cease fire.

Morse Exception To Tired Senator Look As Debate On Atom Energy Bill Drones On

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—At 10 a.m. today the Senate put in its 24th consecutive hour of steady debate on the atomic energy bill.

The great moment passed completely uncelebrated.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), who in his 31 years of service in the Senate has seen a lot of this sort of thing, leaned back in his chair. He looked tired.

One of the Senate's newest members, Sam Reynolds (R) of Nebraska, slumped in his seat. He looked tired.

Sen. William F. Knowland, the Republican leader from California, sat sort of bunched up in his chair. He looked tired, rumpled and unhappy.

Presiding over the Senate was another new member, Eva Bowring of Nebraska. From the press gallery directly overhead it was impossible to tell how the onetime cowgirl looked, but she didn't appear overly enthusiastic about her new job of riding herd on senators.

The only other senator on the floor was Wayne Morse, the independent from Oregon. He was speaking—as he had been for almost five hours.

Morse looked fresh as a daisy.

While other senators wandered wearily in and out, Morse remained in excellent fettle. His blue suit stayed neatly pressed, the flower in his buttonhole seemed optimistic and although he isn't exactly overset with hair, what he has stayed slicked down perfectly.

Morse doesn't like the atomic energy bill, and he was paying tribute to those who don't like it either. Especially Sens. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) and Lister Hill (D-Ala).

"I was willing to enlist in the rear ranks of any parliamentary army," Morse said. "It's a great honor to serve under their generalship."

Some of those who favor the bill seemed to stir uneasily when Morse said:

"Here's one private that will march forward for days and weeks to come."

Under the rules, a man must stay on his feet and in his place if he is to retain his rights to the floor. Morse obeyed the rules. Now and then he would lean comfortably on the lectern in front of him. Now and then he would sip tea. But the steady flow of talk—nearly all of it on the issue—never faltered.

Morse even showed he could carry on two talks at once. Gen. Hill, for instance, came over for a consultation with Pvt. Morse.

Morse would say a few words aloud, whisper a few to Hill, say a few aloud, whisper a few more to Hill. Both conversations seemed to go along nicely.

Once Morse was asked how long he expected to keep going.

"I am not going to speak at great length—for me," said Morse, who holds the course record with a speech lasting 22 hours and 26 minutes.

As a matter of fact, Morse said, this hardly should be counted as a speech at all.

"I need this," he said cheerfully, "as a sort of batting practice."

Maryland Movie Censor Calls For New State Laws

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Sydney R. Traub, Maryland's chief censor, called yesterday for a new law defining how a motion picture can be "immoral" or tend to "incite to crime."

He told a special committee of the Legislative Council that current State laws on censorship are "inadequate" because of recent Supreme Court rulings.

Traub addressed his remarks to a Legislative Council committee headed by Sen. Layman J. Redden (D-Caroline). The hearing was the first of several to be held this summer and fall as preliminaries to what may be major battle in next year's General Assembly between those fighting for tight censorship and those urging less stringent restrictions.

Traub, who is chairman of the State Board of Motion Picture Censors, told the group a recent law passed in New York should be followed to the letter in Maryland.

It reads as follows:

". . . For the purpose of (this) section. . . the term 'immoral' and the phrase 'of such a character that its exhibition would tend to corrupt morals' shall denote a motion picture film or part thereof, the dominant purpose or effect of which is erotic or pornographic; or which portrays acts of sexual immorality, perversion, or lewdness, or which expressly or impliedly presents such acts as desirable, acceptable or proper patterns of behavior.

". . . The term 'incite to crime' shall denote a motion picture the dominant purpose or effect of which is to suggest that the commission of criminal acts or contempt of law is profitable, desirable, acceptable, or respectable behavior, or which advocates or teaches the use of, or the methods of use of narctocs, or habit-forming drugs."

Traub said the new law in New York has not yet been ruled upon in the courts. He said he felt the ban against movies which "incite to crime" was the most important to retain.

Statistical information requested by Lankford showed the censors have banned 21 pictures and have made 225 deletions in others since Traub became chairman in May, 1949.

Traub said the board had considered about 9,000 feature films during this period.

"Humanitarian" Gift To Indochina

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Foreign aid director Harold Stassen said today the United States will leave in Communist-controlled northern Indochina "humanitarian type" equipment such as hospitals, health clinics and water pumps.

"We will not dismantle or destroy those things which will benefit the people who remain behind," he said.

At a news conference, Stassen also said:

1. The United States has agreed with other Western governments to ease East-West trade controls by knocking off some 150 separate items from the master list of commodities and equipment barred from shipment to Russia and its European satellites. He said an announcement could be expected within a month.

2. The "first big step" toward making European currencies convertible into dollars would be taken "within a year" as a result of a London conference of the West's leading finance ministers.

3. The United States definitely plans to continue economic and technical aid to non-Communist areas of Indochina but it is not clear whether military assistance can be provided as a result of the Geneva truce agreement. American military and economic help will be substantially stepped up to non-Communist regions in Southeast Asia and the Southwest Pacific as a result of the Indochina cease fire.

Morse Exception To Tired Senator Look As Debate On Atom Energy Bill Drones On

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—At 10 a.m. today the Senate put in its 24th consecutive hour of steady debate on the atomic energy bill.

The great moment passed completely uncelebrated.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), who in his 31 years of service in the Senate has seen a lot of this sort of thing, leaned back in his chair. He looked tired.

Father Receives 60-Day Jail Sentence For Trying To Sell Baby Step-Daughter

TOWSON, Md., July 22 (AP) — Frank McRoberts, 22-year-old farm laborer from Baynesville, O., today was sentenced to 60 days in jail for trying to sell his four-year-old step-daughter for $75.

"I would have to get $200 for the baby because she is my own flesh and blood," McRoberts was quoted as saying in reference to a two-month-old daughter.

Mrs. McRoberts was put on probation for a year. Both had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The case came up today in Baltimore county's juvenile court.

Sgt. Leah Perry, a county policewoman, said she heard McRoberts had offered one or more of his children for sale and found him at a farm near Reisterstown, a Baltimore suburb, where he had been hired the day before as a caretaker.

Sgt. Perry said she posed as wanting to adopt a child and McRoberts offered to take $75 for the four-year-old.

Testimony showed the couple were married in the spring of 1953 soon after the woman's first husband had died, leaving her with four children.

McRoberts acknowledged he had been given a bad conduct discharge from the Army at Ft. Meade, Md., recently for bigamy and being absent without leave.

He denied he had offered to sell the children and said he had obtained a Louisiana divorce dissolving his marriage with a previous wife.

Beall And Butler To Have Top Roles In GOP Convention

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Maryland's members of the U.S. Senate will play prominent roles in the Republican State convention here Saturday.

Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) will be the keynote speaker.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) will be the permanent chairman.

The convention is expected to be a routine session of back-slapping, optimistic speeches and routine nominations.

The Republicans face no bitter squabbles, such as the ones expected to plague the Democrats when their convention opens next Monday.

The Republican delegates will nominate Governor McKeldin for re-election. He will be presented to the convention by Mrs. Bertha Sheppard Adkins, national committeewoman.

In last month's primary, McKeldin swamped three opposition candidates. He received 66,565 votes to their combined total of 16,648.

REUNION AFTER 23 YEARS—Henry Stewart Sahlin, 25, a student at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., embraces his mother, Mrs. Virginia Torgerson, 41, at Union Station, Los Angeles yesterday to end a separation that began more than 23 years ago. Mrs. Torgerson lost track of her son shortly after she was divorced from her first husband when she became seriously ill at the time the baby was 18 months old. Recently Sahlin began a search for his mother and found her sister living next door to a Chicago address where he lived as a baby. The reunion yesterday followed.

Baltimore Plans New Rent Law

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro today called on the City Council to meet in special session next Monday to consider a new rent control law to replace one tossed out by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The new measure has already been drafted and continues the present control system but eliminates legal defects which caused the high court to rule it out yesterday.

D'Alesandro said he has conferred with a number of councilmen and they agreed on the need for controls and promised to support the new measure.

The court ruled the city's ordinance invalid because it limited a landlord's right to evict tenants.

City Solicitor Thomas N. Biddison said the court's opinion however, "very definitely confirms our police power to enact a rent-control law, provided it does not conflict with State law."

Without a control law, 80,000 dwelling units would be decontrolled for the first time since World War II. One official, John Dewicki of the Baltimore Housing Rent Commission, predicted rents would go up 25 to 30 per cent without controls.

Baruch Sees President

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch lunched with President Eisenhower today and later praised the President as a man who knows "what's going on" in the country.

The retired financier and advisor to several presidents at first declined to comment on anything when he left the President, even when asked what he thought of the business situation.

Thieves Take Cash, Silver, Champagne

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP) — Thieves early today broke into the home of Morris Mechanic, theater owner, who told police they took:

$2,300 in cash

Silverware worth $300

And four bottles of champagne, right out of the refrigerator.

Foreign Boy Scouts Due In U. S. July 28

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Fourteen Boy Scouts from six European countries, accompanied by two leaders, are due here July 28 by plane for a three to four week good will tour.

Joe Davis, assistant scout executive here, said the trip is sponsored by the Air Force and the Boy Scouts of America to foster better relationships among peoples of the world. The scouts are from Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, The Netherlands and Great Britain.

Rent-Sales Tax Ruling Is Upheld

ANNAPOLIS, July 22 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today ruled that the state sales tax cannot be charged on rentals that are not regularly furnished to the public.

The ruling came from a Calvert County Circuit Court decision involving rentals at Long Beach, a Chesapeake bayshore community.

The high court upheld Circuit Judge John B. Gray's decision that denied the comptroller the right to tax the rentals at the 135-cottage community.

The comptroller's office issued a bill for $171 to M. E. Rickhill, Inc., Calvert real estate developer and property management firm, for temporary rental of dwellings in the area.

The comptroller based his decision on an administrative rule adopted shortly after the sales tax was approved by the Legislature in 1947.

The rule made receipts for transient living accommodations, including resort rentals for four months or less, subject to the tax.

The lower court set aside the assessment on the ground that the comptroller had no right to discriminate between rentals in resort areas and rentals in other areas.

Convict-Author Loses Move To Escape Death

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22 (AP)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman yesterday lost his latest legal move to escape death July 30 in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber as Los Angeles' "Red Light Bandit."

The State Supreme Court denied his petition for a writ of habeas corpus and stay of execution. The court made no comment in denying the appeal, latest in a six-year series of legal maneuvering.

The 32-year-old author of "Cell 2455, Death Row," had based his latest appeal on charges of trial error and error in transcript—the same grounds that won him an 11th hour stay of execution in May.

Chessman was convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery, kidnaping and sex offenses under California's Little Lindbergh Law. He was the first to be convicted under the law which provides the death sentence for kidnaping with bodily harm.

Girl's Slayer To Hang

LEWES, England, July 22 (AP)—William Sanchez de Pina Hepper, 62, Chelsea artist, was sentenced today to be hanged for murdering pretty schoolgirl Margaret Rose Louise Spevick, aged 11.

Margaret was found almost nude and strangled in the bed at his flat last Feb. 4. Hepper had disappeared. He was eventually arrested in Spain.

First Negro Enters Louisiana College

LAFAYETTE, La., July 22 (AP) — A young Negro today quietly joined a line of students and registered as a freshman at Southwestern Louisiana Institute — the first Negro student in the history of the state supported college.

John Harold Taylor of Rural Route One, Arnaudville, about 15 miles north of Lafayette, paid the usual fees and went through registration routine, attracting little notice from his fellow students.

SLI was permanently restrained last week from refusing to admit Negro students by a special three-judge federal District Court at Shreveport.

Father Receives 60-Day Jail Sentence For Trying To Sell Baby Step-Daughter

TOWSON, Md., July 22 (AP) — Frank McRoberts, 22-year-old farm laborer from Baynesville, O., today was sentenced to 60 days in jail for trying to sell his four-year-old step-daughter for $75.

"I would have to get $200 for the baby because she is my own flesh and blood," McRoberts was quoted as saying in reference to a two-month-old daughter.

Mrs. McRoberts was put on probation for a year. Both had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The case came up today in Baltimore county's juvenile court.

Sgt. Leah Perry, a county policewoman, said she heard McRoberts had offered one or more of his children for sale and found him at a farm near Reisterstown, a Baltimore suburb, where he had been hired the day before as a caretaker.

Sgt. Perry said she posed as wanting to adopt a child and McRoberts offered to take $75 for the four-year-old.

Testimony showed the couple were married in the spring of 1953 soon after the woman's first husband had died, leaving her with four children.

McRoberts acknowledged he had been given a bad conduct discharge from the Army at Ft. Meade, Md., recently for bigamy and being absent without leave.

He denied he had offered to sell the children and said he had obtained a Louisiana divorce dissolving his marriage with a previous wife.

All of the children have been placed in foster homes by welfare authorities.

REUNION AFTER 23 YEARS—Henry Stewart Sahlin, 25, a student at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill., embraces his mother, Mrs. Virginia Torgerson, 41, at Union Station, Los Angeles yesterday to end a separation that began more than 23 years ago. Mrs. Torgerson lost track of her son shortly after she was divorced from her first husband when she became seriously ill at the time the baby was 18 months old. Recently Sahlin began a search for his mother and found her sister living next door to a Chicago address where he lived as a baby. The reunion yesterday followed.

Beall And Butler To Have Top Roles In GOP Convention

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Maryland's members of the U.S. Senate will play prominent roles in the Republican State convention here Saturday.

Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) will be the keynote speaker.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) will be the permanent chairman.

The convention is expected to be a routine session of back-slapping, optimistic speeches and routine nominations.

The Republicans face no bitter squabbles, such as the ones expected to plague the Democrats when their convention opens next Monday.

The Republican delegates will nominate Governor McKeldin for re-election. He will be presented to the convention by Mrs. Bertha Sheppard Adkins, national committeewoman.

In last month's primary, McKeldin swamped three opposition candidates. He received 66,565 votes to their combined total of 16,648.

Baltimore Plans New Rent Law

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro today called on the City Council to meet in special session next Monday to consider a new rent control law to replace one tossed out by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The new measure has already been drafted and continues the present control system but eliminates legal defects which caused the high court to rule it out yesterday.

D'Alesandro said he has conferred with a number of councilmen and they agreed on the need for controls and promised to support the new measure.

The court ruled the city's ordinance invalid because it limited a landlord's right to evict tenants.

City Solicitor Thomas N. Biddison said the court's opinion however, "very definitely confirms our police power to enact a rent-control law, provided it does not conflict with State law."

Without a control law, 80,000 dwelling units would be decontrolled for the first time since World War II. One official, John Dewicki of the Baltimore Housing Rent Commission, predicted rents would go up 25 to 30 per cent without controls.

Baruch Sees President

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch lunched with President Eisenhower today and later praised the President as a man who knows "what's going on" in the country.

The retired financier and advisor to several presidents at first declined to comment on anything when he left the President, even when asked what he thought of the business situation.

Thieves Take Cash, Silver, Champagne

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP) — Thieves early today broke into the home of Morris Mechanic, theater owner, who told police they took:

$2,300 in cash

Silverware worth $300

And four bottles of champagne, right out of the refrigerator.

Foreign Boy Scouts Due In U. S. July 28

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Fourteen Boy Scouts from six European countries, accompanied by two leaders, are due here July 28 by plane for a three to four week good will tour.

Joe Davis, assistant scout executive here, said the trip is sponsored by the Air Force and the Boy Scouts of America to foster better relationships among peoples of the world. The scouts are from Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, The Netherlands and Great Britain.

Rent-Sales Tax Ruling Is Upheld

ANNAPOLIS, July 22 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today ruled that the state sales tax cannot be charged on rentals that are not regularly furnished to the public.

The ruling came from a Calvert County Circuit Court decision involving rentals at Long Beach, a Chesapeake bayshore community.

The high court upheld Circuit Judge John B. Gray's decision that denied the comptroller the right to tax the rentals at the 135-cottage community.

The comptroller's office issued a bill for $171 to M. E. Rickhill, Inc., Calvert real estate developer and property management firm, for temporary rental of dwellings in the area.

The comptroller based his decision on an administrative rule adopted shortly after the sales tax was approved by the Legislature in 1947.

The rule made receipts for transient living accommodations, including resort rentals for four months or less, subject to the tax.

The lower court set aside the assessment on the ground that the comptroller had no right to discriminate between rentals in resort areas and rentals in other areas.

DeMolay Majority Group Plans Outings And Dances

Plans for two picnics and two dances were discussed at the monthly meeting of the DeMolay Majority Association Tuesday evening at the Ali Ghan City Club.

The annual picnic for members and their families is to be held August 12. It will be at the Kave cottage, Largent, W. Va., beginning at 2 p. m.

Announcement was made that the DeMolay advisory board is sponsoring a picnic for the DeMolay Chapter. It will be held August 22 at the Ali Ghan picnic grounds. All Majority members are also invited to attend.

Murray Allen reported on the progress of the Christmas dance committee. The Midnighters Orchestra of Thomas, W. Va., has been secured for December 28. The dance will be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

It was decided to hold a spring dance. It will be held following Lent. Mr. Allen was appointed chairman of this dance also.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Mrs. James Ricker and Mrs. John W. Stotler entertained in honor of Miss Ann McMahon, fiancee of S. Sgt. J. Robert Murray, with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party recently. It was held at the home of Mrs. Stotler's mother, Mrs. L. J. Helmstetter, Franklin Street.

Miss McMahon, daughter of Joseph P. McMahon, Bowling Green, is to become the bride of S. Sgt. Murray, Fort Myer, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Murray, 852 Columbia Avenue, August 7. The ceremony is to be solemnized at 9 a.m., in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

A pale yellow and green color scheme was carried out in the decorations with a heart shaped cake topped with a miniature bride, centering the table. Wedding bells and flowers were used throughout the house and a cluster of wedding bells decorated the basket containing the shower gifts.

Guests were Miss Elaine Hollern, Miss Jeannine Coniff, Miss Joan Smith, Miss Eva Elkins, Miss Clara Kauffman, Miss Rosemary Leo, Miss Jane Lee Pownall, Mrs. Annabelle Jacobs, Mrs. James Coniff, Mrs. Ronald Sterne, Mrs. Peter McFarland, Mrs. Charles Felten, Mrs. Edward McMahon, Mrs. Albert Brant, Mrs. Anna Whitfield, Mrs. Thomas Minke, Mrs. George Helmstetter and Mrs. Robert Helmstetter.

Group Is Attending SG Weekend

Five members of the Centre Street Methodist Church Wesleyan Guild are at Western Maryland College, Westminster, for the Wesleyan Service Guild weekend, today through Sunday.

Attending are Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, president; Miss Margaret Neff, secretary; Miss Lucretia Boucher, treasurer; Miss Marion Dennison, chairman of the Ways and Means committee; and Miss Gerardine Pritchard, WSG secretary for the Hagerstown district.

The local Guild made favors for the dinner tomorrow evening. They are Key-bookmarks with the inscription based on one of th study books, "Under Three Flags," by Stephen Neill. The committee making the favors, besides those already named included Mrs. Ethel Thayer.

The conference is centered around the theme, "Show us anew thy wondrous powers," and is being conducted by the national Guild secretary, Miss Lillian Johnson of New York, and the Baltimore conference secretary, Miss Marguerite Clarke of Washington.

Study courses, work shops, devotional services and social affairs make up the program.

Miss Gerardine Pritchard is serving on the Reports committee with Miss Mary Rowland, WSG secretary of the Baltimore east district.

Thrifty Girl Makes Own Bridal Gown

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Today's bride usually is a level-headed young woman who knows all about budgets and is not fooled by the old adage that two can live as cheaply as one.

With an eye to the future, she often prefers to sew her own wedding gown, and save a little cash toward the start of her new household. With today's widely available sewing instructions and the aid of modern patterns, this project is simpler than it sounds. Also, it has other advantages besides thrift.

The bride who makes her own bridal outfit can be sure that she has what she wants, that it fits perfectly and that it has some individual touches that may not be available in ready-made gowns.

She has an almost unlimited choice of fabrics, ranging from traditional satin or organdie through a wide range of sheer batiste, dotted Swiss, silk organza, silk or cotton lace, nylon net or tulle, embroideried organdie sheer handkerchief linen, or a combination of two or more of these.

Colors, too, offer a wider choice than formerly. Many brides still prefer white for a bridal gown, but it is perfectly correct and often most effective for the bride to wear a pastel gown—palest ice blue, shell pink or ivory. Often the sheer white gown is worn over a petticoat of pastel taffeta to give the shadow of a tint to the dress. Other new wedding gowns of the season are white lace over pale pink or blue.

The bride who plans to make her own wedding dress is wise to stick to a simple style, unless she is an expert seamstress, and to concentrate on beauty of fabric and fit for its effectiveness.

Family Reunion Held After Fifty-four Years

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stevenson of Auckland, New Zealand; Mrs. Rex Pitts, Toronto, Canada, and Rev. Douglas Pitts, Alberta, Canada, visited Rev. and Mrs. Reginald B. Stevenson, Nanjemoy, formerly of here. Rev. Stevenson was rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Cumberland from 1917 until 1921.

Douglas Stevenson, Mrs. Pitts and Douglas Pitts are brother, sister and nephew, respectively of Rev. Stevenson. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will return home by plane from San Francisco after two months visiting various branches of the family in Canada and the United States, whom they had not seen for 54 years.

Farewell Party Given

Mrs. Louise Bittle was entertained by members of Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1 at a going away party recently at the IOOF hall. Mrs. Bittle is a special deputy of District 1 and past noble grand and past recording secretary of the local lodge.

Gifts were presented and refreshments served. Mrs. Hazel Burke was chairman of the Social committee.

Mr., Mrs. Hugh W. Burkett To Observe 61st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Burkett will observe their 61st wedding anniversary with their family Sunday, at their home in Ellerslie. There will be no formal celebration as neither is too well.

The fomer Miss Ellen Elizabeth Diehl became the bride of Hugh W. Burkett, July 25, 1893. The ceremony was solemnized in the Lutheran parsonage in Bedford, Pa., with the late Rev. Amstedt officiating.

Both are natives of Bedford county. They have resided in Ellerslie for the past 52 years and are members of the Reformed Church in Ellerslie. Mr. Burkett, who retired as a machinist at the Celanese Corporation of America approximately eight years ago, has gardening as his hobby. Mrs. Burkett says she enjoys all homemaking which is her only hobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkett are the parents of four children, Mrs. George Everline, Hagerstown; Ellis H. Burkett, Cumberland; Clarence Burkett, Ellerslie; and the late Frank Burkett, who died about four years ago. They have nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The Mizpah Bible Class of First Baptist Church will meet at 7:30 tonight at the home of Mrs. Eugene Athey, 28 Beall Street.

Allen Mace Heads Rowan Family

Officers were elected and prizes awarded at the fifth annual reunion of the Rowan family held at Constitution Park.

Allen Mace, Fairgo, was elected president of the clan; John T. Mace, LaVale, vice president; Mrs. Mary R. Shepherd, Roberts Place, secretary and Mrs. Jo Ann Mace, city, treasurer.

An award was presented to Mrs. Annie Rowan Mace, the oldest member attending; Mrs. Keith Wilson Rowan, youngest; Mr. and Mrs. James Rowan, for the largest family; Mrs. Edna Ney, coming the longest distance; and Mr. and Mrs. William Rice, the luckiest.

It was decided to have the sixth reunion at the Celanese pool, July 10, 1955.

Fifty-seven members of the family attended.

1934 Class Reunion To Be Sept. 4

The first reunion of the Class of 1934 of Allegany High School will be held September 4 marking its 20th anniversary. It is to be neld at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

The date was selected especially for those members who live out of town, so that they would have a better opportunity to attend.

A meeting of the committee for the reunion was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover, Holland Street.

Letters were sent out to members of the class with known addresses. Anyone having knowledge of out of town addresses of class members are asked to contact Mrs. William H. Buchholtz, 713 Fayette Street.

Other committee members are Miss Helen Hardinger, Mrs. Keith Sisk, Mrs. Herbert Lehr, Herman Koegel, and Mr. Hoover. Mrs. William Ross, Narrows, Va., the former Miss Nancy Barnard and member of the class, was a guest. Mr. Ross was senior class president.

Miss Patricia O'Donnell will be the bride's maid of honor; Miss Mary Ann Yarnall, Washington, and Miss Janet Keyes, her bridesmaids; while William L. Sweeney, Thurmont, is serving as his brother's best man. Another brother, Joseph Sweeney, Thurmont; Edward Stewart, Eastern Shore; and Frank Gunderloi, Baltimore are to be the ushers.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. J. Karl Benzel, 304 Decatur Street. She is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1951, where she was a member of the dramatics club, the National Thespian Society and Tri-Hi-Y. She was employed as a laboratory assistant in the control laboratory of the Celanese Corporation of America.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. William Sweeney, Thurmont. He is a graduate of Thurmont High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from Washington College in 1951. He is employed at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Mr. and Mrs. Benzel are entertaining in honor of the latter's daughter and her bridal party, with a wedding reception following the ceremony. It will be held at the Elks Club.

Group Is Attending SG Weekend

Five members of the Centre Street Methodist Church Wesleyan Guild are at Western Maryland College, Westminster, for the Wesleyan Service Guild weekend, today through Sunday.

Attending are Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, president; Miss Margaret Neff, secretary; Miss Lucretia Boucher, treasurer; Miss Marion Dennison, chairman of the Ways and Means committee; and Miss Gerardine Pritchard, WSG secretary for the Hagerstown district.

The local Guild made favors for the dinner tomorrow evening. They are Key-bookmarks with the inscription based on one of th study books, "Under Three Flags," by Stephen Neill. The committee making the favors, besides those already named included Mrs. Ethel Thayer.

The conference is centered around the theme, "Show us anew thy wondrous powers," and is being conducted by the national Guild secretary, Miss Lillian Johnson of New York, and the Baltimore conference secretary, Miss Marguerite Clarke of Washington.

Study courses, work shops, devotional services and social affairs make up the program.

Miss Gerardine Pritchard is serving on the Reports committee with Miss Mary Ro land, WSG secretary of the Baltimore east district.

Registration will be Saturday from 9:30 until 2:30 in the lobby. There will be a board meeting at 2 followed at 2:30 by a general session on the roof. A reception will be held on the roof at 7 followed by a banquet at 8:15 in the main dining room, with Miss Bertha Adkins as toastmaster.

DeMolay Majority Group Plans Outings And Dances

Plans for two picnics and two dances were discussed at the monthly meeting of the DeMolay Majority Association Tuesday evening at the Ali Ghan City Club.

The annual picnic for members and their families is to be held August 12. It will be at the Kave cottage, Largent, W. Va., beginning at 2 p. m.

Announcement was made that the DeMolay advisory board is sponsoring a picnic for the DeMolay Chapter. It will be held August 22 at the Ali Ghan picnic grounds. All Majority members are also invited to attend.

Murray Allen reported on the progress of the Christmas dance committee. The Midnighters Orchestra of Thomas, W. Va., has been secured for December 28. The dance will be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

It was decided to hold a spring dance. It will be held following Lent. Mr. Allen was appointed chairman of this dance also.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Mrs. James Ricker and Mrs. John W. Stotler entertained in honor of Miss Ann McMahon, fiancee of S. Sgt. J. Robert Murray, with a miscellaneous shower and pre-nuptial party recently. It was held at the home of Mrs. Stotler's mother, Mrs. L. J. Helmstetter, Franklin Street.

Miss McMahon, daughter of Joseph P. McMahon, Bowling Green, is to become the bride of S. Sgt. Murray, Fort Myer, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Murray, 852 Columbia Avenue, August 7. The ceremony is to be solemnized at 9 a.m., in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

A pale yellow and green color scheme was carried out in the decorations with a heart shaped cake topped with a miniature bride, centering the table. Wedding bells and flowers were used throughout the house and a cluster of wedding bells decorated the basket containing the shower gifts.

Guests were Miss Elaine Hollern, Miss Jeannine Coniff, Miss Joan Smith, Miss Eva Elkins, Miss Clara Kauffman, Miss Rosemary Leo, Miss Jane Lee Pownall, Mrs. Annabelle Jacobs, Mrs. James Coniff, Mrs. Ronald Sterne, Mrs. Peter McFarland, Mrs. Charles Felten, Mrs. Edward McMahon, Mrs. Albert Brant, Mrs. Anna Whitfield, Mrs. Thomas Minke, Mrs. George Helmstetter and Mrs. Robert Helmstetter.

Thrifty Girl Makes Own Bridal Gown

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Today's bride usually is a level-headed young woman who knows all about budgets and is not fooled by the old adage that two can live as cheaply as one.

With an eye to the future, she often prefers to sew her own wedding gown, and save a little cash toward the start of her new household. With today's widely available sewing instructions and the aid of modern patterns, this project is simpler than it sounds. Also, it has other advantages besides thrift.

The bride who makes her own bridal outfit can be sure that she has what she wants, that it fits perfectly and that it has some individual touches that may not be available in ready-made gowns.

She has an almost unlimited choice of fabrics, ranging from traditional satin or organdie through a wide range of sheer batiste, dotted Swiss, silk organza, silk or cotton lace, nylon net or tulle, embroiderdied organdie sheer handkerchief linen, or a combination of two or more of these.

Colors, too, offer a wider choice than formerly. Many brides still prefer white for a bridal gown, but it is perfectly correct and often most effective for the bride to wear a pastel gown—palest ice blue, shell pink or ivory. Often the sheer white gown is worn over a petticoat of pastel taffeta to give the shadow of a tint to the dress. Other new wedding gowns of the season are white lace over pale pink or blue.

The bride who plans to make her own wedding dress is wise to stick to a simple style, unless she is an expert seamstress, and to concentrate on beauty of fabric and fit for its effectiveness.

Family Reunion Held After Fifty-four Years

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stevenson of Auckland, New Zealand; Mrs. Rex Pitts, Toronto, Canada, and Rev. Douglas Pitts, Alberta, Canada, visited Rev. and Mrs. Reginald B. Stevenson, Nanjemoy, formerly of here. Rev. Stevenson was rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Cumberland from 1917 until 1921.

Douglas Stevenson, Mrs. Pitts and Douglas Pitts are brother, sister and nephew, respectively of Rev. Stevenson. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will return home by plane from San Francisco after two months visiting various branches of the family in Canada and the United States, whom they had not seen for 54 years.

Farewell Party Given

Mrs. Louise Bittle was entertained by members of Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1 at a going away party recently at the IOOF hall. Mrs. Bittle is a special deputy of District 1 and past noble grand and past recording secretary of the local lodge.

Gifts were presented and refreshments served. Mrs. Hazel Burke was chairman of the Social committee.

Mr., Mrs. Hugh W. Burkett To Observe 61st Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Burkett will observe their 61st wedding anniversary with their family Sunday, at their home in Ellerslie. There will be no formal celebration as neither is too well.

The fomer Miss Ellen Elizabeth Diehl became the bride of Hugh W. Burkett, July 25, 1893. The ceremony was solemnized in the Lutheran parsonage in Bedford, Pa., with the late Rev. Amstedt officiating.

Both are natives of Bedford county. They have resided in Ellerslie for the past 52 years and are members of the Reformed Church in Ellerslie. Mr. Burkett, who retired as a machinist at the Celanese Corporation of America approximately eight years ago, has gardening as his hobby. Mrs. Burkett says she enjoys all homemaking which is her only hobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkett are the parents of four children, Mrs. George Everline, Hagerstown; Ellis H. Burkett, Cumberland; Clarence Burkett, Ellerslie; and the late Frank Burkett, who died about four years ago. They have nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The Mizpah Bible Class of First Baptist Church will meet at 7:30 tonight at the home of Mrs. Eugene Athey, 28 Beall Street.

Allen Mace Heads Rowan Family

Allen Mace, Fairgo, was elected president of the clan; John T. Mace, LaVale, vice president; Mrs. Mary R. Shepherd, Roberts Place, secretary and Mrs. Jo Ann Mace, city, treasurer.

An award was presented to Mrs. Annie Rowan Mace, the oldest member attending; Mrs. Keith Wilson Rowan, youngest; Mr. and Mrs. James Rowan, for the largest family; Mrs. Edna Ney, coming the longest distance; and Mr. and Mrs. William Rice, the luckiest.

It was decided to have the sixth reunion at the Celanese pool, July 10, 1955.

Fifty-seven members of the family attended.

1934 Class Reunion To Be Sept. 4

The first reunion of the Class of 1934 of Allegany High School will be held September 4 marking its 20th anniversary. It is to be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

The date was selected especially for those members who live out of town, so that they would have a better opportunity to attend.

A meeting of the committee for the reunion was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover, Holland Street.

Letters were sent out to members of the class with known addresses. Anyone having knowledge of out of town addresses of class members are asked to contact Mrs. William H. Buchholtz, 713 Fayette Street.

Other committee members are Miss Helen Hardinger, Mrs. Keith Sisk, Mrs. Herbert Lehr, Herman Koegel, and Mr. Hoover. Mrs. William Ross, Narrows, Va., the former Miss Nancy Barnard and member of the class, was a guest. Mr. Ross was senior class president.

Social Chart

Cumberland Association Order of Rainbow for Girls will meet at 7:30 tomorrow at the temple, at which time Patricia Weaver and Rosean Diehl will report on the supreme assembly meeting at Atlantic City.

The WSCS of Fairview Avenue Church is holding an ice cream social in front of the church tonight beginning at 6:30.

A wiener roast is being held for young people of the local Baptist churches and their friends, 15 years and older, tonight at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Earl Gross, 515 Woodlawn Terrace. All are to bring wieners and buns and other refreshments will be served.

Spring Gap 4-H Boys and Girls Clubs are having a summer festival tonight at the Community Center.

Presidents and county officers of the Homemakers Clubs will meet at 10:30 this morning at the public library. The installation of the kitchen equipment in the county agent's office is to be discussed.

Charlotte Northcraft To Be Bride Of F. W. Porter, Jr.

Miss Charlotte Ruth Northcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Northcraft, Sr., Baltimore Pike, is to become the bride of Frederick Willard Porter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Porter, 28 Marion Street, tomorrow.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 2:30 p. m., in the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, with Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty officiating.

Miss Carol Porter, sister of the bridegroom, will be the bride's maid of honor while Miss Joan Minke is the bridesmaid. Glenn Northcraft, brother of the bride, is serving as Mr. Porter's best man and Harry Northcraft, Jr., will be the usher.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and Frostburg State Teachers College. While at college she was freshman representative to the Student Congress. Miss Northcraft also was a member and officer in the Maryland Singers, Future Teachers of America and International Relationship Club. In the fall she will be on the faculty of Glenmont Elementary School, Silver Spring.

Her fiance attended LaSalle High School and Loyola College, Baltimore. He was employed by Goldsmith and Black for one year before entering the Air Force, three years ago. Following his furlough he will return to the Air Force base at Knob Noster, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Northcraft are entertaining with a wedding reception for their daughter and her bridal party. It will be at their home at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Wright, 134 Bedford Street, has returned from Winchester and Berryville, Va., where she visited relatives.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Darby, Jr., South Allegany Street, accompanied by Mrs. Jean Knox von Gemmingen, Richmond, Va., are vacationing on the Eastern Shore.

Jack Bopp, Memorial Avenue, of Bopp Flower Shop, is recuperating from a leg operation at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Gretchen J. May and Mrs. Edmund J. Kean have returned from Wheeling, W. Va., where they attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Gorsuch Molli, which took place from St. Joseph's Cathedral. Mrs. Molli died suddenly at her home in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. H. V. Deming, LaVale, is a medical patient in Memorial Hospital.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There are right and wrong ways to almost everything. Dressing is no exception. Careless treatment of any apparel results in split seams, torn fabrics—and a dent in your clothes budget!

The Powers Girls, who must make many quick changes during a fashion show ,have found "best" ways to don every garmet. If you take two minutes now to learn a few of their secrets on how to dress, you'll save yourself several dollars later.

Since foundation garments fit more snugly than the rest of your clothing, more care is required in putting them on. My models advise donning a brassiere this way, for proper fit and to avoid breaking a strap when about to face an audience:

Slide the straps over your shoulders and bend forward from the waist to fit the figure to the brassiere. After the garment is on, give the elastic band across the back a slight downward tug, holding the band down in front so it won't "ride up." Finally, adjust the straps so they lie flat.

Girdles

The Girls make a point of wearing a girdle, for they know how much better any dress looks when thus "underlined." They say there's no trick to dressing quickly when you put on a girdle this way: Fold the top half-way to the lower edge. Step into the girdle and draw it into position on your body, then roll the top to the waistline. If the foundation is boned, pull it above wearing position, adjust the fastenings, then ease it downward. This method eliminates tugging. These warm days, my experts add, you'll find it easier to don a girdle if you dust your body first with powder.

Stocking Sense

Models' bills for hosiery would mount rapidly if they didn't treat stockings gently. They have found this a quick way to don stockings, and one that makes their nylons last longer:

Fold the leg of the stocking down to the toe, so that the whole length is between your forefingers and thumbs. Put the stocking gently on your foot and pull it up over the leg with both hands, keeping your right thumb over the inside of the seam as you pull it straight up the back. If hands or fingernails are rough, avoid snags by wearing gloves. Fasten garters while you are standing, back garter first to keep your seam straight. Never fasten the garter below the stocking's welt.

Between wearings, the Girls protect their stockings from snags by keeping them in hosiery bags. Plastic bags from the five-and-ten will serve the purpose nicely, they tell me.

Congress, In Heavy-Handed Way, Has Moments Of Fun

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — It doesn't get mentioned often in the crush of reporting more serious news, but Congress has its moments of fun, too, in a somewhat heavy-handed way.

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn), for instance, made a statement with which Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) disagreed completely.

"Talk about gobbledygook," Morse said. "That is exactly what the senator's statement is. It is plain nonsense. Let me take the senator from Connecticut by the hand through section 4A of the bill, and let us see what it says."

"I am willing to have the senator take my hand," Purtell said, "but I do not want him to put his hands over my eyes."

And in the House, this came up during a discussion between Reps. Halleck (R-Ind) and Abernethey (D-Miss).

"As far as I'm concerned," Halleck said, "I resent—."

Here Abernethy cut in.

"I cannot yield further," he said. "The gentleman has made his explanation of it, and he can resent on his own time."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) was discussing a tax bill, and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he was claiming credit for something not due him.

"I'm not much of a credit claimant," Millkin said. "At least, if I do claim credit for anything, I do it indirectly. I do not like to be blatant about it."

"The senator is never blatant," Douglas said. "He is always extremely subtle."

"I do not want that, either," Millkin said.

"One of the things that are so delightful about the senator is his method of approach," Douglas said, and then let fly with his verbal harpoon, "combined with his sledge hammer sense of humor."

Congressmen probably do better when they retail someone else's story.

Sen. Douglas was saying the South has made great progress under Democratic administrations, and wasn't it a shame that certain Southern leaders had forgotten that and had "deserted the home of their fathers?"

That is, they voted for Eisenhower.

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) agreed it was a pity. He said it reminded him of a story Will Rogers used to tell.

Meeting a friend, Rogers said, "I hear you've gotten rich."

"No, no," the friend protested, "I haven't gotten so rich."

"I understand," Rogers said, "you've made several million dollars."

The friend said he didn't know about that.

"Well," Rogers persisted, "I understand you've made enough money to change from a Democrat to a Republican."

Mrs. Luce Has Checkup

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, U.S. ambassador to Italy, yesterday left the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center after undergoing a medical checkup. A hospital spokesman said she was found to be in good health.

Warsaw Conditions Terrible, Refugee Says

LONDON, July 22 (AP) — Andrzej Panufnik, Polish composer and conductor who fled his homeland last week to seek asylum in the West, said last night conditions in Warsaw are terrible.

"Life is very difficult and serious and conditions are quite hopeless," he said.

"There is no meat, for example. Bread is bad and food is very difficult to find.

"Opposition to the government is big but not on the surface. People are apathetic. They drink too much."

Panufnik in his first public appearance, faced a barrage of reporters in an ornate reception room at the Polish government-in-exile's headquarters.

"I had to get out," he said.

"I was so exploited politically that I had no time or peace of mind to carry on my creative work."

China's Premier Throws Public Relations Party

GENEVA, July 22 (AP)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai stayed on today after the windup of the Geneva conference to do some energetic public relations work. More than 2,500 other delegates and newspapermen jammed outgoing planes and trains.

Chou, obviously pleased with the terms of the Indochina armistice, threw a cocktail party at his lakeside villa for both pro-Western and Communist Indochinese delegates. He has acted as a sort of "big brother" toward all the Indochinese delegates since the final days of the conference.

An official of the pro-Western Vietnamese government said Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, who has wired his resignation to Saigon, declined to attend Chou's party but other members of his delegation accepted.

The Chinese, like the Russians and other Communist delegates left in Geneva, were showing unusual affability toward Westerners.

Chou leaves by air for Peiping tomorrow. But he will stop off in East Berlin, Warsaw and Ulan Bator, the capital of Communist Mongolia, which Red China and Russia eye competitively.

Albert Jenkins, U.S. State Department China expert, said he probably will have more talks with Chinese officials in Geneva during the next few days in an effort to obtain the release of Americans held in Red China.

The Chinese Communists agreed yesterday to release six Americans and the State Department granted 15 Chinese students exit from the United States. American officials believe the Chinese Reds now are holding 44 other American civilians and at least 15 U.S. military personnel.

The Cambodian delegation tonight made public a memorandum addressed to the conference citing Cambodian claims to Cochinchina, the southernmost of the three provinces the French originally welded into Viet Nam. At its plenary session yesterday, the conference refused to take up the Cambodian demands and merely took note of the memorandum.

The Cambodians proposed a special commission of France, Viet Nam and Cambodia try "to reach an amicable solution to the problem of south Viet Nam (Cochinchina)" or consider internationalizing the territory under "a United Nations guarantee."

GIRL ESCAPES DEATH AS BUS PASSES OVER LEGS — Pinned under bus Mary Hoffman, 30, of Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., lies quietly as emergency police extricate her legs. The accident occurred as she hurried to work. The vehicle's right front wheel passed over both legs, lacerating the flesh, but amazingly caused no fractures.

Under Burmese law, a wife may become the head of the household if the husband drinks too much.

In the time of Julius Caesar, Rome contained about 1,200,000 persons.

Ike Beams As Maple Drum Presented To His Grandson

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Drum beats sounded through the White House today. Dwight David Eisenhower II, grandson of the President, received a handsome birdseye maple drum from its manufacturer while his beaming grandparents looked on in the President's office.

"Oh, isn't it a beauty, David!" Eisenhower exclaimed as the 6-year-old youngster solemnly removed the big drum from its carton and began beating on it with a pair of sticks.

The drum was made by the manufacturing firm of Noble Cooley, Granville, Mass., to mark its 100th anniversary. It is a Civil War type regimental drum, similar to one made by the company in 1860 and later presented to President Lincoln's son, Robert, in another White House ceremony.

With the big drum for David were two little red souvenir drums for his sister, Barbara Ann, 5, and Susan Elaine, 2, who sat perched on the President's desk.

As gravely as their brother, the little girls accepted their gifts and promptly began making noise with them. Susan didn't get the hang of the drum sticks right away. She tried using one of them spoon fashion on the drum head.

Vatican Hits Eye Donors

VATICAN CITY, July 22 (AP)—The Vatican's weekly periodical, L'Osservatore Della Domenica, said today no one should donate an eye to a sightless person. It said:

"No one is the master of his own life and organism, which we can dispose of only according to the law of God. Mutilating oneself of an important of the organism is to make an act of proprietorship upon life that does not belong to us. The good intention does not justify such a bad action."

Congress, In Heavy-Handed Way, Has Moments Of Fun

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — It doesn't get mentioned often in the crush of reporting more serious news, but Congress has its moments of fun, too, in a somewhat heavy-handed way.

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn), for instance, made a statement with which Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) disagreed completely.

"Talk about gobbledygook," Morse said. "That is exactly what the senator's statement is. It is plain nonsense. Let me take the senator from Connecticut by the hand through section 4A of the bill, and let us see what it says."

"I am willing to have the senator take my hand," Purtell said, "but I do not want him to put his hands over my eyes."

And in the House, this came up during a discussion between Reps. Halleck (R-Ind) and Abernethey (D-Miss).

"As far as I'm concerned," Halleck said, "I resent—"

Here Abernethy cut in.

"I cannot yield further," he said. "The gentleman has made his explanation of it, and he can resent on his own time."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) was discussing a tax bill, and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he was claiming credit for something not due him.

"I'm not much of a credit claimant," Millkin said. "At least, if I do claim credit for anything, I do it indirectly. I do not like to be blatant about it."

"The senator is never blatant," Douglas said. "He is always extremely subtle."

"I do not want that, either," Millkin said.

"One of the things that are so delightful about the senator is his method of approach," Douglas said, and then let fly with his verbal harpoon, "combined with his sledge hammer sense of humor."

Congressmen probably do better when they retail someone else's story.

Sen. Douglas was saying the South has made great progress under Democratic administrations, and wasn't it a shame that certain Southern leaders had forgotten that and had "deserted the home of their fathers?"

That is, they voted for Eisenhower.

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) agreed it was a pity. He said it reminded him of a story Will Rogers used to tell.

Meeting a friend, Rogers said, "I hear you've gotten rich."

"No, no," the friend protested, "I haven't gotten so rich."

"I understand," Rogers said, "you've made several million dollars."

The friend said he didn't know about that.

"Well," Rogers persisted, "I understand you've made enough money to change from a Democrat to a Republican."

Mrs. Luce Has Checkup

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, U.S. ambassador to Italy, yesterday left the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center after undergoing a medical checkup. A hospital spokesman said she was found to be in good health.

Warsaw Conditions Terrible, Refugee Says

LONDON, July 22 (AP) — Andrzej Panufnik, Polish composer and conductor who fled his homeland last week to seek asylum in the West, said last night conditions in Warsaw are terrible.

"Life is very difficult and serious and conditions are quite hopeless," he said.

"There is no meat, for example. Bread is bad and food is very difficult to find.

"Opposition to the government is big but not on the surface. People are apathetic. They drink too much."

Panufnik in his first public appearance, faced a barrage of reporters in an ornate reception room at the Polish government-in-exile's headquarters.

"I had to get out," he said.

"I was so exploited politically that I had no time or peace of mind to carry on my creative work."

China's Premier Throws Public Relations Party

GENEVA, July 22 (AP)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai stayed on today after the windup of the Geneva conference to do some energetic public relations work. More than 2,500 other delegates and newspapermen jammed outgoing planes and trains.

Chou, obviously pleased with the terms of the Indochina armistice, threw a cocktail party at his lakeside villa for both pro-Western and Communist Indochinese delegates. He has acted as a sort of "big brother" toward all the Indochinese delegates since the final days of the conference.

An official of the pro-Western Vietnamese government said Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, who has wired his resignation to Saigon, declined to attend Chou's party but other members of his delegation accepted.

The Chinese, like the Russians and other Communist delegates left in Geneva, were showing unusual affability toward Westerners.

Chou leaves by air for Peiping tomorrow. But he will stop off in East Berlin, Warsaw and Ulan Bator, the capital of Communist Mongolia, which Red China and Russia eye competitively.

Albert Jenkins, U.S. State Department China expert, said he probably will have more talks with Chinese officials in Geneva during the next few days in an effort to obtain the release of Americans held in Red China.

The Chinese Communists agreed yesterday to release six Americans and the State Department granted 15 Chinese students exit from the United States. American officials believe the Chinese Reds now are holding 44 other American civilians and at least 15 U.S. military personnel.

The Cambodian delegation tonight made public a memorandum addressed to the conference citing Cambodian claims to Cochinchina, the southernmost of the three provinces the French originally welded into Viet Nam. At its plenary session yesterday, the conference refused to take up the Cambodian demands and merely took note of the memorandum.

The Cambodians proposed a special commission of France, Viet Nam and Cambodia try "to reach an amicable solution to the problem of south Viet Nam (Cochinchina)" or consider internationalizing the territory under "a United Nations guarantee."

GIRL ESCAPES DEATH AS BUS PASSES OVER LEGS — Pinned under bus Mary Hoffman, 30, of Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., lies quietly as emergency police extricate her legs. The accident occurred as she hurried to work. The vehicle's right front wheel passed over both legs, lacerating the flesh, but amazingly caused no fractures.

Under Burmese law, a wife may become the head of the household if the husband drinks too much.

In the time of Julius Caesar, Rome contained about 1,200,000 persons.

Ike Beams As Maple Drum Presented To His Grandson

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Drum beats sounded through the White House today. Dwight David Eisenhower II, grandson of the President, received a handsome birdseye maple drum from its manufacturer while his beaming grandparents looked on in the President's office.

"Oh, isn't it a beauty, David!" Eisenhower exclaimed as the 6-year-old youngster solemnly removed the big drum from its carton and began beating on it with a pair of sticks.

The drum was made by the manufacturing firm of Noble Cooley, Granville, Mass., to mark its 100th anniversary. It is a Civil War type regimental drum, similar to one made by the company in 1860 and later presented to President Lincoln's son, Robert, in another White House ceremony.

With the big drum for David were two little red souvenir drums for his sister, Barbara Ann, 5, and Susan Elaine, 2, who sat perched on the President's desk.

As gravely as their brother, the little girls accepted their gifts and promptly began making noise with them. Susan didn't get the hang of the drum sticks right away. She tried using one of them spoon fashion on the drum head.

Vatican Hits Eye Donors

VATICAN CITY, July 22 (AP)—The Vatican's weekly periodical, L'Osservatore Della Domenica, said today no one should donate an eye to a sightless person. It said:

"No one is the master of his own life and organism, which we can dispose of only according to the law of God. Mutilating oneself of an important of the organism is to make an act of proprietorship upon life that does not belong to us. The good intention does not justify such a bad action."

Bid Your Crew To A Barbecue

"ON a picnic we will go". And oh what a happy day, with burgers ready to barbecue in a luscious tomato sauce (made with condensed soup). With them you'll want buttered toasted buns, a crisp vegetable salad, potato chips, chocolate cake and coffee or a cold fruit drink.

"Hey, Everybody, grab your picnic gear and let's celebrate July!" Take the crew on a grand'n glorious barbecue.

No trouble now. Just plot the party so you don't have to lift a finger, once the fun begins. Food is either fixed b.b. (before barbecue) or by all hands at the gathering. Your main job is to stir up a wham-bang barbecue sauce. Buy ground beef or hot dogs for saucing. Take along buns to toast. Heap a wooden bowl with greens, cukes, carrots, and radishes for salad (tossed-type or cut up to nibble out of hand). Fill the jug with iced tea. Pick out a thumping-good watermelon. And make with the chocolate cake mix — or buy sugary doughnuts.

About that barbecue sauce, lasso a can of tomato soup from the shelf and you've got it. Plunk in brown sugar, mustard, vinegar, onion and garlic. Now taste that and cheer.

Yippee Barbecued Burgers

2 pounds ground beef; 3 tablespoons shortening; (or drippings); 1 small onion, finely chopped; 1 clove garlic, minced; 1 can (1½ cups) condensed tomato soup; 2 tablespoons brown sugar; 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar; 2 teaspoons prepared mustard.

Shape beef into 8 or 10 burgers. Brown in skillet until almost cooked through. Remove burgers from skillet. Add shortening to drippings in skillet to make 3 tablespoons; brown onion and garlic. Stir in remaining ingredients for sauce. Return burgers to skillet; cover; allow to simmer about 10 minutes. Serve burgers with sauce; and on toasted buttered buns if desired. 8 to 10 servings.

Barbecued Franks: Follow directions for Barbecued Burgers but use 1 pound franks instead of ground beef. Simmer franks about 20 minutes in the sauce. Serve with sauce; and if desired, place on ⅞ buns. Makes 9 or 10 franks with sauce.

Canned Meat Shelf For Menu Change

Have you checked recently on the assortment of meats in cans at your grocery store? Perhaps you are already familiar with luncheon meats, ham or chili. But did you realize that there are about 100 varieties of canned meats?

By knowing these canned meat choices as well as other meat cuts, you can increase menu ideas and put a little more stretch into the food budget. The preparation of canned meats in quantity at the big packing centers makes for their economy. Since all trimming and boning has been done before the meat is placed in the can, every ounce of meat is edible. There is no shrinkage in home preparation because the meat is already processed. The 12-ounce can of luncheon meat, for example, provides an economical main dish for four persons.

Adapt Favorite Recipes

Favorite recipes can be adapted to the use of meats in cans. Tongue, chopped, or deviled ham add heartiness to a gelatin main dish salad. Luncheon meat or corned beef can be cut in julienne strips for a Caesar salad. To vary cheese sandwiches that are to be grilled, spread with chili con carne. Use ham loaf, diced, in a cream sauce with peas and mushrooms as a filling in toast cups. Top creole style rice with Vienna sausage.

California produces nearly two thirds of all the asparagus packed in the United States.

You can be a lazy cook and still turn out gourmet dishes. Use this recipe: in a shallow baking dish mix 1 cup uncooked white rice, a can of condensed cream of celery soup, 1½ cups grated sharp cheese, 1 teaspoon salt and 3½ cups water. Place slices of the luncheon meat in cans (franks are good too) over the top. Bake at 350°F. for 45 minutes or until the water is absorbed. Halfway through baking, make sure the meat is on top so it will brown. A one dish affair—mixed, baked and served in one dish.

California produces nearly two thirds of all the asparagus packed in the United States.

You can be a lazy cook and still turn out gourmet dishes. Use this recipe: in a shallow baking dish mix 1 cup uncooked white rice, a can of condensed cream of celery soup, 1½ cups grated sharp cheese, 1 teaspoon salt and 3½ cups water. Place slices of the luncheon meat in cans (franks are good too) over the top. Bake at 350°F. for 45 minutes or until the water is absorbed. Halfway through baking, make sure the meat is on top so it will brown. A one dish affair—mixed, baked and served in one dish.

All On A Summer's Day

A tall, cool drink is wonderful on a hot, summer day. Even a short one is good—especially if it's served in your prettiest glass — a hollow-stemmed, champagne glass for instance. Here are three ideas for refreshing summer drinks—pretty enough for a party—cooling as a breeze right off the ocean.

Set your table to match the mood—if you decide on Peach Supreme a few rosy-tinged peaches nestling on glossy green leaves will be centerpiece enough. If Cherry Frappe is your choice, then let cherry ripe be your theme—with clusters of the lovely, rich-hued fruit to adorn your setting. Or perhaps Grape Freeze is your favorite. Thread the luscious purple beauties on a glimmering, transparent straw and let the modest little, white grape be the coolest of decoration.

Any one you choose—it's good—it's delicious. Does more for you than quench your thirst. It delights the eye and helps take the heat out of July.

When it comes to preparing your drinks, you'll take your fresh-frozen juices right out of the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. When you store them properly, they'll do right by you—giving you all the full flavor and vitamin value of the fresh fruit. A blender is a help for mixing your drinks but a rotary beater will do nicely.

PEACH SUPREME

1 can (12 oz) orange juice
3 cans water
1 pint peach ice cream
1 cup milk
Fresh peach slices

Blend fresh-frozen orange juice with water, following label directions. Allow ice cream to soften a little, then mix with juice. Beat in milk. Serve in tall glasses and garnish with fresh peach slices. Approximately 10 servings.

CHERRY FRAPPE

Water
½ cup cherry or cranberry juice
Finely crushed ice
Fresh cherries

Blend lemonade with water, following label directions. Mix with cherry or cranberry juice. Pour over finely crushed ice and garnish with fresh cherries. Yield: 4½ cups juice.

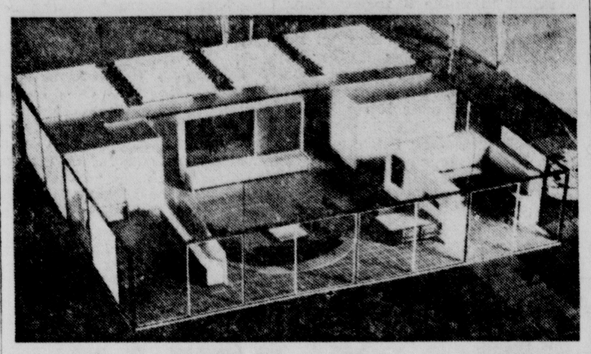
GRAPE FREEZE

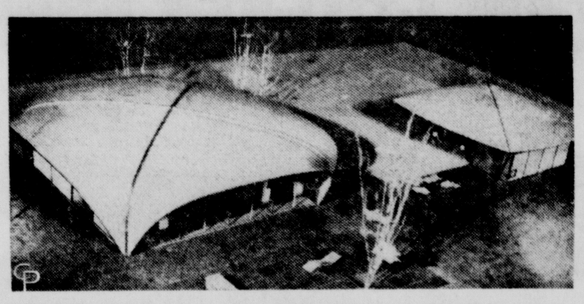
1 can (6 oz) frozen lemonade
1 can (6 oz) frozen grape juice
Water
1 pint lemon sherbet
Fresh Grapes

Blend fresh-frozen lemonade and fresh-frozen grape juice with water following label directions. Mix and pour over ice cubes in tall glasses and top with lemon sherbet. Thread fresh grapes on straws and serve as garnish. Serves 6-8.

For a buffet main dish that will feed eight economically at a Saturday night gathering, shred 2 cans of luncheon meat (on course side of grater) to combine with canned baked beans. For this casserole, mix 4 cans of the baked beans with ½ cup unsulphured molasses and ¼ cup prepared mustard. Mix in shredded meat, heat in large casserole 45 minutes in 350° F. oven.

NO BLANKETS IN THIS HOME





PORTICOED DOME serves as the roof of this radical 1964 American home, designed by architect Eliot Noyes of New Canaan, Conn., and General Electric engineers. Built almost entirely of pre-fabricated plastic panels, the house contains a dining room, activities room, kitchen-laundry, four bedrooms, two bathrooms and a darkroom. Ducts for air conditioning are built into the floors. Radiant canopies that fold from the walls above the headboards replace blankets on beds. (International)

PARENTS LIKE 'EM, TOO

DUSTED OFF and adorned with gaily-colored plastic antennas and yellow sponge rubber earpieces, radio headphones of an earlier era are being offered with new television sets. Parents love the spacephones that permit Junior to watch and hear his favorite noisy programs while the rest of the room is silent. They were developed by a Los Angeles-Kansas City firm. (International)

Soft Custard

3 cups milk
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 to 4 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cinnamon or nutmeg

Heat the milk over boiling water. Add sugar and salt to beaten eggs. Gradually add the milk to the egg mixture. Cook over hot, not boiling water, and stir constantly until the mixture coats the spoon. Remove from the hot water at once. Cool; add the vanilla and sprinkle a little cinnamon or nutmeg on each serving.

6 servings. ½ cup milk per serving.

As a Sauce. — A soft custard made with 2 eggs or 4 egg yolks makes a nice sauce for fruit, flavored gelatin, cake, or pudding.

Floating Island. — Use the soft custard recipe above. When using 4 eggs, save out 2 or 3 egg whites and make a custard of the remaining ingredients. With 2 eggs add 1 tablespoon cornstarch, with 3 eggs add 2 teaspoons cornstarch to the ingredients for soft custard. Separate eggs and proceed as follows: Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Add the hot milk and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, for 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from water at once, cool, and add vanilla. Top each serving with a meringue made from the egg whites. Beat the whites with a few grains of salt until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add 2 tablespoons sugar for each egg white, beating well after each addition. Pile lightly on a greased baking sheet in 6 large or 12 small mounds. Bake in a moderate oven (325°F.) 10 to 15 minutes or until set and browned. Place on custard hot or cold.

Another way to cook the beaten egg white is to drop mounds of it on simmering water. Cover and cook 10 to 15 minutes or until set. Remove from water immediately.

New kind of mayonnaise!

Now!
Mrs. Filbert's LIGHT MAYONNAISE

Mrs. M. V. Filbert, President
No old-fashioned heaviness!
Light . . . light . . . is the appetizing word for this new kind of mayonnaise. It's Mrs. Filbert's own idea. Delicate egg whites, foamy egg yolks are whisked in. The salad oil is so fine and thin it fluffs away—you taste the richness, never the oil! Smooth, smooth with soft-flavored spices, the gentlest vinegar. There's real lemon juice. And only the lightest-colored, lightest-tasting egg yolks are choice enough for this more delicate flavor.
"My whole idea in my new light Mayonnaise is to please your lighter taste," says Mrs. Filbert. Eat some. Delicious. You'll never want old-fashioned heavy mayonnaise again!

Cook It Indoors . . . Eat It Outdoors

Time to fill your summer tables with cooling dishes the family loves. Picnic style dinners are high fashion this summer.

Time to serve refreshing gelatin salads ... cranberry ones when there are chicken sandwiches around. Here's a picnic table menu you can start in the cool morning hours. It's every bit as good as it sounds.

Summer Picnic Dinner

Cranberry grape salad squares; French chicken sandwich slices; crispy garden relish tray; potato chips; iced tea; iced coffee; milk; angel cake with ice cream or sherbet.

Sparkling cranberry salads can be jellied in the morning. Fill your 8x8" glass cake dish with the cranberry mix, tuck it away in the refrigerator til dinner time. This is all you do to make...

Salad Squares

1 package raspberry flavored gelatin; 1½ cups water; 1 pound can whole cranberry sauce; 1 cup seedless grapes.

Dissolve raspberry gelatin according to directions on the package. Chill until mixture begins to jell. Stir the cranberry sauce until saucy. Fold sauce and grapes into raspberry gelatin. Chill until firm. Cut into squares and serve in crisp lettuce cups.

Even the chicken sandwiches can be made in the morning. You'll enjoy making...

French Chicken Sandwiches

1 loaf Vienna Bread, unsliced; 1 recipe chicken salad.

Cut the Vienna Loaf crosswise into 3 sections. Scoop out center of each section leaving ½ to ¾ inch wall. Fill center with chicken salad. Wrap each section in silver foil. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Slice into 1-inch slices and serve with the cranberry salad squares.

Use Milk In Main Dishes

Cheese Fondue

4 eggs, well beaten; 2 cups hot milk; 2 cups soft bread crumb; ½ pound cheese, finely cut (2 cups); 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; Salt to taste.

Beat the eggs well. Mix the milk, bread crumbs, cheese, butter or margarine, and salt. Stir this mixture into the beaten eggs. Pour into a well-greased shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes—or until set and lightly browned on top. Serve at once. 6 servings. ⅓ cup milk per serving plus almost 1 cup of milk value in the cheese.

Chicken Souffle

½ cup butter or margarine; ½ cup flour; 1 pint milk; 1 cup chicken broth; cup bread crumbs; 3 cups ground cooked chicken; 2 tablespoons chopped parsley; Salt; 4 eggs.

Make a thick sauce with the fat, flour, milk, and broth. The bread crumbs are the soft fluffy kind pulled apart with the fingers. Add the crumbs,. chicken, parsley, salt according to taste, and the beaten yolks of the eggs. Fold in the egg whites, beaten stiff. Place the mixture in a greasd baking dish or in individual baking dishes or custard cups. Set in a pan of warm water and bake in a very moderate oven (325°F.) until the souffle mixture is firm. The time required will proably be from 1-¼ to 1-¾ hours.

Serve the souffle in the dish in which it is cooked, or, if preferred, turn the individual souffles out onto a hot platter. Thin cream gravy or mushroom sauce may be served with the souffle.

Chicken souffle made of white meat is a dressier dish than that made of dark meat. For variety—Use cooked turkey, or pork, or ham in place of chicken.

6 servings. ⅓ cup milk per serving.

Creamed Dried Beef

¼ pound thinly sliced dried beef; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; 3 tablespoons flour; 3 cups milk; waffles or toast.

Separate the beef into fairly small pieces and fry in the fat until the meat curls slightly or is crisp. Sprinkle the flour over the meat, gradually add the cold milk, while heating slowly and stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Serve hot on waffles or crisp toast.

6 servings. ½ cup milk per serving.

Creamed Eggs

¼ cup flour; ¼ cup butter or margarine; 2 cups milk; 6 hard-boiled eggs, quartered; Salt and pepper.

Blend flour thoroughly with melted butter or margarine. Add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add eggs to sauce, season, heat, and serve on toast.

If desired, add to the butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce or grated onion, or ¼ to ½ teaspoon curry powder.

With Fish, Poultry, Meat—Make a thin white sauce by reducing the fat and flour in the above recipe to 2 tablespoons each. Use fewer eggs, if desired, and add 1 to 2 cups flaked cooked fish, chopped cooked meat or poultry.

As an Egg Sauce for Fish—Add 3 finely chopped hard-cooked eggs to the thin white sauce, and serve hot over fried or baked fish.

6 servings. ⅓ cup milk per serving.

Cook It Indoors . . . Eat It Outdoors

Time to fill your summer tables with cooling dishes the family loves. Picnic style dinners are high fashion this summer.

Time to serve refreshing gelatin salads ... cranberry ones when there are chicken sandwiches around. Here's a picnic table menu you can start in the cool morning hours. It's every bit as good as it sounds.

Summer Picnic Dinner

Cranberry grape salad squares; French chicken sandwich slices; crispy garden relish tray; potato chips; iced tea; iced coffee; milk; angel cake with ice cream or sherbet.

Sparkling cranberry salads can be jellied in the morning. Fill your 8x8" glass cake dish with the cranberry mix, tuck it away in the refrigerator til dinner time. This is all you do to make...

Salad Squares

1 package raspberry flavored gelatin; 1½ cups water; 1 pound can whole cranberry sauce; 1 cup seedless grapes.

Dissolve raspberry gelatin according to directions on the package. Chill until mixture begins to jell. Stir the cranberry sauce until saucy. Fold sauce and grapes into raspberry gelatin. Chill until firm. Cut into squares and serve in crisp lettuce cups.

Even the chicken sandwiches can be made in the morning. You'll enjoy making...

French Chicken Sandwiches

1 loaf Vienna Bread, unsliced; 1 recipe chicken salad.

Cut the Vienna Loaf crosswise into 3 sections. Scoop out center of each section leaving ½ to ¾ inch wall. Fill center with chicken salad. Wrap each section in silver foil. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. Slice into 1-inch slices and serve with the cranberry salad squares.

Use Milk In Main Dishes

Cheese Fondue

4 eggs, well beaten; 2 cups hot milk; 2 cups soft bread crumb; ½ pound cheese, finely cut (2 cups); 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; Salt to taste.

Beat the eggs well. Mix the milk, bread crumbs, cheese, butter or margarine, and salt. Stir this mixture into the beaten eggs. Pour into a well-greased shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes—or until set and lightly browned on top. Serve at once. 6 servings. ⅓ cup milk per serving plus almost 1 cup of milk value in the cheese.

Chicken Souffle

½ cup butter or margarine; ½ cup flour; 1 pint milk; 1 cup chicken broth; cup bread crumbs; 3 cups ground cooked chicken; 2 tablespoons chopped parsley; Salt; 4 eggs.

Make a thick sauce with the fat, flour, milk, and broth. The bread crumbs are the soft fluffy kind pulled apart with the fingers. Add the crumbs,. chicken, parsley, salt according to taste, and the beaten yolks of the eggs. Fold in the egg whites, beaten stiff. Place the mixture in a greasd baking dish or in individual baking dishes or custard cups. Set in a pan of warm water and bake in a very moderate oven (325°F.) until the souffle mixture is firm. The time required will proably be from 1-¼ to 1-¾ hours.

Serve the souffle in the dish in which it is cooked, or, if preferred, turn the individual souffles out onto a hot platter. Thin cream gravy or mushroom sauce may be served with the souffle.

Cream Pie

½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons table fat
1 teaspoon vanilla
9-inch baked pastry shell

Mix dry ingredients with a little of the milk. Add rest of milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add a little of the hot mixture to egg yolks. Pour back and cook a few minutes longer. Add table fat and vanilla. Pour filling into shell, cool slightly, and cover with meringue (see recipe below). Bake at 325° F. (slow oven) until meringue is brown and firm.

A fruit salad often benefits from the addition of cheese. For something pretty, chill a cheese spread and roll teaspoonfuls of it in small balls. Now roll the balls in toasted chopped nutmeats.

For a different chicken salad, mix together 2 cups cooked white rice, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, 1 cup diced celery, a dash of grated onion and black pepper, some diced pimiento, 5 teaspoons soy sauce and your favorite mayonnaise. Quick isn't it?

Canned Loaf Given A Festive Glaze

Meats in a can fit so well into our modern way of living. It's today's wise homemaker who looks to these meats on her grocer's shelf for menu variety and interest.

Canned luncheon loaf is one of a score of these canned meat products that may be served in many different ways. Here's an idea for a festive serving—give the loaf a glaze the same as ham.

For glazing the loaf, use one of these — All brown sugar and cinnamon to tart apple sauce and spread over the loaf. Or mix ½ cup of brown sugar with 2 tablespoons of water and 2 tablespoons of corn syrup. Bring to a boil and cook until sugar is dissolved. Place thin half slices of unpeeled orange over the loaf and pour the thick syrup mixture over all.

Another suggestion is to mix ½ cup of crushed pineapple with ½ cup of brown sugar. Or mix ½ cup brown sugar with ½ teaspoon dry mustard and 1 to 2 tablespoons of vinegar. Spread over the loaf, and the same as with all the glazes, place the loaf in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes or until it is heated through and glaze is set.

Apple Custard

1 cup dessert apple slices (see directions below) or canned apple slices, drained
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
1½ cups hot milk
Nutmeg

Arrange apples in bottom of four custard cups. Combine sugar, salt, and eggs. Add milk slowly. Pour over apples, sprinkle with nutmeg. Set cups in a pan of hot water. Bake at 325°F. (slow oven) until the custard is set — 30 to 40 minutes.

4 servings. Over ⅓ cup of milk per serving.

Dessert Apple Slices. Slice pared apple quarters. Put slices into pan and add enough water to half cover apples. Add a few grains of salt and 2 to 4 tablespoons of sugar for each apple used. Put the cover on and cook gently until apples are tender—20 to 30 minutes.

Green beans are at their best this way: brown ½ cup uncooked white rice in 3 tablespoons of fat along with a clove of garlic cut in half. Take out the garlic and add 2 cups cut green beans, 2 cups tomatoes cut up, salt, pepper and 2 cups water. Mix and bring to a boil. Lower the heat. Cover and cook until the rice and beans are tender. Stir occasionally and add more water if necessary, but don't let the dish be soupy.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Your freshly washed clothes will be more evenly dampened if you use a small brush or whisk broom, or a perforated sprinkler which you may buy at the store. Hotter water can be used for the sprinkling and the clothes can be ironed more quickly.

A fruit salad often benefits from the addition of cheese. For something pretty, chill a cheese spread and roll teaspoonfuls of i in small balls. Now roll the balls in toasted chopped nutmeats.

For a different chicken salad, mix together 2 cups cooked white rice, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, 1 cup diced celery, a dash of grated onion and black pepper, some diced pimiento, 5 teaspoons soy sauce and your favorite mayonnaise. Quick isn't it?

Roman Catholics Set Up Center In New York To Bring Attention To Church's Eastern Rites

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — An old lesson is getting new emphasis today among Roman Catholics; namely, that members of their faith don't all worship in the same ways.

Special programs have been set up to spread awareness of the church's diversity — and to strengthen the bonds between people in its different branches.

"There has been a gap in our knowledge of each other," said Father Frederick Wilcock, head of a recently established center here to bring attention to the church's Eastern rites.

"Interest and understanding now are much greater."

While most of the church's 31½ million American members adhere to the Roman rite, nearly a million of them belong to Eastern rite churches, also headed by the Pope of Rome but with their own priesthoods and customs.

Msgr. John McMahon, director of the Near East Welfare Assn., said a "great deal more education" in Catholic schools and seminaries is being devoted to the Eastern liturgies.

"In the United States, the Eastern rites are becoming known and loved, especially by our young people," he said.

The programs, besides building closer ties among the different rites, also seek to broaden the basis for possible reunion of Rome with Eastern Orthodox Catholic churches.

The Orthodox churches, embracing some 2½ million Americans, reject the idea of papal supremacy. However, their practices are like those of the Eastern rite churches which do accept Roman headship.

On the other hand, customs of the Eastern rite churches differ from those of the Roman rite.

Unlike Roman priests, theirs may be married.

Their vestments are different, and more ornamental.

Languages of their services, instead of being in Latin, may be in any of more than a dozen tongues.

All masses include a choir, unlike the Roman low masses.

In addition to the Russian (eastern rite) center at Fordham University launched 2½ years ago by Father Wilcock, the Near East Welfare Assn. carries on a kindred program.

Both provide a steady output of information, literature, books, articles, radio programs, training courses and lectures. The association also gathers funds to support Eastern rite educational and other institutions abroad.

Msgr. McMahan said an important part of the work is to help all Catholics "appreciate the customs" of other fellow Catholics, and "not think in narrow particulars of Western practice."

In the past, he said, Eastern Catholics have too often been made to "feel like exiles in a strange land," but he added there is an increased "opening of minds" to the beauty and validity of the various rites.

"A lot is being done through the schools," he said. "The mutual respect and understanding is siphoning down even to children."

Highlighting emphasis on the church's Eastern segments will be an international conclave in Philadelphia this October of Eastern rite prelates — the first such gathering in a quarter century.

Eastern priests are expected to come from many areas in Southern Europe, North Africa, the Near East and possibly Iron Curtain countries, representing nine million Eastern rite Catholics loyal to the Pope.

As in this country, the total is a small portion of the world's 350 million Catholics of the Roman rite.

Their numbers also are relatively small compared to the about 250 million Eastern Orthodox followers in the world who have similar ritual but do not accept the Pope's jurisdiction.

The split over this view came 10 centuries ago when the bishops of Rome and Constantinople denounced each other.

Overtures to bring Eastern Orthodox churches under the leadership of Rome have been stressed in recent years, both by the Vatican and in this country.

Orthodox churchmen, while supporting the idea of universal Christian unity, object to moves to impose authority of one church over another. A spokesman for the Greek Orthodox archdiocese of North and South America said:

"There is a fundamental difference which is impossible to reconcile unless the modernist idea of the supremacy of the Pope is revised." He added that modern dogmas proclaimed by the Pope also create barriers.

However, Father Wilcock, who spends much of his time on lecture tours—some 500 lectures in the last 12 months—to build good will between the two churches, says he believes eventual reunion "is probable."

"It may take 50 or 100 years," he said. "But our hope is to lay the groundwork."

He sees the possibility of reviving relationships of Orthodox churches with Rome as a means of the free Christian world reaching behind the Iron Curtain, where the Russian Orthodox Church predominates.

"We have squabbled over little things," he said, "instead of getting down to the essentials of fighting communism together."

"Interest and understanding now are much greater."

While most of the church's 31½ million American members adhere to the Roman rite, nearly a million of them belong to Eastern rite churches, also headed by the Pope of Rome but with their own priesthoods and customs.

Msgr. John McMahon, director of the Near East Welfare Assn., said a "great deal more education" in Catholic schools and seminaries is being devoted to the Eastern liturgies.

"In the United States, the Eastern rites are becoming known and loved, especially by our young people," he said.

The programs, besides building closer ties among the different rites, also seek to broaden the basis for possible reunion of Rome with Eastern Orthodox Catholic churches.

The Orthodox churches, embracing some 2½ million Americans, reject the idea of paoal supremacy. However, their practices are like those of the Eastern rite churches which do accept Roman headship.

On the other hand, customs of the Eastern rite churches differ from those of the Roman rite.

Unlike Roman priests, theirs may be married.

Their vestments are different, and more ornamental.

Languages of their services, instead of being in Latin, may be in any of more than a dozen tongues.

All masses include a choir, unlike the Roman low masses.

In addition to the Russian (eastern rite) center at Fordham University launched 2½ years ago by Father Wilcock, the Near East Welfare Assn. carries on a kindred program.

Both provide a steady output of information, literature, books, articles, radio programs, training courses and lectures. The association also gathers funds to support Eastern rite educational and other institutions abroad.

Msgr. McMahan said an important part of the work is to help all Catholics "appreciate the customs" of other fellow Catholics, and "not think in narrow particulars of Western practice."

In the past, he said, Eastern Catholics have too often been made to "feel like exiles in a strange land," but he added there is an increased "opening of minds" to the beauty and validity of the various rites.

"A lot is being done through the schools," he said. "The mutual respect and understanding is siphoning down even to children."

Highlighting emphasis on the church's Eastern segments will be an international conclave in Philadelphia this October of Eastern rite prelates — the first such gathering in a quarter century.

Eastern priests are expected to come from many areas in Southern Europe, North Africa, the Near East and possibly Iron Curtain countries, representing nine million Eastern rite Catholics loyal to the Pope.

Their numbers also are relatively small compared to the about 250 million Eastern Orthodox followers in the world who have similar ritual but do not accept the Pope's jurisdiction.

The split over this view came 10 centuries ago when the bishops of Rome and Constantinople denounced each other.

Overtures to bring Eastern Orthodox churches under the leadership of Rome have been stressed in recent years, both by the Vatican and in this country.

Orthodox churchmen, while supporting the idea of universal Christian unity, object to moves to impose authority of one church over another. A spokesman for the Greek Orthodox archdiocese of North and South America said:

"There is a fundamental difference which is impossible to reconcile unless the modernist idea of the supremacy of the Pope is revised." He added that modern dogmas proclaimed by the Pope also create barriers.

However, Father Wilcock, who spends much of his time on lecture tours—some 500 lectures in the last 12 months—to build good will between the two churches, says he believes eventual reunion "is probable."

"It may take 50 or 100 years," he said. "But our hope is to lay the groundwork."

He sees the possibility of reviving relationships of Orthodox churches with Rome as a means of the free Christian world reaching behind the Iron Curtain, where the Russian Orthodox Church predominates.

"We have squabbled over little things," he said, "instead of getting down to the essentials of fighting communism together."

Apple Growers Seek Campaign To Plug Fruit

$100,000 Advertising Program Is Planned

WINCHESTER, Va., July 22 (AP) —Plans were discussed here today by the board of directors of the Appalachian Apple Service, a four-state growers' organization, for furthering a nationwide advertising campaign for apples from the Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania areas.

The campaign would provide a minimum of $100,000 for advertising purposes through a 2-cent-per-bushel fee.

Secretary-Manager Carroll R. Miller of Martinsburg, W. Va., told the board growers so far have pledged 4,468,175 bushels to the program. In Virginia, he said 66 growers have signed up for 1,396,050 bushels.

Charles Packard of Roaring Springs, Pa., president; J. B. Bonham of Chilhowie, vice president; Malcolm Brown of Martinsburg, treasurer; and Miller, secretary-manager.

Playground Group Gives $750 For Blacktopping Work

The Pennsylvania Avenue Playground Association has given $750 toward the cost of blacktopping the playground, according to Mrs. Harry Hall, treasurer.

The report of the expenditure was made at a meeting of the association this week at the home of Mrs. Bernice Shumaker.

Mrs. Hall said the expenditure was taken from the Building Fund, which was started by Mrs. Elizabeth Doreen and Rheatus Spiker, former presidents of the association. The fund is being carried on by Andrew Kennedy, acting president.

A schedule of volunteer workers to operate the concession stand at Pennsylvania Avenue Field was also made.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Shumaker served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Henry.

East Side Seeks Tourney Entrants

All boys and girls from East Side playground who wish to compete in the volleyball tournament must register at the playground before Tuesday, according to Mrs. Maxine Zherbach, director, and Mrs. Dorothy Heavener.

Two East Side representatives won city championships in checkers and Chinese checkers. Eleanor Senkbeil won the senior girls Chinese checkers title and John Stevens won the pee wee boys checkers championship.

Will Meet Today

Uniformed men of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police Force will meet today at 6 p. m. at the Canada Hose House on North Mechanic Street.

Lonnie Jackson, president of the organization, announced that the group will march in the parade being sponsored by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company.

Visits In Midland

Thomas Brinegar, stationed with the US Army in Washington, visited his mother, Mrs. Catherine Brinegar.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Testimony Completed In Miners' Vacation Pay Suits

Testimony in two simultaneous suits being heard in Allegany County Circuit Court regarding vacation pay for two groups of Georges Creek miners was completed yesterday afternoon.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who heard the cases, said last night that because of the complexity of the suits he would take the testimony under advisement for several days before rendering a decision in the cases.

Interpretation of the words "payroll" and "month" in an agreement between the National Bituminous Coal Operators Association and the United Mine Workers of America were important factors in yesterday's testimony.

John J. Baker and a group of fellow miners are seeking vacation pay they believe is due them from the Campbell Coal Company, and Frank Brennan and others have filed a similar suit against Arthur P. Hoffa, former Barton mine operator.

Clarence Lippel, attorney for the miners, in his opening statement, said each of the companies had an agreement with the United Mine Workers providing vacation pay of $100 per year be pro-rated the number of months each miner worked.

In the two separate suits, Lippel said, practically all of the plaintiffs worked during the period that figures in the dispute between June 1949 and March 1950.

Paid Twice A Month

William A. Gunter, attorney for Hoffa, pointed out that the miners of both the Campbell Coal Company and the Hoffa firm were paid twice each month.

In figuring vacation pay, the companies did not give any consideration to the payroll period where the miner had not worked, Gunter added. In other words, he said, if a miner worked a day in the first half of the month and none in the last payroll period, he would not get credit for a half month vacation pay.

Lippel said on July 10 a letter was sent by officials of District 16, United Mine Workers, to Hoffa protesting the manner in which the vacation pay was figured, and that a similar communication was addressed to the Campbell Coal Company which has offices in Piedmont.

There was no reply to the Mine Workers Union, Lippel added.

Gunter said there were two questions in regard to his client's position. He explained that until March 2, 1950, he was a member of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Operators Association which acted as a collective bargaining agent for the operators with the United Mine Workers.

Withdrew From Association

Hoffa withdrew from the association three days before the National Bituminous Coal Operators Association signed the 1950 contract with the UMW. Gunter questioned whether the agreement of the remaining members of the Georges Creek Association would be binding upon Hoffa who had withdrawn. Gunter added Hoffa went out of business in July 1950.

On the other point, Gunter and Arthur Arnold, Piedmont attorney who is counsel for the Campbell firm, said it was their clients' contention that vacation pay should be prorated for work in each payroll period.

They said the fact a man worked in one half of the month, or payroll period, and none in the other did not, in their client's estimation, qualify him for the vacation pay for that half where there was no wage.

Arnold said the Campbell Coal Company, unlike the Hoffa firm, remained a member of the Coal Operators Association and was bound by any agreement with the United Mine Workers.

Difference Of 61 Months

Gunter said there was a total of 46 months in vacation pay given to the 11 miners at the Hoffa firm. The miners have sued for a total of 107 months vacation pay. As the miners cashed their vacation checks, Gunter said he figures there is a difference of 61 months at $8.33 a month. In other words the suit is over $508.13 as far as Hoffa is concerned, he added.

Lippel introduced Mrs. Elizabeth G. Bradfield, former secretary in District 16 offices here, who identified the letter sent to Hoffa and G. D. Campbell, in regards to the dispute brought to the district officials' attention by the two groups of miners. Miss Eudora Yochum, secretary in the office, explained mailing procedure.

John T. Jones, president of District 16 and member of the international executive board of the UMW, was the next witness.

He testified to the letters and to the fact that there had been no request for arbitration from the two operators.

Terms In Question

It was during this examination by Lippel that the payroll and month word terms came into the limelight. Defense attorneys had their objections upheld when Lippel attempted to ask Jones what the national pattern was in figuring vacation pay.

Judge Harris ruled to Lippel's repeated line of questioning that the point was one for him to construe in the wording of the UMW-operators agreement.

Lippel interjected that of the over 6,600 coal operators in the country, Hoffa and Campbell were the only two who figured the vacation pay in the payroll period manner.

In the history of the case, a test hearing was held in Frostburg trial magistrates court when one of the miners involved received a judgment against one of the coal operators. This was appealed.

Before the appeal was heard, the miners filed their two suits in Allegany County Circuit Court. Judge Harris has overruled demurrers filed against the case by defense counsel.

Terrier Survives Ordeal Underground For 10 Days

A Barton resident has reported the feat of a terrior dog who lived ten days underground in a groundhog hole without food or water. The dog was finally rescued.

Thomas I. Metz relates he went ginseng hunting in the Laurel Run section and Pekin Hill on Friday, July 2, taking with him Tippy, a small dog of the rat terrier breed, and another larger dog.

The two canines found a groundhog hole and the small one crawled in it. All the time, Metz said, he paid no interest in their activities, as he concentrated on finding ginseng.

Dog Lodged In Hole

After a while he heard the two dogs barking and upon inspecting he found the small one was lodged in the hole after the big dog had dug dirt at the mouth of the hole.

Metz said he did not have a pick with him and figured the dogs would come to him later in the woods.

The ginseng hunter reported that the larger dog did come to him, but Tippy did not show up. But by this time, he had wandered so far from the groundhog hole he had forgotten its location.

Metz related that he hunted and hunted for the place, but finally had to go home without the dog.

Metz figured that the dog would dig himself out and come home or go to one of the homes on Laurel Run.

But the terrier did not show up. So Metz said he went back to the section for two days but was unable to find any trace of the dog or the hole he was in.

Gives Up Hunt

On the Fourth of July, Metz said he again hunted all afternoon and again on Thursday, July 8.

"Hot-Rods" Irked By "Shot-Rods"

Many people think that a hot-rod is by definition a juvenile delinquent. Whenever a bunch of crazy mixed-up teen-age drivers try reckless stunts on the roads and somebody is hurt or killed, the perpetrators are almost automatically referred to as hot-rods and their conduct is called hot-rod driving.

But the National Hot-Rod Association, and magazines devoted to hot-rod interests, says this isn't fair. A hot-rod worthy of the name, they insist, doesn't engage in fool stunts on the open highway. They have a name of their own for the bad actors who give hot-rods a bad name. They call them "shot-rods."

What is a hot-rod? It is a youngster (usually) with mechanical ability, who takes pride in tinkering with a car in ways that will get better performance out of it. Not necessarily speed. Higher compression, for instance, will improve a car's acceleration without raising its top speed. There are ways of improving the ignition, the carburetion, and so on that will give gasoline economy and better all-round performance.

Being a hot-rod involves learning about automobiles in this mechanical age. It involves hard work, and helps keep youths out of loafers' gangs of potential delinquents. A hot-rod has a good start toward making a living as a garage operator, a mechanical engineer, or possibly as a racing driver.

It's true that when a hot-rod has worked his car over to get improved performance, he wants to try it out. The trying out may involve exceeding speed limits, which should be discouraged. But most drivers let their cars out occasionally, and hot-rods cannot justly be singled out for that. Genuine hot-rods, moreover, do not believe in taking reckless risks.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Overlooked

Like most others of my ilk—to use an expression so often hurled at me—I frequently write about the State Department and its people. By and large, these past 38 years, I have seen much of those connected with this organization in various parts of the world. Among them have been my best friends; others were routinized dopes who pompously bespoke the importance of their positions. However, I go on using the term State Department as though it were something personalized, as though all its employes were the same. We sometimes talk of them as cookie-pushers or cast aspersions on their striped trousers.

Recently, I was caught up short while reading Robert T. Oliver's "Why War Came In Korea." In no manner relating to the Korean War, appears this long paragraph:

"One thing people forget when they try to discover what ails the State Department is that its employes are individuals pretty much like everyone else. They range in ability from clerks able to earn $1,800 a year to administrators who can command $10,000 or more. They have their prejudices and special interests and their own quota of ignorance. Most of them are not supermen afire with zeal to reform the world (and some who are have drunk their draught of inspiration from the wrong bottles), but simple family men who want security and a living wage. Some are industrious and some are lazy. Most of them do their assigned work with a decent conscientiousness. Some work their hearts out and ruin their health to serve the needs of this tragic time, and others (like the great bulk of the rest of the citizenry) want to close up their desks when the clock strikes five and go home to their hobbies and their families."

What is true of the State Department is true of the Pentagon, the White House, and every other department of government. Some of their employes are just plain people, who are not concerned with high policy, just with doing their work sufficiently well to keep their jobs.

However, in the State Department, if a fellow wonders what he and the wife will do tonight, play canasta or look at TV, the question must nevertheless arise whether he is sitting over documents which have to be evaluated wisely because the data contained therein may affect national policy of great importance.

I have seen many State Department officials in my days in China who wrote brilliant reports which somehow reached the morgue very swiftly. Once put in the dispatch-bags to Washington, they were lost or forgotten. I recall one consular official, a young man, who, back in 1925 or 1926, wrote the most complete report on Communist activity in China that anyone had done up to that time. I was called in to read this document. I was then writing articles on this and kindred subjects for the "China Year Book" and was considered something of an expert until the Institute of Pacific Relations gained a monopoly on Far Eastern experts.

This report was so complete a history of Communist activities in China that it could be useful even today, because the very young people he wrote about then have now become the rulers of that country. It would be of value to see what they were like at the beginning of their careers. The present leaders of Communist China were then already active.

But this document must have been handled by one of those $1,800 a year clerks or maybe by the scrubwoman, as no one could possibly have read it and believed, as important men did in the 1940s, that these same Communists, trained in schools in Russia and thorough Marxists, were "agrarian reformers." If anyone committed a crime against the United States in those days, it was the smart young men who invented and propagated the Aesopian term, "agrarian reformer," to confuse our policies if not our minds. Perhaps similar documents were buried when the State Department moved out of its ancient headquarters.

It is, however, good to be recalled to reality, to be reminded that there are those in the State Department who eat steaks instead of cookies, who wear T-shirts instead of striped trousers, and who play with their babies instead of with the trifles of diplomacy.

Never A Dull Moment

Texas' Gov. Allan Shivers Faces Hard Fight In Re-Election Race Tomorrow

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A year and six months ago the most dashing, debonair governor to come to Washington for the inauguration of Dwight D. Eisenhower was Allan Shivers of Texas. Shivers, a Democrat, had helped induce the vast domain of Texas to go Republican for only the second time in history, so he was entitled to a seat of honor as his candidate took the oath of office.

Tomorrow, in contrast, Shivers faces the fight of his life to get renominated—which in Texas means re-elected—for the fourth term.

Several things have cropped up to plague the handsome, svelte young governor at whose palatial home, "Sharyland," Eisenhower was a special guest on his trip to Mexico last year. One was the natural aversion of Texans to elect a governor to run for four terms. Another was segregation. This backfired against Shivers in a peculiar way.

In the first place, his friend Ike backed up the Supreme Court after it abolished segregation in the schools. To offset this, Allan began making strong statements for segregation and against the Supreme Court.

But then it leaked out that the governor's eldest son had been attending one of the few non-segregated schools in Texas. His children being brought up in the Catholic faith, his son, John Shary, has been attending St. Edward's parochial school in Austin which has been non-segregated for over a year.

Quickie Land Deal

Another thing that hurt the governor was revelation that he had made a profit of $425,000 on a quickie land deal. Although reported by this newsman in October, 1952, the big-city Texas newspapers conveniently ignored the court record of Hidalgo County until this spring when Shivers' opponent, Ralph Yarborough, forced attention on the amazing court record, which had lain, privileged and quotable, but gathering dust for nearly two years.

The record showed that Lloyd M. Bentsen, father of the Texas congressman by that name, had given Shivers, then lieutenant governor, an option on 13,000 acres of highly speculative land in the Rio Grande Valley for $25,000. Then, six months later, Bentsen had arranged for the repurchase of the option for $450,000.

Conveniently, Bentsen waited seven months before arranging to buy back the option, thus permitting the lieutenant governor to pay only a capital-gains tax on his juicy $425,000 profit. What the lieutenant governor of Texas did in return for this $425,000 handed him on a silver platter was not revealed in the court depositions and has never been explained. But the Bentsens were than anxious to obtain precious water and irrigation rights in order to sell a big development scheme.

What the deal amounted to was a $425,000 windfall to a very important Texas official, and the voters of Texas, not easily fooled, don't seem to like it.

Insurance Scandals

Another sour development in the Texas political picture was the disclosure that Shivers' former campaign manager, John Van Cronkhite, had received $1,000 a month from a discredited insurance company which should have been put out of business by the Texas Insurance Commission, but which was temporarily kept in business thanks to Van Cronkhite's influence.

Significantly, Van Cronkhite was hired on the recommendation of Governor Shivers' executive secretary, Maurice Acers.

All these facts have now become known to Texans, thanks to a public lawsuit and official investigation. But what is not generally known is that R. W. Worth, an insurance official who knew about certain insurance companies from the inside, presented the facts to both Price Daniel, then attorney general, as early as July 20, 1952, and later to Governor Shivers himself on April 1, 1953.

Worth never got an answer, possibly because Shivers' former campaign manager was up to his neck in the insurance mess. Van Cronkhite, who had managed Shivers' 1950 campaign, was appointed by the governor as $8,400-a-year executive secretary of the Good Neighbor Commission, but found it more profitable to resign in 1951 and set up his own public-relations firm.

It was this firm which handled public relations for "Democrats for Eisenhower" in 1952, again thanks to Shivers' influence.

And this was the firm to which Lloyd's of North America paid $1,000 a month, after an introduction by Shivers' executive secretary, when the insurance company wanted to prevent a crackdown by the Texas Insurance Commission.

What some of the Texas voters now remember is the governor's speeches during the 1952 election campaign, especially his statement on October 29, 1952:

"Instead of the American eagle as our emblem, we have the fur-bearing mink, the deep freeze and the red herring."

Tidelands Oil Backfires

Final factor that has hurt Shivers is a ruling by the Justice Department that Texas does not get 10½ miles of tidelands oil as she claimed and expected, but only three miles—the same as other coastal states.

France's Prestige Damaged By Debacle In Indochina

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Maybe the French government and the French people will not realize for sometime to come what they have truly lost by the debacle in Indochina.

For one thing they have lost in America some of that wholehearted faith which has prompted the Congress to spend nearly a billion dollars a year to help the French hold out in Indochina. They may have lost also a reliance by this country on the will of France to fight if the Communist invader marches across Europe. In either case, it's a damaging blow to the prestige of France. For never before has the weakness of the French as an American ally been so dramatically demonstrated, and it cannot but hasten the "agonizing reappraisal" which America will be asked to make now in order to concentrate her money and her manpower on the defense of this country.

It is an open secret that American military men have grown increasingly skeptical about the wisdom of maintaining large American forces in Europe which could be faced with the necessity of an emergency evacuation if some future French cabinet suddenly decided to appease the Communist aggressor, as has just been done with Indochina.

Amending May Be Tried

For several months now the French government has dillydallied with the European Defense Community plan. It is well known that the principal opposition inside France to the continuance of the Laniel cabinet was not its inability to liquidate the Indochina War but its sponsorship of the EDC plan. Now, with the Indochina truce a matter of history, the question is whether the cabinet of Mendes-France will dare to go ahead with the ratification of the EDC agreement. The prospect is a doubtful one and, while not rejecting the EDC plan out of hand, an evasive maneuver may be begun to amend the plan. This could amount to the same thing as scuttling it.

The 100 Communists in the French Parliament, plus the left-wing groups there, are bitterly opposed to EDC and with the rising tide of Moscow's prestige—manifested dramatically by her domination of the Indo-china settlement—the real undercover campaign of the Soviet government now will be to try to kill EDC.

If this happens, a movement here to have American forces brought back home can be expected. This would be a tragic alternative because then the Communists would have a free hand in Europe, and West Germany would be sacrificed. There are French officials, therefore, who think that, no matter what they do about EDC, the United States will continue her economic and military aid to France. They may be guessing right on this, though at the same time it is apparent that the drive to get a "new look" on the military side will not be slowed down.

The main criticism of what has happened in Indochina is coming from Air Force circles, where it is insisted that America is investing too much money on uncertain partners — countries where bases may be lost at any moment. This makes a case for intercontinental bombers and for a stepping up of naval air power as well, so that America's defense against atomic attack will not be dependent on uncertain allies.

Dulles Was Right

America has an important air base in Morocco. The Communists are fomenting more trouble there, as they are in Tunisia. The northern borders of Africa are infested with Communist saboteurs who are bent on stirring up friction. he present cabinet in Paris is well aware of the danger of more revolutionary disturbances in Tunisia and Morocco and is inclined to adopt a conciliatory course and to try giving the nationalistic elements some important concessions. These probably will not satisfy them, or at least the Communist mischief-makers will see that they do not end the trouble.

It is ironical to go back now and read how ready some members of Congress were on condemn Secretary Dulles a few weeks ago as responsible for what was happening in Geneva. It is now apparent that the French and British were pulling out. He was well aware that the French planned to scuttle Indochina. As it turns out, Mr. Dulles was wisely striving to disassociate America from the appeasement plot. He has managed to keep America's moral position free. Hence the United States is in a strong position now to question the good faith of the Communists, who have been claiming they were interested in the fulfillment of the aspirations of the people of the Indochina states for full independence. Those people now will get the Communist kind of "independence" so well known to the enslaved populations of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Early autumn balloting for congressional desk-room must be taken with a grain of silt.

From New England's rogue-bound coast to California's sunken diningrooms the middle more than justifies the ends.

But in the course of catalogued items we must take the will for the deed and notarize them both.

That's because a new element has been chaffed from the wheat in national politics.

A heavy trailer vote has showed up on used car lots.

The national posses of both parties are busy diagnosing this astounding offshoot of tourist bias. Can it be captured by Jim Farley riding a motor-cycle? Can it be swung by Tom Dewey making a door-to-door canvass on a scooter?

We have only August, September and October left for making the slip that passeth all understanding. Here is a transient bloc of jolting citizens who are as maneuverable as Moseby's guerrillas. And who can follow up my stunt of 1929 when I rode my bicycle from town to town voting wet for the Literary Digest.

This is a movable element in local migration. At so much per vote they can go north with the birds and south with the eggs.

There was a time when the sachems of Tammany sent around carriages for the truck trade. Voters were hauled to the calibrating booths of a partisan precinct to complete their education with an arm-twisted "X."

But today we have a powerful vote that furnishes its own transportation. The long, long trailers are winding. They want no detours to the poorhouse.

The majorettes are as interchangeable as bingo buttons.

The 49th state of the union could be Alaska or Hawaii. But both are likely to be beaten to the draw by a trailer colony.

The politicians are figuring what to promise 'em. Free tolls, double-parking, hot and cold rain are theirs for the asking.

WASHINGTON

The settlement agreed on at Geneva has turned out, as expected, to be a new Munich in the Far East. The parallel is exact in almost every point.

With hardly repressed sighs of relief, the free nations have yielded a vital strategic position to a ruthless totalitarian aggressor.

The manner of yielding is such as to make the next step rather easily predictable. The first bite of Czechoslavakia that Hitler took at Munich was only the prelude to the last bite that he took at Prague. In the same fashion, the conditions have now been created for another Communist bite in Indochina.

Finally, Munich was an historic point of no return, in the sense that the abandonment of Czechoslovakia decisively tilted the power balance in favor of Hitler and against the free nations. The sequel of Geneva will come more slowly, and it will be more complex and less dramatic in its development. But there can be little doubt that the abandonment of Indochina will also be remembered as the moment when the power balance tilted decisively against the free nations and in favor of the Kremlin.

No one familiar with the local situation in Indochina can be very hopeful about the future of Laos, Cambodia and the bob-tailed remnant of Viet Nam that remains in French hands. Almost every factor will work in favor of Communist capture of these additional territories.

Follow The Bandwagon

In the first place, the set of political opinion in all Asian countries is most strongly influenced by the general estimate of which way the bandwagon is travelling. The French have suffered a shattering defeat. Their own forces, their own administration, must be demoralized thereby. The Vietnamese, the Laotians and the Cambodians can no longer regard the French as reliable protectors. That means a great increase of Communist strength.

Second, Communist infiltration is already well-advanced in many of the areas that are supposed to have been forbidden to communism. Until this year, for instance, Southern Indochina was believed to be almost wholly pacified and cleaned of communism.

But when the crisis of Dien-bien-phu revealed the weakness of the French, guerrilla activity immediately broke out, on an important scale, throughout the southern provinces. Even in Saigon, the grenade nets, which had not been used for years, had to be brought out again. It can be imagined what is now likely to happen, after the Communist success at Geneva.

Third, the provisions in the Geneva agreement for "regrouping" of troops are almost wholly unenforcible, except against the French. The Vietminh troops are regulars, with all the training and equipment of regulars. But the great bulk of these Vietminh regulars are also trained to imitate the simple peasantry and live as guerrillas. Who can suppose that they will peacefully march away, abandoning the territory they now hold?

Fourth, the French have crossed a kind of Rubicon by making this settlement. They have laid down their arms. No doubt the Communist high command will let the French get used to peace for a considerable period, doing nothing drastic to disturb the settlement for a good many months. But if and when the French find themselves with a new civil war on their hands in southern Viet Nam, who can suppose they will have the stomach to take up their arms again?

Prelude To A Grab

For all these reasons, this Geneva settlement must certainly be regarded as a mere prelude to a Communist grab for the rest of Indochina, unless and until subsequent events give clear, hard proof to the contrary. Futhermore, this Indochinese settlement must also be expected to produce the most far-reaching results outside of Indochina.

The results in Europe may be good. French Prime Minister Mendes-France has shown himself to be a man of force and character, and the Indochinese settlement gives him a chance to set the French house in order at last. But against such possible good results in Europe must be set all the evil consequences which are sure to flow in Asia.

The President has recently been emphasizing Japan's essential importance to this country. Now the Japanese drift to neutralism can easily become uncontrollable. By the same token, the demonstration at Geneva of Communist strength and Western weakness will increase the demoralization of Formosa; strengthen the Communists in Indonesia and Malaya; threaten the pro-Western government in Thailand; and greatly increase the difficulties of the stoutly courageous but sorely beset government of Burma.

In short what has now happened, by any sane test, is a huge political-strategic disaster. This disaster has upset the whole horribly precarious balance of power in Asia, most probably beyond repair by such an expedient as the plan for a South Asian Defense Community.

It is a disaster for which any incidental gains in Europe can hardly compensate. And it is a disaster from which the American government cannot possibly "disassociate" itself. For the plain fact is that the United States, as leader of the West, failed to act when there was still time to act.

Tests Can Determine Offending Pollen In Hay Fever

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A woman of 37, who was sensitive to grass pollen, developed all the symptoms of hay fever in the spring of the year. A teen-ager had the same experience in the fall with the pollen of Russian thistle. These are two examples of hay fever caused by pollen other that the ragweed variety. But 80 per cent of all hay fever is caused by ragweed.

Many authorities object to the term hay fever because the affliction is not due to hay nor is fever involved. They prefer the fancier expression, seasonal allergic rhinitis; this is more descriptive to scientists since the disorder is seasonal, allergic in nature, and affects the nose (rhinitis). Others have suggested the name, pollinosis because it stresses the causative agent, pollen. But we will keep using hay fever because old expressions are so deeply ingrained, a change is almost impossible.

Whenever hay fever is mentioned, most of us picture a sneezing individual who is suffering from itching and stuffiness of the nose, watery eyes, and scratchy throat. We also think of ragweed, which is by no means the only offender. No area in the United States is entirely free of pollen. Some regions have more than others and here and there we find communities where the concentration is so low, there is no hay fever.

Persons who are sensitive to tree pollen usually encounter symptoms early in spring; those bothered by grasses are affected during late spring or early summer. Weeds such as ragweed, redroot, marsh elder, dock, and Russian thistle appear in late summer. Molds complicate the picture because these organisms become active whenever the weather turns warm and damp.

Since hay fever is likely to recur year after year, it is advisable to make a thorough study of the illness. There is no substitute for an accurate diagnosis of any disease with which an individual is forced to live. Tests should be made to determine the offending pollen plus any other factor such as animal dander, dust, or smoke that might contribute to hay fever.

Once the culprits are known, plans can be made to avoid or fight them. This means leaving town when the season begins, or being immunized against the offenders. When these plans are not practical, attention is needed to control the manifestations: running nose, watering eyes, and sneezing. Here the antihistaminics and the vasoconstricting drugs help most.

TOMORROW: Bicycling hazards.

BREAST-PANG

F. L. writes: What does angina pectoris mean?

REPLY

Severe pain in the chest, radiating to the left shoulder and arm. Distress may come on after exertion, eating, or excitement. Disturbance of the blood flow to the heart may be responsible. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on angina pectoris.

THE NOSE AND MODELING

C. M. writes: I have all the qualifications for a model but my nose is too wide. Would you advise plastic surgery?

REPLY

When the occupation or career is jeopardized by a defect of this kind, plastic surgery should be considered. On the other hand, in many modeling jobs, the face is not too important.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A fisherman's favorite "tall tale" concerns the fellow who, impatient at his failure to pull in a single thing, impulsively dipped the minnow he was using as bait in a jug of moonshine, and then lowered his line again. Seconds later he felt a strike, and hauled in a huge sea bass that was threshing about helplessly against the minnow, which had it by the throat and was choking it to death.

That fish story reminded British author Eric Partridge of another whopper wherein a carpenter made and painted three wooden decoy ducks so lifelike that a deluded cat promptly bit the heads off two of them. The third one? He flew away.

Will Rogers used to say that proper treatment would cure a cold in seven days, whereas if left to itself the cold would hang on for a week.

Local Residents Hurt In Mishap

Two Ridgeley residents, Joseph Miller and Miss Frances Evans, were injured Sunday in an automobile accident on a secondary road near Kirby, W. Va.

Miller suffered severe scalp lacerations when the car he was driving went off the left side of the road and turned over several times.

Miss Evans, the only passenger in the machine, received a collarbone fracture. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital in an ambulance.

Opposition Raised Against Beer License

Ninety-two persons signed a remonstrance against a Class D beer license that was tentatively approved for a place in Eckhart by the Board of Allegany County License Commissioners Tuesday.

Walter C. Capper, board chairman, reported the license will be held up until a hearing is held before the board.

At Tuesday's meeting the board approved the application of Timothy B. Johnson of Eckhart for the Eckhart Sports Center, Main Street.

Johnson was informed the license would not be available until Thursday, July 22. The remonstrance was filed with the board by Earl E. Manges, local attorney.

The petition, containing the 92 names, listed various reasons why the license should not be granted.

The sports center, the petition states, has a pool room that attracts a large number of youngsters. The remonstrants said the place is located only 150 feet from Eckhart Methodist Church, and added that a license for the center was twice refused in the past.

The remonstrants pointed out there are already four beer licenses in Election District 24 and added that Eckhart is near Frostburg where there are many more licenses.

The granting of the license, the petition stated, would be against the public peace and general welfare. There is no police protection in Eckhart, the remonstrants said.

A date for the hearing has not been set.

To Set Final Plans

Final plans for a festival July 28, 29 and 30 will be made at a meeting of the North End Playground Association today at 7:30 p. m. according to Hilary Green president.

Testimony Completed In Miners' Vacation Pay Suits

Testimony in two simultaneous suits being heard in Allegany County Circuit Court regarding vacation pay for two groups of Georges Creek miners was completed yesterday afternoon.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who heard the cases, said last night that because of the complexity of the suits he would take the testimony under advisement for several days before rendering a decision in the cases.

Interpretation of the words "payroll" and "month" in an agreement between the National Bituminous Coal Operators Association and the United Mine Workers of America were important factors in yesterday's testimony.

John J. Baker and a group of fellow miners are seeking vacation pay they believe is due them from the Campbell Coal Company, and Frank Brennan and others have filed a similar suit against Arthur P. Hoffa, former Barton mine operator.

Clarence Lippel, attorney for the miners, in his opening statement, said each of the companies had an agreement with the United Mine Workers providing vacation pay of $100 per year be pro-rated the number of months each miner worked.

In the two separate suits, Lippel said, practically all of the plaintiffs worked during the period that figures in the dispute between June 1949 and March 1950.

Paid Twice A Month

William A. Gunter, attorney for Hoffa, pointed out that the miners of both the Campbell Coal Company and the Hoffa firm were paid twice each month.

In figuring vacation pay, the companies did not give any consideration to the payroll period where the miner had not worked, Gunter added. In other words, he said, if a miner worked a day in the first half of the month and none in the last payroll period, he would not get credit for a half month vacation pay.

Lippel said on July 10 a letter was sent by officials of District 16, United Mine Workers, to Hoffa protesting the manner in which the vacation pay was figured, and that a similar communication was addressed to the Campbell Coal Company which has offices in Piedmont.

There was no reply to the Mine Workers Union, Lippel added.

Gunter said there were two questions in regard to his client's position. He explained that until March 2, 1950, he was a member of the Georges Creek and Upper Potomac Coal Operators Association which acted as a collective bargaining agent for the operators with the United Mine Workers.

Withdrew From Association

Hoffa withdrew from the association three days before the National Bituminous Coal Operators Association signed the 1950 contract with the UMW. Gunter questioned whether the agreement of the remaining members of the Georges Creek Association would be binding upon Hoffa who had withdrawn. Gunter added Hoffa went out of business in July 1950.

On the other point, Gunter and Arthur Arnold, Piedmont attorney who is counsel for the Campbell firm, said it was their clients' contention that vacation pay should be prorated for work in each payroll period.

They said the fact a man worked in one half of the month, or payroll period, and none in the other did not, in their client's estimation, qualify him for the vacation pay for that half where there was no wage.

Arnold said the Campbell Coal Company, unlike the Hoffa firm, remained a member of the Coal Operators Association and was bound by any agreement with the United Mine Workers.

Difference Of 61 Months

Gunter said there was a total of 46 months in vacation pay given to the 11 miners at the Hoffa firm. The miners have sued for a total of 107 months vacation pay. As the miners cashed their vacation checks, Gunter said he figures there is a difference of 61 months at $8.33 a month. In other words the suit is over $508.13 as far as Hoffa is concerned, he added.

Lippel introduced Mrs. Elizabeth G. Bradfield, former secretary in District 16 offices here, who identified the letter sent to Hoffa and G. D. Campbell, in regards to the dispute brought to the district officials' attention by the two groups of miners. Miss Eudora Yochum, secretary in the office, explained mailing procedure.

John T. Jones, president of District 16 and member of the international executive board of the UMW, was the next witness.

He testified to the letters and to the fact that there had been no request for arbitration from the two operators.

Terms In Question

It was during this examination by Lippel that the payroll and month word terms came into the limelight. Defense attorneys had their objections upheld when Lippel attempted to ask Jones what the national pattern was in figuring vacation pay.

Judge Harris ruled to Lippel's repeated line of questioning that the point was one for him to construe in the wording of the UMW-operators agreement.

Lippel interjected that of the over 6,600 coal operators in the country, Hoffa and Campbell were the only two who figured the vacation pay in the payroll period manner.

In the history of the case, a test hearing was held in Frostburg trial magistrates court when one of the miners involved received a judgment against one of the coal operators. This was appealed.

Before the appeal was heard, the miners filed their two suits in Allegany County Circuit Court. Judge Harris has overruled demurrers filed against the case by defense counsel.

Terrier Survives Ordeal Underground For 10 Days

A Barton resident has reported the feat of a terrior dog who lived ten days underground in a groundhog hole without food or water. The dog was finally rescued.

Thomas I. Metz relates he went ginseng hunting in the Laurel Run section and Pekin Hill on Friday, July 2, taking with him Tippy, a small dog of the rat terrier breed, and another larger dog.

The two canines found a groundhog hole and the small one crawled in it. All the time, Metz said, he paid no interest in their activities, as he concentrated on finding ginseng.

Dog Lodged In Hole

After a while he heard the two dogs barking and upon inspecting he found the small one was lodged in the hole after the big dog had dug dirt at the mouth of the hole.

Metz said he did not have a pick with him and figured the dogs would come to him later in the woods.

The ginseng hunter reported that the larger dog did come to him, but Tippy did not show up. But by this time, he had wandered so far from the groundhog hole he had forgotten its location.

Metz related that he hunted and hunted for the place, but finally had to go home without the dog.

Metz figured that the dog would dig himself out and come home or go to one of the homes on Laurel Run.

But the terrier did not show up. So Metz said he went back to the section for two days but was unable to find any trace of the dog or the hole he was in.

Gives Up Hunt

On the Fourth of July, Metz said he again hunted all afternoon and again on Thursday, July 8.

NEW YORK —(INS)— The successful test of Boeing's prototype of America's first jet airliner, and the continued grounding of Britain's Comet, would seem to indicate that this country has now overcome the lead which the British held in the jet world for ten years.

It will not be a clear-cut leadership until more of Boeing's 707s are in the air. Indeed Capital Airlines has placed an order for a fleet of British prop-jet airliners to replace the Connies, DC-4s and DC-3s now used. They are faster than conventional propellor driven planes and thus, though more expensive to operate, can give more service.

But the race against the Comet, a pure jet, apparently has been won. Boeing's 4-jet 707 is twice as powerful as the Comet I, cruises 60 mph faster (550 mph) has a much longer range and can carry up to 130 passengers as compared to the Comet I's 38.

Looks as if we're ahead in the military field, too, now that the RAF has grounded its scimitar-wing bomber and one of the two interceptors on which it heavily banked.

Boeing put the engines of the 707 in pods extending down (and out in front) of the thin, sweptback wing. The British put their jet engines inside the wing. If something flies loose in a 707 jet it will snip off a bit of the outthrust engine covering. If something flies loose in a Comet engine there is some likelihood that the wing will go, though I must say I never had a better or smoother ride in the air than in a Comet.

The Boeing method, first introduced in the B-47 and continued in the B-52, has another advantage. Service crews don't have to "skin" a wing to work on the engines.

Incidentally, Boeing engineers were treated with royal cooperation when they toured the British jet industry last year. But when a prominent British jet authority returned the visit, on invitation, the Pentagon instructed Boeing, "Show him nothing."

Just think, there isn't any organized war going on in the world! The close-down of the conflict in Indochina, after shooting that began in December, 1946, gave the battered and bruised old earth its first respite in the lifetime of millions of its growing inhabitants.

Gives one an almost uneasy feeling, not to have a war going on. From 1931 until Tuesday night the big guns were never really silent.

The winner of the last one? The Reds, all the way.

Maybe the tools of war are getting too impressive. To wit: (from "Air Force," the magazine of American airpower) "An F-86 Sabrejet will soon be able to carry the equivalent of 500,000 tons of TNT beneath its wing. The megaton fighter, carrying the equal of a million tons of TNT, is now becoming a distinct possibility. Even a baby H-bomb can be expected."

Branch Rickey, applauded here recently as the man who made possible the presence of Willie Mays and other Negro stars in big league baseball, writes:

"I wish you to know that I am deeply appreciative of your kindly references to me. Really, the employment of a Negro—a U. S. citizen—in a job for which he was best qualified to make a living, deserves no recognition of comment ever, from anybody.

"Nevertheless, in my vanity I suppose comes a feeling of thanks for your article. Sincerely Branch Rickey."

Local Residents Hurt In Mishap

Two Ridgeley residents, Joseph Miller and Miss Frances Evans, were injured Sunday in an automobile accident on a secondary road near Kirby, W. Va.

Miller suffered severe scalp lacerations when the car he was driving went off the left side of the road and turned over several times.

Miss Evans, the only passenger in the machine, received a collarbone fracture. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital in an ambulance.

Measure Defeated

Rep. DeWitt Hyde (R-Md. 6th) voted Wednesday to increase the pay of postal employes and increase postage rates. The bill was defeated.

Opposition Raised Against Beer License

Ninety-two persons signed a remonstrance against a Class D beer license that was tentatively approved for a place in Eckhart by the Board of Allegany County License Commissioners Tuesday.

Walter C. Capper, board chairman, reported the license will be held up until a hearing is held before the board.

At Tuesday's meeting the board approved the application of Timothy B. Johnson of Eckhart for the Eckhart Sports Center, Main Street.

Johnson was informed the license would not be available until Thursday, July 22. The remonstrance was filed with the board by Earl E. Manges, local attorney.

The petition, containing the 92 names, listed various reasons why the license should not be granted.

The sports center, the petition states, has a pool room that attracts a large number of youngsters. The remonstrants said the place is located only 150 feet from Eckhart Methodist Church, and added that a license for the center was twice refused in the past.

The remonstrants pointed out there are already four beer licenses in Election District 24 and added that Eckhart is near Frostburg where there are many more licenses.

The granting of the license, the petition stated, would be against the public peace and general welfare. There is no police protection in Eckhart, the remonstrants said.

A date for the hearing has not been set.

To Set Final Plans

Final plans for a festival July 28, 29 and 30 will be made at a meeting of the North End Playground Association today at 7:30 p. m. according to Hilary Green president.

Enrollment Now Open At State College

Students Urged To Register Early

FROSTBURG — Miss Lillian C. Compton, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, suggests that all students who plan to enroll at the college should not wait until the formal registration period in the fall to enroll, but should do so on any week day this summer between the hours of 9 a. m. 4:30 p. m.

Lowndes Hall, located on Maple Street between College Avenue and Park Avenue, houses the administrative offices. The president, dean, registrar, finance officer and secretaries are in their offices Monday through Friday and may be seen personally, with or without appointment, or contacted by telephone.

Freshmen and new students enrolling now will save themselves considerable time, since their high school records and recommendations must be obtained and evaluated before they are admitted to the College.

Card Club To Plan Annual Picnic

MT. SAVAGE — The Sunshine Card Club met at the home of Mrs. Ada King on Mt. Savage Road Tuesday. Cards were played and awards went to Miss Gladys Adams, Mrs. Freda McKenzie and Mrs. Isabel Adams. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Carter, Railroad Street on August 5 at which time plans will be completed for the annual picnic at Constitution Park on August 10.

Keyser Rotary Hears Talk On Modern Banking

KEYSER—F. C. Boor, cashier of Farmer's and Merchants Bank, Keyser, gave a classification talk on banking and bankers at the Rotary luncheon Thursday in Odd Fellows Temple.

Mr. Boor, who began his banking career in 1921 with the First National Bank, Cumberland, passed through various departments in his banking career until he came here in 1953 as cashier. He defined operations of banking today as an advanced operation of modern times.

Prior to his talk, two new members were received and introduced by President Edgell Grayson. They are Harry O. Rogers, local postmaster, and William Gortner, automotive dealer.

Visiting Rotarians were Allen Rotruck, Huntington, formerly of Keyser, and Leslie Stewart, Havana, Ill.

Old Residence Being Razed For Car Lot

MOOREFIELD — A portion of the old M. A. Bean home on Main Street next to the Bean Motor Company is being torn down to make room for a used car sales lot. The section of the residence was built by M. A. Bean as an addition to the old Sherrard property A fire which partially destroyed the property over 20 years ago was the prime reason for the formation of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company.

A large sign will be erected over that Main Street portion of the new used car lot.

Tri Towns Briefs

PIEDMONT — Tri-Towns Lone Troop Association will camp at Camp Potomac near Oldtown, August 15-21.

WESTERNPORT — The annual Parish and Church School picnic of St. James Episcopal Church will be held Saturday at Pleasant Valley. A bus and cars will leave from the church at 9 a.m.

WESTERNPORT — Miss Phyllis Peters, Pontiac, Mich., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Peters Sr., Main Street.

Moorefield Moves GOC Headquarters

MOOREFIELD — The Moorefield Post of the Ground Observers Corps has moved headquarters from the Municipal Airport to the high school grounds. The Board of Education donated an old tool shed and a spot on the north end of the school grounds for the project. A telephone will be installed as soon as a contract can be returned from the Pittsburgh Filter Center.

The move was made to enable the ladies to stand watches as it was not too desirable for them to be alone during the after midnight vigils. Also the new location will enable watch standers to walk within town to the new location. It was impractical for those without cars to get to the airport.

Return Home

WESTERNPORT -Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dayton, Wood Street, returned from visiting in Baltimore and Washington. They were accompanied home by two of their daughters, Mrs. Vivian Walsh and Miss Dessie Dayton of Washington.

Announce Birth

LONACONING — Mr. and Mrs. John Bradburn announced the birth of a son on Wednesday, July 21, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. Mrs. Bradburn is the former Evelyn Rowan.

Winners Named

MT. SAVAGE — The cheerful Card Club met at the home of Miss Nellie Tansey. Prize winners were Mrs. Bertha Farrell, Mrs. Adelaide Logsdon, and Miss Martha Reagan. Next hostess will be Mrs. Bertha Farrell at her home in Locust Avenue, August 10.

Keyser Church Sponsors Annual Picnic Sunday

KEYSER — The annual picnic of the Keyser Church of the Brethren will be held Sunday at Pleasant Valley. Members of the congregation and friends are invited for the day's outing and program.

The morning church service will be held on the picnic grounds, and there will not be any service at the church. All members are to meet at the church at 9 a. m., to leave for Pleasant Valley. Transportation will be provided for those who do not have a way to go.

Leave the church, rain or shine, at 9 a. m. Worship at 10:30 a. m., on the grounds, conducted by Church of the Brethren Youth Fellowship, followed by Sunday School from 11 to 11:45 a. m.

Picnic food will be placed on the tables and served cafeteria style at 12:30 p. m.

During the afternoon there will be opportunity for fellowship and recreation.

Terrier Survives

By this time the dog was dead, Metz deduced, and therefore gave up the hunt.

On Monday Ben Hyde of Moscow was hunting groundhogs when he heard a dog whining in the ground.

Hyde had a pick and promptly dug the canine out. He recognized the dog and notified Metz who took him food and water.

Metz said Tippy was very thin and weak after being underground for ten days, but after receiving sustenance he seemed little different than when he crawled into his predicament.

District Gas Firm Begins Well Drilling Operations

The Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, affiliate of the Columbia System which supplies natural gas to consumers in central and eastern West Virginia as well as Western Maryland, has begun drilling operations in the new Randolph County gas field.

Sources said the Union Drilling Company, contracting firm drilling two wells for C&A in the Terra Alta area, recently erected a standard type rig on the Hoy Talbott farm in the Roaring Creek district.

The proposed drilling site is located one mile northwest of Kingsville at a point near the Randolph-Barbour line.

Would Extend Area

A successful completion there would extend production northward for a distance of two miles in advance of present proven output.

While C&A drilled an exploration well in another section of Randolph County some 25 years ago, the Talbott well is the company's first activity in the new Hiram structure field where more than 20 wells have been drilled by independent operators since the discovery well (Goff-Arnold 1) was drilled on another firm's lease in 1952.

A summary shows that seven of 21 wells drilled in the new field of western Randolph County have approached or exceeded 1,000,000 cubic feet daily open flow. Three exceeded or approached 2,000,000 feet.

C&A is said to hold considerable lease acreage in northwestern Randolph County and eastern Upshur County.

Meanwhile, the Columbian Carbon Company was reported to be moving rig material to a well site on U. S. Forest Service land at a point one and a half miles east of Glady on the Osceola Road in the Dry Fork district. This exploratory area is said to be near the axis of the Blackwater Anticline which has produced a commercial gas field in Canaan Valley of Tucker County.

The objective in this well is said to be the Oriskany Sand which is expected to be found below the 6,000-foot depth.

The structure extends southward across Randolph County, forming the structural ridge of Middle Mountain which extends from Gladwin on the Dry Fork River southward to Pocahontas County.

Thirty-One Tossers Report At Cleveland Tryout Camp Here

Tribe Scouts Are Enthused Over Turnout

O'Donnell, Shorten Report That Four Of Players "Real Good"

Thirty-one players participated in the initial workouts held yesterday under the direction of Scouts Harry O'Donnell and Charles H. "Chick" Shorten at the Cleveland Indians' tryout camp at Penn Avenue Field.

The final session of the two-day camp is scheduled to get under way at 10 o'clock this morning.

Scouts O'Donnell and Shorten said they were enthused over the turnout of youngsters on opening day and they said that four of the players looked "real good." The quartet comprised a pitcher, catcher, infielder and outfielder.

Shorten, who was an outfielder for Boston, Detroit and St. Louis in the American League and was a teammate of such stars as Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, and O'Donnell, who was understudy to Jimmy Wilson for two seasons when the latter caught for the Phillies, have been on the road since April conducting tryout camps in the east. After leaving here today they'll hold camps at Trenton, N. J. and Philipsburg, Pa. Mike McNally, one-time major league infielder, heads the Cleveland scouting system.

O'Donnell, who spent many years as a catcher with International League and American Association teams, scouted for Baltimore for seven years and was with the Athletics 15 years, leaving Philadelphia for Cleveland after Connie Mack stepped down as leader of the Athletics.

The Cleveland scouts are particularly interested in the Indians' farm clubs. They point out that in 1953, six of the eight Cleveland farm teams won pennants. This year five of the eight clubs are leading their leagues.

Shorten's home is in Scranton, Pa., while O'Donnell calls Philadelphia home.

Hot Stove Teams Halted By Curfew

At 10:30 curfew caught the Times-News and the Optimist Club knotted at 7-7 in a Hot Stove League Baseball League game last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Six innings of play had been completed when hostilities halted.

In the 6th, Page of the Optimists tripled but was thrown out at the plate when he tried to make a homer. Wilt relayed the ball to Shaffer who threw to Sheehe, cutting down Page at the platter. In the 4th frame, Ed Weaver, Optimists' centerfielder, threw out Sheehe at the plate when the latter attempted to score afer a fly ball to the outfield.

The unbeaten Senators extended their winning streak to 10 games in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League by nosing out the Athletics yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 6-5.

Jack Cranor, Senators' relief pitcher, who put down an Athletics' uprising in the final stanza, led his team at bat with a two-bagger and two singles in four trips. Boggs rapped a double and single and Clark smacked a two-bagger for the A's.

Ansel Shircliffe and Eddie Shoup rapped homers as the Indians took the Dodgers into camp at Stitcher Field, 9 to 3. Shircliffe's circuit belt came with one aboard. Mike Firlie had two hits for the winners and Third Baseman Eddie Gaus turned in several nice catches. Owens hit a round-tripper for the Dodgers. Scores:

Dodgers Defeat Cincinnati, 8-5

CINCINNATI, July 22 (AP) — Although he had to have help from Jim Hughes, Don Newcombe hurled his first pitching victory since June 23 today as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 8 to 5. Newcombe was aided by a lusty 13-hit attack which included home runs by Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese.

Newcombe, who now has a 6-5 record, also scored his last triumph against the Reds.

He was shelled out in the seventh, however, when the Redlegs used two hits, two walks and an error for a pair of runs.

The Dodger doubles included two by rookie Sandy Amoros, who has hit five doubles in the 11 safe blows he has rapped out for Brooklyn. The other two-baser was by Carl Furillo in the second inning and that was his sixth straight hit against Redleg pitching. The string ended in the fourth, however, when he popped to Roy McMillan.

Ted Kluszewski's 26th home run of the season scored Cincinnati's first two runs in the fourth after McMillan had walked.

Overcoming a nine-run lead in the late innings, the Pirates whipped the Yankees, 12-11, yesterday at Fort Hill Field and thereby retained the lead in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little Baseball League.

The score was 10-1 when the Pirates came to bat in the 4th. They scored ten runs in the 4th and fifth and after the Yankees knotted the count at 11-all in the top of the 6th the Buccos won out in their half. Stanley Alt's single scored Johnny Goss with the deciding run. Puffenburger and Alt shared six of the Pirates' 13 hits. Burke walloped a homer and bases full triple for the losers.

Denny Smith fanned 11 and Allan Stevenson got four hits in four trips as the Red Sox downed the Cardinals at Penn Avenue Field, 11 to 5. Wayne Shuck obtained two of the three hits yielded by Smith. "Turtle" Slonaker and George Cousins had two hits each for the winners.

Manager Howard Northcraft's Phillies outslugged the Giants at East Side Field, 13 to 9. John Stevens hit a round-tripper and three singles in four trips and Donald Nave, who posted his third pitching win of the season, smacked a two-run homer. Gary Henry, Paul Geatz and Jim Hammond had three hits each and the latter played a bangup game at short. Ben Broome paced the Giants with three hits while Leith, Green and Bittner had two each. Old Germans	13	9	Narrows Esso	6	16
Cunningham's	10	11	South End	0	10

The front-running Amvets extended their winning streak to seven games by walloping the Old Germans in a City Softball League tilt yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 16-1.

The victory enabled the Amvets to increase their lead over the runner-up Schute's Roofers to 1½ games. It was the 17th triumph in 21 starts for the league leaders.

Ingram went the route for the Amvets and shut out the opposition after yielding one run in the opening frame.

The Old Germans were charged with eight fielding miscues, seven coming during the fourth and fifth frames when the Amvets collected 10 runs.

Jim Fradiska, John Esposito and Dick Leo rapped three hits each to pace the Amvets' 17-hit assault. No Old German player obtained more than one bingle.

The score:

OLD GERMANS	100	000	0—1	5	8
AMVETS	500	461	x—16	17	4

Scott, Cook (6) and Birmingham. Ingram and Esposito.

Firemen Beat Lions In Mt. Savage Loop

MT. SAVAGE, July 22 — The Firemen tied the Lions for first place in the Mt. Savage Little League by defeating the latter today by the score of 4-2. The deadlocked leaders own 6-2 records.

The Lions outhit the winners, 9 to 6.

Lepley, Fiermen's catcher, clouted a home run. Score:

LIONS	1	1	0	0	0	0	0—2	9	1
FIREMEN	2	0	2	0	0	x	—4	6	2

Porky Oliver Earns Medal In PGA Tourney With 136

Sam Snead Squeaks In With 146; "Vic" Ghezzi And Lew Worsham Fail

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22 (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, the portly, sharp-putting jester from Lemont, Ill., reluctantly won the low qualifying medal in the Professional Golfers Association Tournament today with a 36-hole score of 136, six under par.

"I don't want it—somebody take it quick," the 220-pound funster said after bracketing a one-under-par 70 to his opening 66 over the par 71 Keller Club course.

"They can have the low medal and the $250 that goes with it. This thing is a jinx. I'd rather sleep tonight."

Oliver barely beat out Jackie Burke Jr., and Cary Middlecoff, a pair of playing partners from Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., for the prize. Burke shot a 69 and Middlecoff a 68 to wind up in a tie at 137.

Sam's Putting Is Bad

The red-hot gallery favorite, stiff-necked Sam Snead, squeaked into the championship bracket with a second straight 73 for 146—one stroke below the 147 cutoff point. Sam's putting was wretched.

U. S. Open champion Ed Furgol qualified comfortably at 140 after shooting a steady 71 and the defending PGA titleholder, Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., showed the boys he was still around by firing a four-under-par 67 for 111. Burkemo was exempt from qualifying.

The 67 was matched by Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., Burkemo's own choice as the "man to beat," for the best individual cards of the day.

Burkemo heads a field of 64 survivors who begin head-to-head match play battling tomorrow at 8 a.m. Two 18-hole rounds are on the first day's program, followed by 36-hole matches daily until Tuesday's final.

Players with 147 and better qualified. The bracket came out even with no playoff necessary.

Lew Worsham Fails

Those failing to make the grade included two former champions, Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, 1950 winner, who had 148, and Vic Ghezzi of Inwood, N.Y., 1941 winner, who shot 150. Also missing out were Felice Torza of St. Charles, Ill., last year's runnerup, at 154, and Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., former National Open champion at 149.

Braves Top Cards, 10-2, In Frostburg Circuit

FROSTBURG, July 22 — The Braves took the Cardinals into camp today in a Hot Stove League game by the score of 10-2.

Jim Skidmore was the Braves' heavy hitter with a triple and two-bagger. Eddie Drew slammed a three-bagger and Stephen rapped a pair of singles to spark the Cardinals.

The Cubs will play the Cardinals on Monday.

A practice session of the Hot Stove League All-Stars is set for Beall High Field Friday at 1 p. m. instead of 6 p. m. Today's score:

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK —(INS)— The successful test of Boeing's prototype of America's first jet airliner, and the continued grounding of Britain's Comet, would seem to indicate that this country has now overcome the lead which the British held in the jet world for ten years.

It will not be a clear-cut leadership until more of Boeing's 707s are in the air. Indeed Capital Airlines has placed an order for a fleet of British prop-jet airliners to replace the Connies, DC-4s and DC-3s now used. They are faster than conventional propellor driven planes and thus, though more expensive to operate, can give more service.

But the race against the Comet, a pure jet, apparently has been won. Boeing's 4-jet 707 is twice as powerful as the Comet I, cruises 60 mph faster (550 mph) has a much longer range and can carry up to 130 passengers as compared to the Comet I's 38.

Looks as if we're ahead in the military field, too, now that the RAF has grounded its scimitar-wing bomber and one of the two interceptors on which it heavily banked.

Boeing put the engines of the 707 in pods extending down (and out in front) of the thin, sweptback wing. The British put their jet engines inside the wing. If something flies loose in a 707 jet it will snip off a bit of the outthrust engine covering. If something flies loose in a Comet engine there is some likelihood that the wing will go, though I must say I never had a better or smoother ride in the air than in a Comet.

The Boeing method, first introduced in the B-47 and continued in the B-52, has another advantage. Service crews don't have to "skin" a wing to work on the engines.

Incidentally, Boeing engineers were treated with royal cooperation when they toured the British jet industry last year. But when a prominent British jet authority returned the visit, on invitation, the Pentagon instructed Boeing, "Show him nothing."

Just think, there isn't any organized war going on in the world! The close-down of the conflict in Indochina, after shooting that began in December, 1946, gave the battered and bruised old earth its first respite in the lifetime of millions of its growing inhabitants.

Gives one an almost uneasy feeling, not to have a war going on. From 1931 until Tuesday night the big guns were never really silent.

The winner of the last one? The Reds, all the way.

Maybe the tools of war are getting too impressive. To wit: (from "Air Force," the magazine of American airpower) "An F-86 Sabrejet will soon be able to carry the equivalent of 500,000 tons of TNT beneath its wing. The megaton fighter, carrying the equal of a million tons of TNT, is now becoming a distinct possibility. Even a baby H-bomb can be expected."

Branch Rickey, applauded here recently as the man who made possible the presence of Willie Mays and other Negro stars in big league baseball, writes:

"I wish you to know that I am deeply appreciative of your kindly references to me. Really, the employment of a Negro—a U. S. citizen—in a job for which he was best qualified to make a living, deserves no recognition of comment ever, from anybody.

"Nevertheless, in my vanity I suppose comes a feeling of thanks for your article. Sincerely Branch Rickey."

Cleveland And New York Yankees Win Doubleheaders

Feller, Lemon Chalk Up Wins Over Red Sox

Tribe's 6-3 And 5-2 Wins Produce 13-1 Margin Over Boston

BOSTON, July 22 (AP)—The league-leading Cleveland Indians combined longball hitting with tight pitching performances by veterans Bob Feller and Bob Lemon today to sweep a doubleheader from Boston 6-3 and 5-2 in Fenway Park.

Lemon, now 10-5, held the Red Sox hitless until his pitching rival Skinny Brown bounced a one-out single over the head of third baseman Al Smith in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Lemon got rattled and yielded a hit to Billy Consolo and uncorked a wild pitch, but then settled down until the ninth. Ted Williams led off that inning with a single and rookie Harry Agganis homered but that ended Boston's scoring.

The twin triumphs gave Cleveland a 13-1 margin against the Red Sox this season. The Indians have won seven of their last eight in the tight American League pennant scramble.

The Red Sox and Indians battled to a 16-inning 5-5 tie Tuesday night and played to a 7-7 standoff yesterday in a game halted after eight innings because of rain.

Feller, now 8-1, scored his seventh consecutive victory in the opener on a seven-hitter as Vic Wertz knocked in four runs with his second and third round trippers of the season.

Wertz hit both of his homers off starter and loser Frank Sullivan.

Jackson Clouts Two Homers For Chicago

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs scored 11 runs, seven of them unearned, in the seventh and eighth innings to defeat the first place New York Giants 13-5 before a ladies' day turnout of 29,136 today.

The victory, the Chicagoans' seventh in the last 10 games, earned the seventh placers a 1-1 series standoff.

The game was marred by seven errors, five charged to the Cubs.

The loss shaved New York's lead to six games over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who defeated Cincinnati.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh with one run. Then the Cub blast got underway in the eighth.

Runnels Is Spiked

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Pete Runnels, the Washington Senators' regular shortstop, will be out of the lineup for "three or four days" as a result of spike wounds.

Runnels got badly gashed in last night's game with the Baltimore Orioles when he was spiked by a Baltimore runner tearing into second base. He was taken to a hospital, where seven stitches were required to close the cut on his leg.

Sain And Byrd Post 4-3, 11-1 Wins Over Sox

Mantle's 20th Homer Wins First In Tenth; Champs Slug Pierce

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Mickey Mantle starred at bat and Johnny Sain and Harry Byrd performed brilliantly on the mound as the New York Yankees swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox today 4-3 and 11-1.

The twin victories enabled the Yankees to stay within a half game of the Cleveland Indians who also swept a doubleheader.

Mantle collected four hits, including his 20th home run of the season, and drove in two runs in each game to tie Chicago's Minnie Minoso with 74 RBIs. His single in the eighth inning of the opener tied the score at 3-3 and his homer in the 10th broke up the game.

Sain, making his 31st relief appearance in the ninth inning of the first game, retired six straight batters to register his fifth victory of the season against two losses. The Yankees have won the last 15 games in which Sain has appeared.

Billy Pierce started the second game for Chicago and Manager Paul Richards allowed him to go all the way despite 11 runs and 12 Yankee hits that included home runs by Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron. Berra also homered in the first game.

Milwaukee Edges Philadelphia, 3-2

MILWAUKEE, July 22 (AP)—Eddie Mathews blasted a two-run 425-foot homer, his 23rd of the year, high into the rightfield bleachers in the first inning today to give the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 win over Philadelphia.

Mathews, whose fourth inning error cost both Philadelphia runs, started a ninth inning double play which ended the game after the Phillies had filled the bases and gave Lew Burdette his eighth victory against 11 losses. The defeat was charged to Murry Dickson.

The Braves got their other run in the sixth when Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock cracked back-to-back doubles after two were out. Danny O'Connell, who had walked, was on first when Mathews clouted his home run.

Detroit Wins, 9-4

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (AP)—A pair of two-run homers by Jim Delsing and Harvey Kuenn and bases-empty round trippers by Wayne Belardi and Frank Bolling overpowered the Philadelphia Athletics as the Detroit Tigers took a 9-4 decision before a sparse crowd of 1,675 tonight.

Name Jim Thorpe

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — On Sept. 1 the post office at Mauch Chunk, Pa., will officially become Jim Thorpe, Pa., in honor of the great Indian athlete.

Thorpe, one of the most celebrated of all football players, also starred in baseball and in track and field events. Thorpe died about a year ago from cancer and was buried in the small Pennsylvania coal mining town that is to bear his name.

Post office officials said the name change had been requested by residents of the town which had a 1950 population of 2,959.

Scoring six runs in the top of the fifth inning, the Cumberland Outdoor Club came from behind to defeat the Loyal Order of Moose in a Rocking Chair Softball League game yesterday at Allegany Field by the score of 8-5.

The win enabled the O.D.C. to increase its first place lead to 1½ games over the Moose.

Only two hits were made by the Outdoor Club in the big sixth when Jim Roby issued five bases on balls and forced four runs over the platter on free passes.

Manager Cecil Grimes socked a homer and single and Vern Penner and Sam Brady banged two-baggers for the O.D.C. Angellatta had three hits while "Pete" Elliott and Fred Comer smacked a double and single each for the losers.

Ted Durbin turned in the best fielding play when he picked Fred Comer off first base with a perfect throw from centerfield after the latter had singled.

Charley Day of the O.D.C. became the first league pitcher to post his tenth win of the season.

Allan Sheetz registered a two-hit pitching performance as the Eagles trimmed the B.P.O. Elks at Stitcher Field by the score of 6-0 and moved into third place.

A single by Gaffney and a double by Roeder were the only hits credited to the Elks. The win was Sheetz's eighth against two setbacks.

Old Export

...is always brewed a little at a time many times a day!

WHY? Simply this: Anything you eat or drink tastes best when it's prepared a little at a time. (Can you think of a single exception to that fact?)

It's particularly true about beer.

The brewing of a great beer is an art . . . not a mass production process.

That's why Old Export is always brewed in s-m-a-l-l quantities. You could almost call Old Export a hand-made beer . . . so much patience and quiet pride go into its brewing.

That's why you get that Unchanging Good Taste every time you open a bottle of Old Export.

Students Urged To Register Early

FROSTBURG — Miss Lillian C. Compton, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, suggests that all students who plan to enroll at the college should not wait until the formal registration period in the fall to enroll, but should do so on any week day this summer between the hours of 9 a. m. 4:30 p. m.

Lowndes Hall, located on Maple Street between College Avenue and Park Avenue, houses the administrative offices. The president, dean, registrar, finance officer and secretaries are in their offices Monday through Friday and may be seen personally, with or without appointment, or contacted by telephone.

Freshmen and new students enrolling now will save themselves considerable time, since their high school records and recommendations must be obtained and evaluated before they are admitted to the College.

Card Club To Plan Annual Picnic

MT. SAVAGE — The Sunshine Card Club met at the home of Mrs. Ada King on Mt. Savage Road Tuesday. Cards were played and awards went to Miss Gladys Adams, Mrs. Freda McKenzie and Mrs. Isabel Adams. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Carter, Railroad Street on August 5 at which time plans will be completed for the annual picnic at Constitution Park on August 10.

Keyser Rotary Hears Talk On Modern Banking

KEYSER—F. C. Boor, cashier of Farmer's and Merchants Bank, Keyser, gave a classification talk on banking and bankers at the Rotary luncheon Thursday in Odd Fellows Temple.

Mr. Boor, who began his banking career in 1921 with the First National Bank, Cumberland, passed through various departments in his banking career until he came here in 1953 as cashier. He defined operations of banking today as an advanced operation of modern times.

Prior to his talk, two new members were received and introduced by President Edgell Grayson. They are Harry O. Rogers, local postmaster, and William Gortner, automotive dealer.

Visiting Rotarians were Allen Rotruck, Huntington, formerly of Keyser, and Leslie Stewart, Havana, Ill.

Old Residence Being Razed For Car Lot

MOOREFIELD — A portion of the old M. A. Bean home on Main Street next to the Bean Motor Company is being torn down to make room for a used car sales lot. The section of the residence was built by M. A. Bean as an addition to the old Sherrard property A fire which partially destroyed the property over 20 years ago was the prime reason for the formation of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company.

A large sign will be erected over that Main Street portion of the new used car lot.

Pie Social Tonight

FROSTBURG — The Womens Work Group of the Frostburg Church of The Brethren will hold a pie social commencing at 6:30 o'clock this evening in the social hall of the church, corner of Beall and Steyer Street.

Home From Vacation

WESTERNPORT—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whelan and family, and Mrs. Anna Robertson, have returned from vacationing at Virginia Beach.

Moorefield Moves GOC Headquarters

MOOREFIELD — The Moorefield Post of the Ground Observers Corps has moved headquarters from the Municipal Airport to the high school grounds. The Board of Education donated an old tool shed and a spot on the north end of the school grounds for the project. A telephone will be installed as soon as a contract can be returned from the Pittsburgh Filter Center.

The move was made to enable the ladies to stand watches as it was not too desirable for them to be alone during the after midnight vigils. Also the new location will enable watch standers to walk within town to the new location. It was impractical for those without cars to get to the airport.

Return Home

WESTERNPORT -Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dayton, Wood Street, returned from visiting in Baltimore and Washington. They were accompanied home by two of their daughters, Mrs. Vivian Walsh and Miss Dessie Dayton of Washington.

Announce Birth

LONACONING — Mr. and Mrs. John Bradburn announced the birth of a son on Wednesday, July 21, at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. Mrs. Bradburn is the former Evelyn Rowan.

Winners Named

MT. SAVAGE — The cheerful Card Club met at the home of Miss Nellie Tansey. Prize winners were Mrs. Bertha Farrell, Mrs. Adelaide Logsdon, and Miss Martha Reagan. Next hostess will be Mrs. Bertha Farrell at her home in Locust Avenue, August 10.

Keyser Church Sponsors Annual Picnic Sunday

KEYSER — The annual picnic of the Keyser Church of the Brethren will be held Sunday at Pleasant Valley. Members of the congregation and friends are invited for the day's outing and program.

The morning church service will be held on the picnic grounds, and there will not be any service at the church. All members are to meet at the church at 9 a. m., to leave for Pleasant Valley. Transportation will be provided for those who do not have a way to go.

The program for the day at the picnic grounds follows:

Leave the church, rain or shine, at 9 a. m. Worship at 10:30 a. m., on the grounds, conducted by Church of the Brethren Youth Fellowship, followed by Sunday School from 11 to 11:45 a. m.

Picnic food will be placed on the tables and served cafeteria style at 12:30 p. m.

During the afternoon there will be opportunity for fellowship and recreation.

Terrier Survives

By this time the dog was dead, Metz deduced, and therefore gave up the hunt.

On Monday Ben Hyde of Moscow was hunting groundhogs when he heard a dog whining in the ground.

Hyde had a pick and promptly dug the canine out. He recognized the dog and notified Metz who took him food and water.

Metz said Tippy was very thin and weak after being underground for ten days, but after receiving sustenance he seemed little different than when he crawled into his predicament.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 22 (INS) — An important Hollywood deal is bringing Elliot Roosevelt back from his Meeker (Colorado) ranch.

With his friend, Robert H. Nolan, Elliot is due for confabs with the William Morris Office about the screen rights to the story co-authored by Roosevelt and Nolan, "I've Just Begun to Fight."

The material was developed from many portfolios of notes made by the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt on the subject of his life-time hero, John Paul Jones.

The Morris Office notified Elliot that two major studios are bidding for the yarn.

Hedy Lamarr is on her way to Paris after postponing the trip long enough to attend the funeral in Texas of Howard Lee's brother, who died suddenly leaving his widow and three small children.

The beautiful Lamarr has contacted her Hollywood agent with the go sign about new screen jobs and she said she would prefer working for an American company shooting in Europe.

There's no particular time set for Hedy's return to "home" and husband in Houston; nor has Lee any plans to follow her to Europe. You can take it from there.

Considering his past bad luck being married to career girls, I asked Mickey Rooney if he weren't worried now that Elaine Davis has decided to go all out for a movie career.

"Naw," said the Mick, "this kid has a level head on her shoulders. Wait 'til you see her in 'The Atomic Kid.' I'm real proud of her."

He went on, "Say, Russell Rouse and Clarence Greence have made her an offer for a movie they're going to make. Don't know the name of it." That makes two of us.

Mary Martin has San Francisco in the palm of her hand. Just wowed 'em in "Peter Pan," which is hardly a surprise. Many of her devoted Hollywood friends made special trips north to catch her opening night, or one later.

Among them were Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer, getting a lot of attention when they dined at Ernie's Restaurant before going on to see Mary.

Now that their baby is so much better, Shirley Temple and Charles Black took a holiday in S. F. and Charles Laughton and Paul Gregory are also thereabouts looking over the San Francisco company of "Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Hollywood in shorts:

The Jimmy Ritzes have happy news. They're expecting in February.

June Haver's ex, Jimmy Zito, will be in Ted Fio Rito's band at the Flamingo.

Now that her divorce from Bill Cagney is filled Nadine will take off for New York with their 11-months-old daughter.

Warners sneaked "Battle Cry" at Huntington Park and reports are it's a great picture but some cuts must be made on some of the raciest dialogue yet spoken on the screen.

Lois Andrews (Mrs. Leonard Kleckner) has lost her expected baby and is very blue about it.

His friends are delighted to know that after a six months confinement in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Leo Spitz is well enough for a trip to Europe with his wife, Frankie.

How about that fine actress Ollie Carey (widow of Harry) for the character woman's role in "Night of the Hunter." Bob Mitchum wants Ollie.

That's all.

Woman's CTP To Be Host To Keyser Group

The Keyser Women's Cooperative Traffic Program has been invited to participate in a joint meeting with the Cumberland CTP August 20. It will be held at the VFW home. Mrs. Chloe Reynolds will be in charge of arrangements. Her committee consists of Mrs. Anna Morin, Mrs. Helen Stallings and Mrs. Hilda Ryne.

Plans were discussed at the annual picnic of the group, earlier in the week at Constitution Park. Mrs. E. S. Leasure presided at the short business session. It was announced that the bowling league will go to Tolchester Beach August 17. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Arthur Fisher.

Games featured the entertainment and a picnic supper was served.

Mrs. Ida Evans of the Connellsville, Pa., CTP, was a guest. Thirty-five members attended. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Mrs. Leasure, chairman, Mrs. Lillian Britt, Mrs. Margery Ziler, Mrs. Anna Morin, Mrs. Barbara Sarver and Mrs. Nedra Nixon.

Arctic Health Research Center Probing Ailments Peculiar To People Of Far North

An Eskimo family, wearing summer parkas of seal stomach lining, come ashore in their kyak.

By RICHARD S. BLOCH
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

GO NORTH, young man, not west—go north to Alaska, one of our last remaining frontiers. Here, in this land of the midnight sun you will find untapped reservoirs of strategic materials, minerals and vegetation.

Here, you will also find the Arctic Health Research center which works round-the-clock to make this country a healthier place in which to live.

The center, a unit of the United States Public Health service, is situated at Anchorage, the largest city in the territory. In modern, well-equipped laboratories, the researchers are finding the answers to some puzzling problems of the far north.

• • •

MOST of the known diseases in the United States are found in Alaska but in these low temperature areas they often act in peculiar ways. For example, in the territory's only orthopedic hospital near Sitka, there are more cases of bone tuberculosis under one roof than in any other spot in the entire North American continent.

Phlyctenulosis, the most common eye diseases in Alaska causes much more severe damage than is customarily seen in the States where the disease is relatively uncommon. A particular outbreak of poliomyelitis in the Canadian Arctic resulted in 14 deaths and 37 cases of paralysis among 200 unhabitants of a single village.

Village natives are especially fearful when communicable disease strikes for they know that in this part of the world it sometimes spreads like wildfire.

DEATH rates from influenza, measles, whooping cough and diphtheria are many times those in the United States. Health officials observe that this might be due, in part, to the isolation of many of the villages, permitting an unusually high percentage of individuals susceptible to a given disease.

Most folk think of Alaska as an area of wide open spaces with unlimited room for spacious living quarters. This is true, but oddly enough, researchers at the center have found health problems usually associated with overcrowded conditions.

It is not uncommon for an Eskimo family of 12 to be living in a one-room hut to conserve heat. High cost of housing also contributes to this problem for white settlers.

Arctic dogs, black bears, picas and other native animals find it easy to adapt themselves to the long, dark, cold winters and the summers of almost total daylight. Man does not have quite the same adaptive powers.

• • •

TODAY, the Arctic Health Research center is studying this problem of adjustment by observing these creatures which, for the most part, are kept in cakes outside the laboratories where they are exposed to the weather conditions.

Surveys of representative Alaskan villages have shown that the inhabitants use native products for almost two-thirds of their food while the remainder is imported.

Small groups of persons on the Arctic coast have a diet consisting largely of sea mammals. The Anaktuvuk Eskimos living in the Brooks Range country exist on caribou.

A newcomer to Alaska might naturally wonder what types of food he should eat. Today the answers to this question are being sought by scientists at the Arctic Health Research center.

Mt. Savage News Briefs

The surplus food supply for Mt. Savage will be distributed Tuesday, July 27 at Mt. Savage Fire Hall.

Authur Hice, Philadelphia, musician, visited his mother Mrs. Margaret Hice over the weekend before leaving for Europe by plane where he expects to visit a number of foreign countries and also visit his nephew Sgt. Authur Hice, stationed with the army in Germany.

Westernport Gets Request To Extend Town's Limits

Stoney Run Road Area Wants In Corporation

WESTERNPORT—A communication signed by John B. Travis, Cora E. Travis, John P. Travis and Harold Alton Travis who live outside the corporation on Stoney Run Road asking the town to consider taking them into the corporation was read by Joseph Sullivan, acting clerk, at the regular meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michael and Town Commissioners Wednesday evening.

The letter stated in part, "Asking to be considered in the new plans which you have for further development of Westernport. While in the planning state would appreciate if you would consider including our property within the corporate limits with the conveniences of city water.

"We are ready to accept our responsibilities that this privilege would bring, as you know there is a main line about 500 yards from our property at Charles Riley's house."

It also stated of being aware that water supply and sewage system must be greatly expanded in the general vicinity when the new high school is completed. "Any reasonable assessment necessary for the extension of the city water supply to our property would have our immediate attention and several of our neighbors have expressed their desire for city water," the letter continued.

"We are ready and willing to accept our city responsibilities if we can be included in the Town of Westernport."

These people live on the Stoney Run Road east of the town and there are about 10 houses in that vicinity, officials said.

Council ordered that the request be investigated.

Mayor Michael stated that he had written to 19 towns in the state approximately the same size as Westernport and with about the same income, asking them about salaries they paid their various employes to ascertain how Westernport compared with them. A few replies have already been received.

Ray L. Lilt, fire and police commissioner recommended that a new car be purchased to be used in police work.

It was ordered that sealed bids for a 1954 Plymouth tudor car be received in city clerk's office by Wednesday, August 4.

The possibility of placing a stop sign at the intersection of Waverly and Wood Street was referred to the police commissioner.

Commissioner Carl McMillen reported that work of placing a gas converter in the furnace of the city building and a new roof being placed on the city building will cost approximately $1,000.

McMillen was authorized to have a carpenter fix all window sills of the city building before painting.

Plan Carnival

MT. SAVAGE — The Volunteer Fire Company of Mt. Savage will sponsor a carnival next week in Mullaney's Field below the fire hall. Games of all kinds and a parade will be held Saturday July 31. The proceeds will go to the new fire truck fund.

Lonaconing Firemen To Hold Parade

LONACONING — The firemen's parade will form at 7 p.m. at East End and march at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, August 5, over Main Street, Union Street, Jackson Street, Hanekamp Street to Allegany Street, Front Street to Jackson Street and return to Main Street where the Good Will Volunteer Firemen's street celebration will be held for the remainder of the evening.

Jack Eichhorn, president, is receiving many replies from fire companies and tri-state marching organizations indicating their participation.

At the fire company meeting held Wednesday evening in the Firemen's Armory, plans were furthered for the three-day street carnival which will be held at the Main Street-Douglas Avenue intersection on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 5, 6 and 7.

Lonaconing firemen will parade at Midland's firemen's celebration on Thursday, July 29.

Hardy County Telephone Company Hears REA Expansion Proposal

MOOREFIELD — The board of directors of the Hardy County Telephone Company heard L. E. Wooten, Jr., consulting engineer for the telephone cooperative present a pre-loan engineering cost study for the proposed REA financed county wide telephone service, at a meeting held this week.

Also attending the conference were H. Kroger, REA loans field representative and F. Gilig, field engineer for the REA. As a result of the discussion on the engineering study the board of directors passed a resolution to include the Fisher, Rig and Kessel section of the county in the area to be served. The addition of that particular area will result in a lower overall cost per station for the project. A few minor engineering details will be worked out before submission to the Washington office of the REA.

The board also passed a resolution approving the pole attachment permit submitted to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Within a short time the technical details will be resolved sufficiently to prepare the data for the loan documents, the recommended rate structure and other details required to execute the loan approval Commission.

Members of the board which met last week in Senator Ralph J. Bean's office were H. Gus Muntzing, Sloan Parsons, Robert L. Baker, Virgil Ours, Vance Mathias, and Attorney Bean.

Hospitalized

KEYSER—Mrs. J. W. Letspiech, 279 South Main Street, is a patient at Potomac Valley Hospital. She has been ill for several days. Her condition is reported improved.

Bergen Without Charlie

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" is as perfect a bit of reverie as America has ever produced, and I daresay it will never get very far from the TV cameras. The Mark Twain classic has been made into a motion picture three times—in 1921, 1931 and 1949—and has been a musical on Broadway in 1927 and 1943.

It has been a television drama at least twice and maybe more, the last being a Kraft production on ABC-TV with Edgar Bergen making one of his rare appearances without Charlie McCarthy as the Connecticut Yankee. Besides parting with Charlie for awhile—an excellent idea—this was quite a departure in another way for Bergen who has been monkeying around with the championing filmed television for years.

This was live television and Bergen romped through his hour-long straight role with great ease and assurance as if he were having the time of his life, as I suspect he was. In moments of stress, he sounded an awful lot like Charlie rather than himself, which didn't hurt a bit. He was surrounded by an expert cast which included Jack Livesey as King Arthur, Joey Walsh as Clarence and Victor Jory as Merlin.

The original novel along with its surefire fantasy contains a good deal of social satire, some of it, as in the case of a lot of Twain's books, pretty bitter. The dramatic adaptor always has the choice of leaving in the bitterness which tends to sour the comedy or play it strictly for laughs. George Roy Hill, who adapted the Kraft version, took the second choice and made the whole thing a medieval romp in the sunshine.

Of course, the Yankee does thrust democracy on the thoroughly astonished sixth-Century rabble, but the election campaign between Sir Launcelot and Sir Kay was just a device to poke a little fun at our political stuffed shirts and their queer habits. Incidentally, this bit went on much too long. There's an awful lot of grist in "The Connecticut Yankee" which had to be cut out and more of it could have been crowded in if the election had been shortened a bit.

"There were some awfully good scenes—King Arthur dozing on his throne while his knights tell tall and absolutely phoney stories about their exploits, Bergen causing a panic by lighting a cigar with his cigaret lighter, and the final scene—always a triumph of wish-fulfillment—when Bergen causes or appears to cause a total eclipse.

Altogether it was great fun and I hope they do it again, Bergen and all. This is not the first time that Bergen has appeared without Charlie. In 1948 he played a small part in the movie version of "I Remember Mama." It may get to be a habit.

The two-time winner—and perhaps three-time winner by now—on the Amateur Hours is a one-legged Navy veteran who tap dances. When he appeared for his last bit, he told Ted Mack, the proprietor of this enterprise, that he didn't want to win on sympathy, he wanted to win on talent alone. The he proceeded to do a little jig on crutches.

I don't know whether he won and haven't enough interest to find out. I do know, though, that if he won, it was on sympathy, not on talent. He hasn't any talent. How the devil can a one-legged man have any talent as a tap dancer?

This playing on our sympathies—"Strike It Rich" and "This Is Your Life" and all the rest of them—continues to be a maudlin and unnecessary as ever. But, for heaven's sake, let's not let any hypocrisy creep in. A one-legged piano player could conceivably be judged on talent. A one-legged tap dancer has no other purpose than to call attention to his affliction and Ted Mack must know it as well as the rest of us.

OMISSION INFORMATIVE

CARD-READING by alert players is based not only on what the opponents do, but on what they do not do. Sometimes an omission is as informative as a positive act. That is the case when you would expect a certain lead to be made by a smart cardsman unless he held a particular card or combination of cards. His failure to lead that suit may be the key to what he or his partner holds in it, and accordingly may serve as a direction post in plotting your own course.

North, known as a highly competitive man during both auction and play, kept quiet about his own two-ace strength in the hope that his opponents might become ambitious enough to overbid so he could double them. That's just the way he felt about their 4-Spades, which he doubled on the strength of his own aces and the fact that his partner had enough, without the heart A, to overcall at the two level.

South opened his heart Q, which the A won. The diamond A was laid down and, in view of South's high 10, the 6 was led to the K to give the defenders their three-trick "book." Hard put for a lead now, South selected the club 4, which East won with the 10.

Now came the crucial moment, as East pondered how to keep the trump K from scoring. Looking back, he decided that North's failure to return a trump at the second trick made it seem likely that defender held the K. But when South, after winning with the diamond K, did not lead a trump—instead preferring the hazardous club lead—the declarer concluded South held the missing trump honor and didn't wish to jeopardize it by leading from it. A further thought was that North probably would not have doubled if holding that card, which would give a clue to its location. His reflections telling him South must have the spade K, he determined that the only chance to kill it was to have it be a singleton. So he laid down the spade A, felled the K and went on to make his game, with great rejoicing at North's chagrin.

Thirty-One Tossers Report At Cleveland Tryout Camp Here

Tribe Scouts Are Enthused Over Turnout

O'Donnell, Shorten Report That Four Of Players "Real Good"

Thirty-one players participated in the initial workouts held yesterday under the direction of Scouts Harry O'Donnell and Charles H. "Chick" Shorten at the Cleveland Indians' tryout camp at Penn Avenue Field.

The final session of the two-day camp is scheduled to get under way at 10 o'clock this morning.

Scouts O'Donnell and Shorten said they were enthused over the turnout of youngsters on opening day and they said that four of the players looked "real good." The quartet comprised a pitcher, catcher, infielder and outfielder.

Shorten, who was an outfielder for Boston, Detroit and St. Louis in the American League and was a teammate of such stars as Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, and O'Donnell, who was understudy to Jimmy Wilson for two seasons when the latter caught for the Phillies, have been on the road since April conducting tryout camps in the east. After leaving here today they'll hold camps at Trenton, N. J. and Philipsburg, Pa. Mike McNally, one-time major league infielder, heads the Cleveland scouting system.

O'Donnell, who spent many years as a catcher with International League and American Association teams, scouted for Baltimore for seven years and was with the Athletics 15 years, leaving Philadelphia for Cleveland after Connie Mack stepped down as leader of the Athletics.

The Cleveland scouts are particularly interested in the Indians' farm clubs. They point out that in 1953, six of the eight Cleveland farm teams won pennants. This year five of the eight clubs are leading their leagues.

Shorten's home is in Scranton, Pa., while O'Donnell calls Philadelphia home.

Hot Stove Teams Halted By Curfew

At 10:30 curfew caught the Times-News and the Optimist Club knotted at 7-7 in a Hot Stove League Baseball League game last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Six innings of play had been completed when hostilities halted.

In the 6th, Page of the Optimists tripled but was thrown out at the plate when he tried to make a homer. Wilt relayed the ball to Shaffer who threw to Sheehe, cutting down Page at the platter. In the 4th frame, Ed Weaver, Optimists' centerfielder, threw out Sheehe at the plate when the latter attempted to score afer a fly ball to the outfield.

Johnny Cannon of the Times-News tied up the score at 7-7 by driving home two runs in the 5th with a single.

The unbeaten Senators extended their winning streak to 10 games in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League by nosing out the Athletics yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 6-5.

Jack Cranor, Senators' relief pitcher, who put down an Athletics' uprising in the final stanza, led his team at bat with a two-bagger and two singles in four trips. Boggs rapped a double and single and Clark smacked a two-bagger for the A's.

Ansel Shircliffe and Eddie Shoup rapped homers as the Indians took the Dodgers into camp at Stitcher Field, 9 to 3. Shircliffe's circuit belt came with one aboard. Mike Firlie had two hits for the winners and Third Baseman Eddie Gaus turned in several nice catches. Owens hit a round-tripper for the Dodgers. Scores:

Dodgers Defeat Cincinnati, 8-5

CINCINNATI, July 22 (AP) — Although he had to have help from Jim Hughes, Don Newcombe hurled his first pitching victory since June 23 today as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 8 to 5. Newcombe was aided by a lusty 13-hit attack which included home runs by Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese.

Newcombe, who now has a 6-5 record, also scored his last triumph against the Reds.

He was shelled out in the seventh, however, when the Redlegs used two hits, two walks and an error for a pair of runs.

The Dodger doubles included two by rookie Sandy Amoros, who has hit five doubles in the 11 safe blows he has rapped out for Brooklyn. The other two-baser was by Carl Furillo in the second inning and that was his sixth straight hit against Redleg pitching. The string ended in the fourth, however, when he popped to Roy McMillan.

Ted Kluszewski's 26th home run of the season scored Cincinnati's first two runs in the fourth after McMillan had walked.

Pirates, Red Sox And Phillies Win Dapper Contests

DAPPER DIVISION

	W.	L.		W.	L.
Pirates	8	1	Giants	3	6
Red Sox	8	2	Yankees	2	8
Phillies	7	3	Cardinals	1	9

Overcoming a nine-run lead in the late innings, the Pirates whipped the Yankees, 12-11, yesterday at Fort Hill Field and thereby retained the lead in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little Baseball League.

The score was 10-1 when the Pirates came to bat in the 4th. They scored ten runs in the 4th and fifth and after the Yankees knotted the count at 11-all in the top of the 6th the Buccos won out in their half. Stanley Alt's single scored Johnny Goss with the deciding run. Puffenburger and Alt shared six of the Pirates' 13 hits. Burke walloped a homer and bases full triple for the losers.

Denny Smith fanned 11 and Allan Stevenson got four hits in four trips as the Red Sox downed the Cardinals at Penn Avenue Field, 11 to 5. Wayne Shuck obtained two of the three hits yielded by Smith. "Turtle" Slonaker and George Cousins had two hits each for the winners.

Manager Howard Northcraft's Phillies outslugged the Giants at East Side Field, 13 to 9. John Stevens hit a round-tripper and three singles in four trips and Donald Nave, who posted his third pitching win of the season, smacked a two-run homer. Gary Henry, Paul Geatz and Jim Hammond had three hits each and the latter played a bangup game at short. Ben Broome paced the Giants with three hits while Leith, Green and Bittner had two each. Scores:

Schute's	16	6	Sports Shoppe	9	13
Old Germans	13	9	Narrows Esso	6	16
Cunningham's	10	11	South End	0	10

The front-running Amvets extended their winning streak to seven games by walloping the Old Germans in a City Softball League tilt yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 16-1.

The victory enabled the Amvets to increase their lead over the runner-up Schute's Roofers to 1½ games. It was the 17th triumph in 21 starts for the league leaders.

Ingram went the route for the Amvets and shut out the opposition after yielding one run in the opening frame.

The Old Germans were charged with eight fielding miscues, seven coming during the fourth and fifth frames when the Amvets collected 10 runs.

Jim Fradiska, John Esposito and Dick Leo rapped three hits each to pace the Amvets' 17-hit assault. No Old German player obtained more than one bingle.

The score:

OLD GERMANS .... 100 000 0— 1 6 8
AMVETS ..... 500 461 x—16 17 4
Scott, Cook (6) and Birmingham. Ingram and Esposito.

Firemen Beat Lions In Mt. Savage Loop

MT. SAVAGE, July 22 — The Firemen tied the Lions for first place in the Mt. Savage Little League by defeating the latter today by the score of 4-2. The deadlocked leaders own 6-2 records.

The Lions outhit the winners, 9 to 6.

Porky Oliver Earns Medal In PGA Tourney With 136

Sam Snead Squeaks In With 146; "Vic" Ghezzi And Lew Worsham Fail

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22 (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, the portly, sharp-putting jester from Lemont, Ill., reluctantly won the low qualifying medal in the Professional Golfers Association Tournament today with a 36-hole score of 136, six under par.

"I don't want it—somebody take it quick," the 220-pound funster said after bracketing a one-under-par 70 to his opening 66 over the par 71 Keller Club course.

"They can have the low medal and the $250 that goes with it. This thing is a jinx. I'd rather sleep tonight."

Oliver barely beat out Jackie Burke Jr., and Cary Middlecoff, a pair of playing partners from Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., for the prize. Burke shot a 69 and Middlecoff a 68 to wind up in a tie at 137.

Sam's Putting Is Bad

The red-hot gallery favorite, stiff-necked Sam Snead, squeaked into the championship bracket with a second straight 73 for 146—one stroke below the 147 cutoff point. Sam's putting was wretched.

U. S. Open champion Ed Furgol qualified comfortably at 140 after shooting a steady 71 and the defending PGA titleholder, Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., showed the boys he was still around by firing a four-under-par 67 for 111. Burkemo was exempt from qualifying.

The 67 was matched by Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., Burkemo's own choice as the "man to beat," for the best individual cards of the day.

Burkemo heads a field of 64 survivors who begin head-to-head match play battling tomorrow at 8 a.m. Two 18-hole rounds are on the first day's program, followed by 36-hole matches daily until Tuesday's final.

Players with 147 and better qualified. The bracket came out even with no playoff necessary.

Lew Worsham Fails

Those failing to make the grade included two former champions, Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, 1950 winner, who had 148, and Vic Ghezzi of Inwood, N.Y., 1941 winner, who shot 150. Also missing out were Felice Torza of St. Charles, Ill., last year's runnerup, at 154, and Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., former National Open champion at 149.

Patterson Creek Wiley Ford Score

Wiley Ford nosed out Fairview Inn, 9-8, and Patterson Creek defeated Johnson's Grocery, 9-7, in Mineral County Softball League games played yesterday at Fairview and Ridgeley.

Chaney and Howdersheldt, of Wiley Ford and Leo Day of Fort Ashby, hit triples in the game at Fairview.

Clay of Johnson's smacked a triple, double and single and Kenny collected two of Patterson Creek's six safeties. Scores:

AT FAIRVIEW:

WILEY FORD ..... 400 230 0—9 9 2

Braves Top Cards, 10-2, In Frostburg Circuit

FROSTBURG, July 22 — The Braves took the Cardinals into camp today in a Hot Stove League game by the score of 10-2.

Jim Skidmore was the Braves' heavy hitter with a triple and two-bagger. Eddie Drew slammed a three-bagger and Stephen rapped a pair of singles to spark the Cardinals.

The Cubs will play the Cardinals on Monday.

A practice session of the Hot Stove League All-Stars is set for Beall High Field Friday at 1 p. m. instead of 6 p. m. Today's score:

Cleveland And New York Yankees Win Doubleheaders

Feller, Lemon Chalk Up Wins Over Red Sox

Tribe's 6-3 And 5-2 Wins Produce 13-1 Margin Over Boston

BOSTON, July 22 (AP)—The league-leading Cleveland Indians combined longball hitting with tight pitching performances by veterans Bob Feller and Bob Lemon today to sweep a doubleheader from Boston 6-3 and 5-2 in Fenway Park.

Lemon, now 10-5, held the Red Sox hitless until his pitching rival Skinny Brown bounced a one-out single over the head of third baseman Al Smith in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Lemon got rattled and yielded a hit to Billy Consolo and uncorked a wild pitch, but then settled down until the ninth. Ted Williams led off that inning with a single and rookie Harry Agganis homered but that ended Boston's scoring.

The twin triumphs gave Cleveland a 13-1 margin against the Red Sox this season. The Indians have won seven of their last eight in the tight American League pennant scramble.

The Red Sox and Indians battled to a 16-inning 5-5 tie Tuesday night and played to a 7-7 standoff yesterday in a game halted after eight innings because of rain.

Feller, now 8-1, scored his seventh consecutive victory in the opener on a seven-hitter as Vic Wertz knocked in four runs with his second and third round trippers of the season.

Wertz hit both of his homers off starter and loser Frank Sullivan.

Jackson Clouts Two Homers For Chicago

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs scored 11 runs, seven of them unearned, in the seventh and eighth innings to defeat the first place New York Giants 13-5 before a ladies' day turnout of 29,136 today.

The victory, the Chicagoans' seventh in the last 10 games, earned the seventh placers a 1-1 series standoff.

The game was marred by seven errors, five charged to the Cubs.

Randy Jackson hit his 18th and 19th homers and Gene Baker blasted an inside-the-park round tripper for his 10th homer.

The loss shaved New York's lead to six games over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who defeated Cincinnati.

The Giants broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh with one run. Then the Cub blast got underway in the eighth.

Runnels Is Spiked

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Pete Runnels, the Washington Senators' regular shortstop, will be out of the lineup for "three or four days" as a result of spike wounds.

Runnels got badly gashed in last night's game with the Baltimore Orioles when he was spiked by a Baltimore runner tearing into second base. He was taken to a hospital, where seven stitches were required to close the cut on his leg.

Sain And Byrd Post 4-3, 11-1 Wins Over Sox

Mantle's 20th Homer Wins First In Tenth; Champs Slug Pierce

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Mickey Mantle starred at bat and Johnny Sain and Harry Byrd performed brilliantly on the mound as the New York Yankees swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox today 4-3 and 11-1.

The twin victories enabled the Yankees to stay within a half game of the Cleveland Indians who also swept a doubleheader.

Mantle collected four hits, including his 20th home run of the season, and drove in two runs in each game to tie Chicago's Minnie Minoso with 74 RBIs. His single in the eighth inning of the opener tied the score at 3-3 and his homer in the 10th broke up the game.

Sain, making his 31st relief appearance in the ninth inning of the first game, retired six straight batters to register his fifth victory of the season against two losses. The Yankees have won the last 15 games in which Sain has appeared.

Billy Pierce started the second game for Chicago and Manager Paul Richards allowed him to go all the way despite 11 runs and 12 Yankee hits that included home runs by Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron. Berra also homered in the first game.

Milwaukee Edges Philadelphia, 3-2

MILWAUKEE, July 22 (AP)—Eddie Mathews blasted a two-run 425-foot homer, his 23rd of the year, high into the rightfield bleachers in the first inning today to give the Milwaukee Braves a 3-2 win over Philadelphia.

Mathews, whose fourth inning error cost both Philadelphia runs, started a ninth inning double play which ended the game after the Phillies had filled the bases and gave Lew Burdette his eighth victory against 11 losses. The defeat was charged to Murry Dickson.

The Braves got their other run in the sixth when Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock cracked back-to-back doubles after two were out. Danny O'Connell, who had walked, was on first when Mathews clouted his home run.

Name Jim Thorpe

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — On Sept. 1 the post office at Mauch Chunk, Pa., will officially become Jim Thorpe, Pa., in honor of the great Indian athlete.

Thorpe, one of the most celebrated of all football players, also starred in baseball and in track and field events. Thorpe died about a year ago from cancer and was buried in the small Pennsylvania coal mining town that is to bear his name.

Post office officials said the name change had been requested by residents of the town which had a 1950 population of 2,959.

Scoring six runs in the top of the fifth inning, the Cumberland Outdoor Club came from behind to defeat the Loyal Order of Moose in a Rocking Chair Softball League game yesterday at Allegany Field by the score of 8-5.

The win enabled the O.D.C. to increase its first place lead to 1½ games over the Moose.

Only two hits were made by the Outdoor Club in the big sixth when Jim Roby issued five bases on balls and forced four runs over the platter on free passes.

Manager Cecil Grimes socked a homer and single and Vern Penner and Sam Brady banged two-baggers for the O.D.C. Angellatta had three hits while "Pete" Elliott and Fred Comer smacked a double and single each for the losers.

Ted Durbin turned in the best fielding play when he picked Fred Comer off first base with a perfect throw from centerfield after the latter had singled.

Charley Day of the O.D.C. became the first league pitcher to post his tenth win of the season.

Allan Sheetz registered a two-hit pitching performance as the Eagles trimmed the B.P.O. Elks at Stitcher Field by the score of 6-0 and moved into third place.

A single by Gaffney and a double by Roeder were the only hits credited to the Elks. The win was Sheetz's eighth against two setbacks.

Old Export
...is always brewed a little at a time
many times a day!
WHY? Simply this: Anything you eat or drink tastes best when it's prepared a little at a time. (Can you think of a single exception to that fact?)
It's particularly true about beer.
The brewing of a great beer is an art . . . not a mass production process.
That's why Old Export is always brewed in s-m-a-l-l quantities. You could almost call Old Export a hand-made beer . . . so much patience and quiet pride go into its brewing.
That's why you get that Unchanging Good Taste every time you open a bottle of Old Export.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids in triplicate will be received by the Board of Education at the Board office, 108 Washington Street, Cumberland, Maryland, until 2:00 p. m., E.D.S.T., Tuesday, August 17, 1954, for the construction of alterations and additions to the Johnson Heights Elementary School located on Memorial Avenue between Kent Avenue and Arundel Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Plans and specifications for this work may be obtained at the Board of Education office or at the office of the architects, Johannes and Murray, 855 Pershing Drive, Silver Spring, Maryland.

Contractors proposing to bid may receive the loan of plans and specifications (a maximum of three sets of documents per bidder), a deposit of $25.00 per set being required at time of issuance; additional sets may be purchased for the sum of $20.00 per set, said purchase sum not returnable. Not later than ten days after opening of bids, all document deposits will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders upon receipt of complete drawings and specifications in good condition. Documents must be returned to the architects within ten days after opening of bids or deposit will be forfeited by the bidder. Deposit will not be returnable to the successful bidder.

The Board of Education reserves the right to waive any informalities in or reject any or all bids.

Each bidder must deposit with his proposal security in an amount not less than five (5%) per cent of his bid in the form required by the Instructions to Bidders contained in the specifications.

Market Hits Another New High As Steel Prices Soar

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — The Stock Market banged out another new high today in a strong advance topped by soaring prices for steels.

Gains went to between 1 and 4 points in many cases, and they were fairly well distributed throughout the list.

Steels ran up rapidly when merger rumors spread through Wall Street. One of these involving Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube was started several days ago.

A Bethlehem spokesman said the company had no comment on the rumors. Meanwhile, two high officials of Youngstown were in New York but not talking.

Follansbee said that financial interests, not otherwise identified, had offered to buy assets of the company.

Bethlehem Steel up 1⅞ at 73⅞, Youngstown Sheet up 3½ at 54¼, Follansbee up 2¼ at 21¼, U. S. Steel up 2⅛ at 54½, Jones & Laughlin up ¾ at 25¾, and Republic Steel up 1⅛ at 61½, and Granite City Steel up 1⅛ at 16.

Higher with the steels were many railroads, oils, utilities, metals, motion pictures, radio-televisions, tobaccos, and a long list of miscellaneous issues.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 22 (INS) — An important Hollywood deal is bringing Elliot Roosevelt back from his Meeker (Colorado) ranch.

With his friend, Robert H. Nolan, Elliot is due for confabs with the William Morris Office about the screen rights to the story co-authored by Roosevelt and Nolan, "I've Just Begun to Fight."

The material was developed from many portfolios of notes made by the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt on the subject of his life-time hero, John Paul Jones.

The Morris Office notified Elliot that two major studios are bidding for the yarn.

Hedy Lamarr is on her way to Paris after postponing the trip long enough to attend the funeral in Texas of Howard Lee's brother, who died suddenly leaving his widow and three small children.

The beautiful Lamarr has contacted her Hollywood agent with the go sign about new screen jobs and she said she would prefer working for an American company shooting in Europe.

There's no particular time set for Hedy's return to "home" and husband in Houston; nor has Lee any plans to follow her to Europe. You can take it from there.

Considering his past bad luck being married to career girls, I asked Mickey Rooney if he weren't worried now that Elaine Davis has decided to go all out for a movie career.

"Naw," said the Mick, "this kid has a level head on her shoulders. Wait 'til you see her in 'The Atomic Kid.' I'm real proud of her."

He went on, "Say, Russell Rouse and Clarence Greence have made her an offer for a movie they're going to make. Don't know the name of it." That makes two of us.

Mary Martin has San Francisco in the palm of her hand. Just wowed 'em in "Peter Pan," which is hardly a surprise. Many of her devoted Hollywood friends made special trips north to catch her opening night, or one later.

Among them were Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer, getting a lot of attention when they dined at Ernie's Restaurant before going on to see Mary.

Now that their baby is so much better, Shirley Temple and Charles Black took a holiday in S. F. and Charles Laughton and Paul Gregory are also thereabouts looking over the San Francisco company of "Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Hollywood in shorts:

The Jimmy Ritzes have happy news. They're expecting in February.

June Haver's ex, Jimmy Zito, will be in Ted Fio Rito's band at the Flamingo.

Now that her divorce from Bill Cagney is filled Nadine will take off for New York with their 11-months-old daughter.

Warners sneaked "Battle Cry" at Huntington Park and reports are it's a great picture but some cuts must be made on some of the raciest dialogue yet spoken on the screen.

Lois Andrews (Mrs. Leonard Kleckner) has lost her expected baby and is very blue about it.

His friends are delighted to know that after a six months confinement in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Leo Spitz is well enough for a trip to Europe with his wife, Frankie.

How about that fine actress Ollie Carey (widow of Harry) for the character woman's role in "Night of the Hunter." Bob Mitchum wants Ollie.

That's all.

Arctic Health Research Center Probing Ailments Peculiar To People Of Far North

An Eskimo family, wearing summer parkas of seal stomach lining, come ashore in their kyak.

By RICHARD S. BLOCH
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

GO NORTH, young man, not west—go north to Alaska, one of our last remaining frontiers. Here, in this land of the midnight sun you will find untapped reservoirs of strategic materials, minerals and vegetation.

Here, you will also find the Arctic Health Research center which works round-the-clock to make this country a healthier place in which to live.

The center, a unit of the United States Public Health service, is situated at Anchorage, the largest city in the territory. In modern, well-equipped laboratories, the researchers are finding the answers to some puzzling problems of the far north.

MOST of the known diseases in the United States are found in Alaska but in these low temperature areas they often act in peculiar ways. For example, in the territory's only orthopedic hospital near Sitka, there are more cases of bone tuberculosis under one roof than in any other spot in the entire North American continent.

Phlyctenulosis, the most common eye diseases in Alaska causes much more severe damage than is customarily seen in the States where the disease is relatively uncommon. A particular outbreak of poliomyelitis in the Canadian Arctic resulted in 14 deaths and 37 cases of paralysis among 200 unhabitants of a single village.

DEATH rates from influenza, measles, whooping cough and diphtheria are many times those in the United States. Health officials observe that this might be due, in part, to the isolation of many of the villages, permitting an unusually high percentage of individuals susceptible to a given disease.

Most folk think of Alaska as an area of wide open spaces with unlimited room for spacious living quarters. This is true, but oddly enough, researchers at the center have found health problems usually associated with overcrowded conditions.

It is not uncommon for an Eskimo family of 12 to be living in a one-room hut to conserve heat. High cost of housing also contributes to this problem for white settlers.

Arctic dogs, black bears, picas and other native animals find it easy to adapt themselves to the long, dark, cold winters and the summers of almost total daylight. Man does not have quite the same adaptive powers.

• • •

TODAY, the Arctic Health Research center is studying this problem of adjustment by observing these creatures which, for the most part, are kept in cakes outside the laboratories where they are exposed to the weather conditions.

Surveys of representative Alaskan villages have shown that the inhabitants use native products for almost two-thirds of their food while the remainder is imported.

Small groups of persons on the Arctic coast have a diet consisting largely of sea mammals. The Anaktuvuk Eskimos living in the Brooks Range country exist on caribou.

A newcomer to Alaska might naturally wonder what types of food he should eat. Today the answers to this question are being sought by scientists at the Arctic Health Research center.

Utility Costs Set Under $200,000

Crosstown Changes Are Estimated

The total cost of relocating public utilities and related city responsibilities in connection with the proposed crosstown expressway program will be less than $200,000, according to estimates prepared by the utilities involved and the City Engineering Department.

The figure does not include the cost of lighting the expressways.

City officials said the Potomac Edison Company is still working on the lighting plan but has informed the city it will be asked to pay a monthly charge for service, the same as is used for all other street lights in the city.

Estimates Presented

The total cost of the city responsibilities, other than the $490,000 to match federal-aid funds, is $198,180, according to the city and utility estimates.

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission which is opposed to the plan had estimated the actual cost to the city at $2,770,000, and that moving utilities alone would cost $500,000 — but that double that amount would be a more accurate figure.

These estimates included $150,000 for traffic signals and $200,000 for lighting and maintaining lights on the bridges and approaches.

City — Relocation of water lines, $60,000; relocation of sewer lines, $15,000; traffic signals needed on the route, $12,000; curbs and sidewalks, $5,000, and widening curbs on Henderson Avenue, $3,000.

Relocation by utility firms on the east-west route were estimated by the C&P Telephone Company as $6,000; Potomac Edison Company, $125,000 and the C&A Gas Company, $6,600.

For the industrial boulevard route linking the crosstown birdge with Route 51, the city has estimated that relocating water lines will cost $1,500, sewer lines, $5,000, traffic signals, $6,000 and curbs and sidewalks, $5,000.

Utility estimates include $10,000 by the C & P Telephone Company, $35,000 by Potomac Edison Company and $3,800 by the C&A Gas Company.

May Reduce Cost

Informed city officials pointed out that negotiations with the utilities will probably reduce the cost to the city.

The official said, "we asked the companies to estimate the most of moving the utility lines and they gave them to us." He added that several of the firms indicated willingness to negotiate.

It was pointed out that the Potomac Edison Company, as requested, presented its estimates of the cost of moving power poles and lines.

But city officials said the company has never presented bills to the city for moving utility lines, and is not going to make a charge for moving its equipment on Frederick Street.

W.Va. Deaf Schools May Be Merged

Negroes May Go To Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 22 (AP)—Superintendents of the state's white and Negro schools for the deaf and blind recommended today that their institutions be consolidated at Romney.

Hugo F. Schunhoff and Edward A. Bolling, heads of the white and Negro schools, respectively, offered that proposal in a joint report to the State Board of Education, which wound up a two-day meeting here.

The suggestion came in the wake of earlier board action which eliminated racial segregation at the nine colleges under its jurisdiction. That step followed a U. S. Supreme Court decision holding such segregation unconstitutional.

The white schools for the deaf and blind now are located at Romney. The Negro schools are at Institute in Kanawha County. The board merely received today's report without discussing any future action.

Bolling, who has been superintendent of the Negro schools for deaf and blind for 18 years, said he thought it was probable that present buildings and facilities there eventually would be absorbed by West Virginia State College.

Two Youths Admit Thefts

Two teen-age youths, picked up by Cumberland City Police, have admitted participation in the theft of a cash box from the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, and $27 from a purse belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, 708 North Mechanic Street.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the two were released into the custody of their parents after signing statements and making restitution of the $4 which was stolen from the printing firm.

The metal container, which was stolen Sunday, was found Tuesday by small girls in a shed at the rear of Columbia Street School. The money was taken from Mrs. Hite's purse in a dining room buffet Monday night. The two boys admitted spending the $27.

Mahoney Forces Win One Round, Lose Another

Judge Carter Issues Decisions

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP) — George P. Mahoney and his attorneys were in court here twice today, losing, winning and then trying again to get a look at voter cards, registration books and other paraphernalia used in the primary election June 28.

At stake were the seven unit votes in Baltimore's 4th Legislative District, enough to upset the apparent outcome and give Mahoney the Democratic nomination for governor over his bitter rival, Dr. H. C. Byrd.

But, the judge declared, election board records are public records and they are subject to inspection by any citizen under reasonable circumstances.

He said he had no power to issue such a ruling in the action then before him but he promised he would issue an order if Mahoney found one necessary and asked for it in another proceeding.

The Weather

Yesterday was warm and sunny with pleasant winds as temperatures rose to a high of 84 degrees. Bright, almost cloudless skies followed Wednesday's showers. The low for the 24-hour period was 60 degrees and at 8 p. m. the thermometer registered 78. The humidity was 42 per cent at Constitution Park's weather station. Forecast today is fair with moderate temperatures.

Retiring Dairy Employe Honored

Dennis H. Springer, who is retiring after 30 years as an employe of the Queen City Co-Operative Dairy, Inc., was honored by the dairy and fellow workers last night at a testimonial dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Springer, center, is shown with Jack Beck, left, sales manager of the dairy, and Joseph F. Garlitz, secretary of Dairy Workers Local No. 924 and a fellow employe at Queen City. Beck presented Springer a complete fishing outfit on behalf of the company and Garlitz gave him a wrist watch on behalf of his fellow workers. Springer, who will be 71 October 24, started to work at the old Cumberland Dairy February 1, 1924. When that firm was bought out by the Tri-State Sanitary Milk Company which later became Queen City he came with the new organization July 5, 1924. He married the former Lelia H. Day in 1911 and they have five children, three boys and two girls, and 11 grandchildren, four boys and seven girls. Springer drove a special truck for a number of years but more recently has served a route covering much of South Cumberland. Now that "Pop," as he is affectionately known, is retiring, he plans to do some fishing and take it easy. John D. Liebau, who was manager of the Queen City Dairy when Springer came to work for the firm, is still general manager there. About 50 attended the dinner, which was sponsored by the dairy.

"Snow White" Float Planned By Mapleside

Martha Catlett Will Be Queen In Parade

Mapleside Playground will enter a float depicting "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in the Intra-City Playground Parade which will be held here August 13 at 7 p. m.

Plans for participation in the parade, the first such ever to be held here, were made at a meeting of the Mapleside Playground Wednesday night with Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, general playground supervisor.

The association voted to give $25 toward the cost of decorating the float, and members promised to give materials and time needed to prepare the display.

Costumes for the characters on the float will be made by the children, with the assistance of playground supervisors and parents.

Queen Is Elected

Mrs. Jeff Martin, president, and Mesdames Margaret Dunlap, Blanche Lueck, Demarius Sonner, Ethel Hudson and Eloise Bealky, who were present at the planning session, promised full cooperation in all of the tasks needed for the parade.

Martha Catlett has been elected queen for Mapleside Playground. She will ride in the parade with her attendants, Camille Cage and Joan Bealky. Her flower girls will be Sandra Sonner and Melva Richard.

Mrs. Hogan said the 110 children at Mapleside, as at all the other 15 playgrounds, are planning to take part in the parade with great enthusiasm.

Expect Big Turnout

Each playground will feature a float depicting some scene which is of interest to children.

Queens and their attendants, who are now being selected, will greet the public from open cars, and each ground will sponsor a marching unit.

The Cumberland Concert Band will play during the parade and one marching band, the Allegany High School Band, has indicated it will take part.

The parade will form on South George Street, march down Baltimore to Centre Street, to Frederick Street, down Mechanic to Baltimore Street and disband at the State Armory.

National WOW Director To Speak At Dreyer Service

Lawrence Oliver, of Richmond, Va., national director, woodmen of the world, will deliver the main address Sunday at 2 p. m. at Canada Hose House, during the memorial service for Frederick C. "Buck" Dreyer, water rescue and recovery expert, who served the surrounding area on a volunteer basis for many years.

A memorial stone supplied by Mountain City Camp 66, WOW, together with the assistance of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police, will be dedicated during the afternoon program which is expected to be attended by many of "Buck's" friends.

Plans Complete

Final plans for the program were completed during a meeting Wednesday night at the WOW Home on Union Street, according to Stoner S. Dowlan, general chairman, past grand consul of the WOW, who is being assisted by Sgt. John S. Newhouse, advisor to the auxiliary police, and John German, general secretary, WOW.

Oliver will speak on the community service of Woodmen of the World. Master of ceremonies for the afternoon memorial and dedication program will be Russell L. Reynolds.

After the national anthem is sung, invocation will be made by Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church.

An address of welcome will be extended by Mayor Roy W. Eves, which will be followed by an address, "Testimonial to Frederick C. "Buck" Dreyer," by Attorney James Alfred Avirett.

The main address and presentation of a stone erected in Dreyer's honor at Blue Spring on North Mechanic Street beside the Canada Hose House will be made by Oliver.

Accepting the stone on behalf of Cumberland will be William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and firemen, who will also give a short talk.

Remarks will be given by Dowlan and the program will be concluded with benediction by Rev. Robert Hopkins, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Native Stone

"Erected in memorial of Frederick C. Dreyer, 1880-1951. Beloved Humanitarian. Buck Dreyer lived for the well being of others. For a half century he voluntarily promoted life saving and rescue work along the Potomac and adjacent waters."

During the program Sgt. Newhouse and city police will be assisted in handling traffic by the auxiliary police. The WOW has a national program to honor persons who have donated their efforts unselfishly for their community. Last year there were only 84 persons throughout the United States honored in this manner by the WOW.

Dreyer will be the first person from the area to receive this honor. A small park area has been built around the memorial stone and plans are underway to beautify Blue Spring and restock it with fish.

An attractive dedication ceremony program has been prepared for the occasion and relates a history of Dreyer and his accomplishments.

Suit Filed In Property Disagreement

Lonaconing Alley Narrowed By Fence

An injunction suit and show cause order were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court against two Lonaconing property owners to enjoin them from interfering with the use of an 18½ foot alleyway off Allegany Street in Lonaconing.

The suit, filed by Attorneys James S. Getty and Edward J. Ryan, claims the two property owners, William G. Schaidt and John Anderson, have erected a fence along one side of the alley which narrows the roadway several feet. It also states a driveway from the alley to Anderson's property which was excavated lower than the alleyway has cut the alley's width in half making it dangerous for vehicles to pass to get to the property of one of the complainants in the suit.

The suit was filed in behalf of Thomas B. and Margaret Dick, Gilbert and Sarah Schlereth and Harold and Francis Connor against Anderson and Schaidt. Schlereth's property, which is located to the rear of the alley, can be reached only through the alley, the lawyers pointed out while the fence blocks off the rear entrance to Connor's house. A coal shed and garage owned by Dick can be reached only through the alley.

The injunction requested the court to cause the fence to be removed and the alley restored to its original state, pointing out it has been used by the plaintiffs and the public for more than 40 years.

The show cause order signed by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris gave Anderson and Schaidt until August 15 to answer why the injunction should not be passed as prayed.

Still Charge Trial Scheduled

Trial for Arthur D. Bowser, of Laurel Run near Moscow, who was released under $2,000 bond on a charge of maintaining and operating an illegal still for the purpose of manufacturing moonshine whisky, has been set next Friday at 7:30 p. m. in Westernport, before Trial Magistrate Carl W. Shaffer.

Bowser, an unemployed miner, was placed under arrest by Agent Charles McLane of the Maryland Alcohol Tax Enforcement Unit, assisted by Trooper Milton Hart of the Maryland State Police, Constable Leonard D. Murphy and Officer Richard Householder, of Westernport.

The still, located in the basement of Bowser's home, included such equipment as a gas stove, three tanks of bottled gas, several barrels of mash, and 30 gallons of moonshine whisky. Six gallons of whisky were also found in the bedroom.

Most of it was destroyed, except for the stove, one of the bottled gas tanks, and a quantity of mash and whisky, which will be used as evidence.

Firemen To Meet At Deer Park

The next meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's Association will be held at Deer Park, August 1, according to David E. Kirk, president. He is urging all member companies to be represented at this and future meetings. With the convention of the Maryland Firemen's Association to be held in Cumberland in 1955, Kirk said it is important that all area units take part in the planning which has already started.

Also of interest to area fire companies, Kirk noted, are several parades, scheduled as follows: LaVale, July 24; Midland, July 30; Deer Park, August 12; Lonaconing, August 20, and Bowling Green, August 20.

Seattle Motorist's Automobile Overturns At Edge Of Ridgeley

An automobile being driven by R. D. Schmeideker, of Seattle, Washington, was involved in an unusual accident yesterday on the outskirts of Ridgeley.

Schmeideker's car was towing another vehicle behind it, and when the driver suddenly applied his brakes to avoid hitting several youths on bicycles, the car jackknifed and overturned.

Schmeideker's wife, who was the only other occupant of the car, sustained bruises, but did not require hospitalization.

Ridgeley Chief of Police Harry Detrick investigated.

Magistrate Defers Decision In Suit Against Muir Estate

In a fatal accident, the drivers of the vehicles involved have their licenses taken away until an investigation is conducted by the State Police. Therefore, Haberlein was unable to drive the bus as he had no license.

W. Earle Cobey, attorney for the plaintiff, declared that Haberlein's license would not have been suspended had it not been for the accident, which was due to negligence on the part of Muir.

William H. Geppert, who represented the Muir estate, claimed that it was no fault of Muir's that Haberlein lost wages, as the license revocation is an intervening order of the State Police, enforced in the event of a fatal accident.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who heard the case, is expected to render a decision within the next few days.

School Board To Receive Bids On New Project

Addition To Be Made At Johnson Heights

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Education at the board's office on Washington Street until 2 p.m. Tuesday, August 17, for the construction of alterations and additions to the Johnson Heights Elementary School located on Memorial Avenue between Kent Avenue and Arundel Street.

Plans and specifications for the construction work can be obtained at the Board of Education office or at the office of the architects, Johannes and Murray, Silver Spring.

Several Class Rooms

The new construction work is the eighth project of nine in the $3,500,000 program authorized by the General Assembly of Maryland in 1953 for school buildings in Allegany County.

On July 13 the Board of County Commissioners of the county requested an additional $1,000,000 loan from the state to complete school construction until March of 1955. The loan is the third the county has received from the state for school building work. The first loan was $800,000 and the second $390,000.

Completed projects under the school building program include Lincoln school in Frostburg, an addition at McCoole elementary school, and remodeling of Lonaconing's old Central High School to an elementary institution.

Others Started

Now under construction are additions to Carver High School in Cumberland, Flintstone High School and Oldtown High as well as the new elementary school at LaVale.

Besides the addition to Johnson Heights school contemplated projects still in the planning stage include a new public school at Westernport.

Contractors proposing to bid on the Johnson Heights project may receive the loan of plans and specifications with a maximum of three sets per bidder, a $25 deposit required for each set. Additional sets may be purchased by the bidders.

Not later than 10 days after the opening of the bids August 17 all document deposits will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders upon receipt of complete drawings and specifications in good condition. Documents must be returned to the architects within 10 days after the opening of the bids or deposits will be forfeited.

The Board of Education will reserve the right to reject any or all the bids.

Major Algieri Is Honored By Observer Corps

The Allegany County Ground Observer Corps has announced that Major Patsy Algieri of 602 Maryland Avenue, was named "Observer of the Month" by its organization.

Algieri does his observing at a post near the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, where he is presently employed. He is a veteran of World War II, where he was awarded the Silver Star medal for bravery and the Purple Heart for a wound received in combat.

Between wars, Algieri accepted a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve and was called to duty during the Korean conflict. He again spent time overseas, this time in Korea. After his return to the states, he was mustered out, but stayed in the Marine Corps Reserve. In 1951 the Sixth Special Infantry Company was activated in the training center on McKaig's Hill.

Algieri became it's commanding officer and was subsequently promoted to Major, the rank he holds today in the Marine Corps Reserve. Major Algieri urges all citizens to do their share in helping to prevent a surprise air attack.

Clinics Are Planned

The Health Department has scheduled a child hygiene clinic today at 10 a. m. in Flintstone and a chest clinic at 9 a. m. in City Hall.

DAVID K. JENKINS

Frostburg Man Named To Teach At Allegany High

Jenkins To Direct Driver Education

David K. Jenkins, 33-year-old Frostburg native, has been appointed driver education instructor at Allegany High School, Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools for Allegany County announced yesterday.

Jenkins, who is married and the father of four children, will replace J. Hubert Radcliffe on the Allegany faculty. Radcliffe, who was chairman of the Driver Education Committee and taught general science, American history and economics also at the Campobello school, was recently named principal at Oldtown High School.

A graduate of Beall High School in 1937, Jenkins went to Frostburg State Teachers College in 1946 and was graduated from the Frostburg institution in 1950. He completed some graduate work at Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa., and expects to attend summer courses beginning next month in driver education at West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va.

The new Allegany High instructor taught a half year at Prince Frederick, Calvert County, after receiving his degree, completed two years as a member of the Frederick High School faculty and for the past two terms was an instructor at Northern High School at the Cove in Garrett County.

Jenkins, his wife and family, reside at 60 Ormond Street in Frostburg.

County Rates Fourth In Bond Sales

45.1 Per Cent Of Goal Sold

Allegany County ranks fourth among the 23 counties of Maryland and Baltimore City in the sale of savings bonds, Lynn C. Lashley, chairman of the county's bond savings campaign, reports for the first six months of the the year.

Citizens of the county have invested $1,434,343 in series E and H savings bonds during the initial six months of 1954. This is 45.1 per cent of the yearly goal of $3,175,700 for the county, Lashley pointed out in urging the residents of the county to increase their purchases of savings bonds.

Noting that the county fell $153,507 short of the quota for the first half year, Lashley said that during the month of June E and H series bonds sales reached $215,861.

In boosting the need for increased buying of savings bonds Lashley said local banks are contributing time and services and advice on the sales.

The bonds, of course, provide a dependable cash reserve, cost 75 per cent of maturity value and are easy to buy, have compounded 3 per cent interest with the principal and interest fully guaranteed by the United States government.

Washington County, with 59.3 per cent of its $2,940,900 quota met during the January to June sales, leads all the counties in the state. Second is Harford County with 52 per cent of $2,332,000 quota, and third is Baltimore County which has sold 45.3 per cent of its $7,981,600 quota.

The state as a whole has sold $30,558,418 in savings bonds. This is 40.5 per cent of the state's $74,200,000 quota for the year.

Garrett County ranked 18th among the 23 counties and Baltimore City, with 31.8 per cent of its $371,000.

City Officials Set Expressway Vote August 9

Mayor Cites Trend In Favor Of Project

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Cumberland will learn Aug. 9, one way or another, whether work will begin this year on a proposed 10 million dollar expressway through and over the heart of the city.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said today the question of city approval of the project will be put to the mayor and Council on that date—the final day for decision this year.

Mayor Eves led a delegation of city officials to Baltimore today for a conference with the State Roads Commission to learn the official and detailed status of the expressway, which has become the subject of a major controversy among its proponents and opponents in Cumberland.

Must Give Decision

They were told by Chairman Russell H. McCain of the Roads Commission that the commission must know by Aug. 9 whether the city will approve the project. Otherwise, McCain said, the commission will turn its attention elsewhere.

The commission originally had asked for a decision on July 26. But it extended the date two weeks because of the possibility that the recent city elections would have resulted in an entirely new administration.

Actually, McCain said, the SRC is "skating on extremely thin ice" by holding up the federal funds now available to the project as long as it has.

The only basis on which the funds are being held up, the commission chairman said, is a letter from the mayor saying a decision will be made. A more binding and official agreement is legally required, he said.

Trend Is In Favor

Mayor Eves told newsmen he believed sentiment toward the project has shown a marked trend in favor of it. Much opposition, he said, was based on misinformation which was cleared up by recent publication in Cumberland newspapers of detailed plans and financial data.

In the official party from Cumberland were Mayor Eves, Commissioners William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Cumberland would be asked to contribute $490,000, spread over seven years at $70,000 a year, as its share in the project. It also would bear the cost of relocating utilities and pay for installation of necessary traffic signals, curbs and sidewalks.

Could Let Contracts

Chief Engineer Norman M. Pritchett of the SRC told the visitors that if approval is given by the City Aug. 9, the first contracts for planning work could be let this year.

The Roads Commission plan calls for a six-lane divided highway from Willowbrook Road and the Baltimore Pike on the east to a point near the intersection of the present U. S. 40 and Maryland 53 west of the city.

A viaduct would carry the road from the intersection of Maryland Ave. and Emily St. westward over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, the Western Maryland Railway tracks, and Wills Creek, terminating at Beall and Smallwood Streets.

There would be a number of interchanges to accommodate traffic into and out of the city, including a major interchange between the two railroads which would also connect with an industrial highway in South Cumberland.

Lamont Playground Holds Hat Show

Lamont Street Playground held a hat show last night, with 19 children competing for five prizes.

Jerry Stonebraker won the prize for the largest hat; James O'Brien, smallest; Lennie Mason, most original; Lisa Stephens, prettiest, and David Light and Karen Sue Reuschel, tied for the most unusual.

Judges were Mrs Emily White, Miss Pauline Geiger and Mary Elsa Huff.

Coming events include a games party, planned by the Lamont Street Playground Association today at 7:30 p. m., a bubble gum contest Monday at 2 p. m. and a button contest at 7:30 p. m., a square dance and cake walk Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and a games party Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

LaVale Volunteer Firemen Will Stage Parade Tonight

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company will hold its annual parade today at 7:30 p. m., as a feature of the company's week-long festival and celebration. The line of march will form at the intersection of the Mt. Savage Road and Route 40 and will wind up at the Fire Hall.

Twenty-five units will take part in the big parade, including volunteer fire companies from Corriganville, Shaft, Bowling Green, Cresaptown, Midland, Mt. Savage, McCoole, Grantsville, Barton, Frostburg, Bedford Road, Clarysville, Flintstone, Bowmans Addition, District 16, Baltimore Pike, Deer Park and Salisbury, Pa.

There will also be ladies auxiliary units from three fire companies in this area taking part. They are from Bedford Road, District 16, and Deer Park.

The Ridgeleyettes, a group of baton-twirling exhibitionists under the direction of Miss Janet Ridge, ly will participate, along with the Lonaconing City Band and the VFW Drum and Bugle Corps.

The local Marine Recruiting office is furnishing a full dress uniformed color guard.

Bergen Without Charlie

"A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" is as perfect a bit of reverie as America has ever produced, and I daresay it will never get very far from the TV cameras. The Mark Twain classic has been made into a motion picture three times—in 1921, 1931 and 1949—and has been a musical on Broadway in 1927 and 1943.

It has been a television drama at least twice and maybe more, the last being a Kraft production on ABC-TV with Edgar Bergen making one of his rare appearances without Charlie McCarthy as the Connecticut Yankee. Besides parting with Charlie for awhile—an excellent idea—this was quite a departure in another way for Bergen who has been monkeying around with the championing filmed television for years.

This was live television and Bergen romped through his hour-long straight role with great ease and assurance as if he were having the time of his life, as I suspect he was. In moments of stress, he sounded an awful lot like Charlie rather than himself, which didn't hurt a bit. He was surrounded by an expert cast which included Jack Livesey as King Arthur, Joey Walsh as Clarence and Victor Jory as Merlin.

The original novel along with its surefire fantasy contains a good deal of social satire, some of it, as in the case of a lot of Twain's books, pretty bitter. The dramatic adaptor always has the choice of leaving in the bitterness which tends to sour the comedy or play it strictly for laughs. George Roy Hill, who adapted the Kraft version, took the second choice and made the whole thing a medieval romp in the sunshine.

Of course, the Yankee does thrust democracy on the thoroughly astonished sixth-Century rabble, but the election campaign between Sir Launcelot and Sir Kay was just a device to poke a little fun at our political stuffed shirts and their queer habits. Incidentally, this bit went on much too long. There's an awful lot of grist in "The Connecticut Yankee" which had to be cut out and more of it could have been crowded in if the election had been shortened a bit.

"There were some awfully good scenes—King Arthur dozing on his throne while his knights tell tall and absolutely phoney stories about their exploits, Bergen causing a panic by lighting a cigar with his cigaret lighter, and the final scene—always a triumph of wish-fulfillment—when Bergen causes or appears to cause a total eclipse.

Altogether it was great fun and I hope they do it again, Bergen and all. This is not the first time that Bergen has appeared without Charlie. In 1948 he played a small part in the movie version of "I Remember Mama." It may get to be a habit.

The two-time winner—and perhaps three-time winner by now—on the Amateur Hours is a one-legged Navy veteran who tap dances. When he appeared for his last bit, he told Ted Mack, the proprietor of this enterprise, that he didn't want to win on sympathy, he wanted to win on talent alone. The he proceeded to do a little jig on crutches.

I don't know whether he won and haven't enough interest to find out. I do know, though, that if he won, it was on sympathy, not on talent. He hasn't any talent. How the devil can a one-legged man have any talent as a tap dancer?

This playing on our sympathies—"Strike It Rich" and "This Is Your Life" and all the rest of them—continues to be a maudlin and unnecessary as ever. But, for heaven's sake, let's not let any hypocrisy creep in. A one-legged piano player could conceivably be judged on talent. A one-legged tap dancer has no other purpose than to call attention to his affliction and Ted Mack must know it as well as the rest of us.

OMISSION INFORMATIVE

CARD-READING by alert players is based not only on what they do, but on what they do not do. Sometimes an omission is as informative as a positive act. That is the case when you would expect a certain lead to be made by a smart cardsman unless he held a particular card or combination of cards. His failure to lead that suit may be the key to what he or his partner holds in it, and accordingly may serve as a direction post in plotting your own course.

North, known as a highly combative man during both auction and play, kept quiet about his own two-ace strength in the hope that his opponents might become ambitious enough to overbid so he could double them. That's just the way he felt about their 4-Spades, which he doubled on the strength of his own aces and the fact that his partner had enough, without the heart A, to overcall at the two level.

South opened his heart Q, which the A won. The diamond A was laid down and, in view of South's high 10, the 6 was led to the K to give the defenders their three-trick "book." Hard put for a lead now, South selected the club 4, which East won with the 7.

Now came the crucial moment, as East pondered how to keep the trump K from scoring. Looking back, he decided that North's failure to return a trump at the second trick made it seem likely that defender held the K. But when South, after winning with the diamond K, did not lead a trump—instead preferring the hazardous club lead—the declarer concluded South held the missing trump honor and didn't wish to jeopardize it by leading from it. A further thought was that North probably would not have doubled if holding that card, which would give a clue to its location. His reflections telling him South must have the spade K, he determined that the only chance to kill it was to have it be a singleton. So he laid down the spade A, felled the K and went on to make his game, with great rejoicing at North's chagrin.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids in triplicate will be received by the Board of Education at the Board office, 108 Washington Street, Cumberland, Maryland, until 2:00 p. m., E.D.S.T., Tuesday, August 17, 1954, for the construction of alterations and additions to the Johnson Heights Elementary School located on Memorial Avenue between Kent Avenue and Arundel Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Plans and specifications for this work may be obtained at the Board of Education office or at the office of the architects, Johannes and Murray, 855 Pershing Drive, Silver Spring, Maryland.

Contractors proposing to bid may receive the loan of plans and specifications (a maximum of three sets of documents per bidder), a deposit of $25.00 per set being required at time of issuance; additional sets may be purchased for the sum of $20.00 per set, said purchase sum not returnable. Not later than ten days after opening of bids, all document deposits will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders upon receipt of complete drawings and specifications in good condition. Documents must be returned to the architects within ten days after opening of bids or deposit will be forfeited by the bidder. Deposit will not be returnable to the successful bidder.

The Board of Education reserves the right to waive any informalities in or reject any or all bids.

Each bidder must deposit with his proposal security in an amount not less than five (5%) per cent of his bid in the form required by the Instructions to Bidders contained in the specifications.

Utility Costs Set Under $200,000

Crosstown Changes Are Estimated

The total cost of relocating public utilities and related city responsibilities in connection with the proposed crosstown expressway program will be less than $200,000, according to estimates prepared by the utilities involved and the City Engineering Department.

The figure does not include the cost of lighting the expressways. City officials said the Potomac Edison Company is still working on the lighting plan but has informed the city it will be asked to pay a monthly charge for service, the same as is used for all other street lights in the city.

Estimates Presented

The total cost of the city responsibilities, other than the $490,000 to match federal-aid funds, is $198,180, according to the city and utility estimates.

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission which is opposed to the plan had estimated the actual cost to the city at $2,770,000, and that moving utilities alone would cost $500,000 — but that double that amount would be a more accurate figure.

These estimates included $150,000 for traffic signals and $200,000 for lighting and maintaining lights on the bridges and approaches.

For the proposed east-west route, the following city and utility estimates have been given:

City — Relocation of water lines, $60,000; relocation of sewer lines, $15,000; traffic signals needed on the route, $12,000; curbs and sidewalks, $5,000, and widening curbs on Henderson Avenue, $3,000.

Relocation by utility firms on the east-west route were estimated by the C&P Telephone Company as $6,000; Potomac Edison Company, $125,000 and the C&A Gas Company, $6,600.

For the industrial boulevard route linking the crosstown birdge with Route 51, the city has estimated that relocating water lines will cost $1,500, sewer lines, $5,000, traffic signals, $6,000 and curbs and sidewalks, $5,000.

Utility estimates include $10,000 by the C & P Telephone Company, $35,000 by Potomac Edison Company and $3,800 by the C&A Gas Company.

May Reduce Cost

Informed city officials pointed out that negotiations with the utilities will probably reduce the cost to the city.

The official said, "we asked the companies to estimate the most of moving the utility lines and they gave them to us." He added that several of the firms indicated willingness to negotiate.

It was pointed out that the Potomac Edison Company, as requested, presented its estimates of the cost of moving power poles and lines.

But city officials said the company has never presented bills to the city for moving utility lines, and is not going to make a charge for moving its equipment on Frederick Street.

W.Va. Deaf Schools May Be Merged

Negroes May Go To Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 22 (AP)—Superintendents of the state's white and Negro schools for the deaf and blind recommended today that their institutions be consolidated at Romney.

Hugo F. Schunhoff and Edward A. Bolling, heads of the white and Negro schools, respectively, offered that proposal in a joint report to the State Board of Education, which wound up a two-day meeting here.

The suggestion came in the wake of earlier board action which eliminated racial segregation at the nine colleges under its jurisdiction. That step followed a U. S. Supreme Court decision holding such segregation unconstitutional.

The white schools for the deaf and blind now are located at Romney. The Negro schools are at Institute in Kanawha County. The board merely received today's report without discussing any future action.

Bolling, who has been superintendent of the Negro schools for deaf and blind for 18 years, said he thought it was probable that present buildings and facilities there eventually would be absorbed by West Virginia State College.

Two Youths Admit Thefts

Two teen-age youths, picked up by Cumberland City Police, have admitted participation in the theft of a cash box from the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, and $27 from a purse belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, 708 North Mechanic Street.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the two were released into the custody of their parents after signing statements and making restitution of the $4 which was stolen from the printing firm.

The metal container, which was stolen Sunday, was found Tuesday by small girls in a shed at the rear of Columbia Street School. The money was taken from Mrs. Hite's purse in a dining room buffet Monday night. The two boys admitted spending the $27.

Mahoney Forces Win One Round, Lose Another

Judge Carter Issues Decisions

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP) — George P. Mahoney and his attorneys were in court here twice today, losing, winning and then trying again to get a look at voter cards, registration books and other paraphernalia used in the primary election June 28.

At stake were the seven unit votes in Baltimore's 4th Legislative District, enough to upset the apparent outcome and give Mahoney the Democratic nomination for governor over his bitter rival, Dr. H. C. Byrd.

Mahoney sought a court order requiring the election supervisors to let him and his legal aides examine various records in connection with a recount of the votes in the 4th District.

Judge Joseph L. Carter ruled in Superior Court that the election supervisors could not be required to do this as part of a recount.

But, the judge declared, election board records are public records and they are subject to inspection by any citizen under reasonable circumstances.

He said he had no power to issue such a ruling in the action then before him but he promised he would issue an order if Mahoney found one necessary and asked for it in another proceeding.

The Weather

Yesterday was warm and sunny with pleasant winds as temperatures rose to a high of 84 degrees. Bright, almost cloudless skies followed Wednesday's showers. The low for the 24-hour period was 60 degrees and at 8 p. m. the thermometer registered 78. The humidity was 42 per cent at Constitution Park's weather station. Forecast today is fair with moderate temperatures.

Retiring Dairy Employe Honored

Dennis H. Springer, who is retiring after 30 years as an employe of the Queen City Co-Operative Dairy, Inc., was honored by the dairy and fellow workers last night at a testimonial dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Springer, center, is shown with Jack Beck, left, sales manager of the dairy, and Joseph F. Garlitz, secretary of Dairy Workers Local No. 924 and a fellow employe at Queen City. Beck presented Springer a complete fishing outfit on behalf of the company and Garlitz gave him a wrist watch on behalf of his fellow workers. Springer, who will be 71 October 24, started to work at the old Cumberland Dairy February 1, 1924. When that firm was bought out by the Tri-State Sanitary Milk Company which later became Queen City he came with the new organization July 5, 1924. He married the former Lelia H. Day in 1911 and they have five children, three boys and two girls, and 11 grandchildren, four boys and seven girls. Springer drove a special truck for a number of years but more recently has served a route covering much of South Cumberland. Now that "Pop," as he is affectionately known, is retiring, he plans to do some fishing and take it easy. John D. Liebau, who was manager of the Queen City Dairy when Springer came to work for the firm, is still general manager there. About 50 attended the dinner, which was sponsored by the dairy.

"Snow White" Float Planned By Mapleside

Martha Catlett Will Be Queen In Parade

Mapleside Playground will enter a float depicting "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in the Intra-City Playground Parade which will be held here August 13 at 7 p. m.

Plans for participation in the parade, the first such ever to be held here, were made at a meeting of the Mapleside Playground Wednesday night with Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, general playground supervisor.

The association voted to give $25 toward the cost of decorating the float, and members promised to give materials and time needed to prepare the display.

Costumes for the characters on the float will be made by the children, with the assistance of playground supervisors and parents.

Queen Is Elected

Mrs. Jeff Martin, president, and Mesdames Margaret Dunlap, Blanche Lueck, Demarius Sonner, Ethel Hudson and Eloise Bealky, who were present at the planning session, promised full cooperation in all of the tasks needed for the parade.

Martha Catlett has been elected queen for Mapleside Playground. She will ride in the parade with her attendants, Camille Cage and Joan Bealky. Her flower girls will be Sandra Sonner and Melva Richard.

Other children attending Mapleside Playground will march in the parade and each will represent some activity which is offered at the play center.

Mrs. Hogan said the 110 children at Mapleside, as at all the other 15 playgrounds, are planning to take part in the parade with great enthusiasm.

Expect Big Turnout

She said up to half of the 2,419 children who are registered at the 16 playgrounds are expected to take part in the parade.

Each playground will feature a float depicting some scene which is of interest to children.

Queens and their attendants, who are now being selected, will greet the public from open cars, and each ground will sponsor a marching unit.

The Cumberland Concert Band will play during the parade and one marching band, the Allegany High School Band, has indicated it will take part.

The parade will form on South George Street, march down Baltimore to Centre Street, to Frederick Street, down Mechanic to Baltimore Street and disband at the State Armory.

Firemen To Meet At Deer Park

The next meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's Association will be held at Deer Park, August 1, according to David E. Kirk, president. He is urging all member companies to be represented at this and future meetings. With the convention of the Maryland Firemen's Association to be held in Cumberland in 1955, Kirk said it is important that all area units take part in the planning which has already started.

Also of interest to area fire companies, Kirk noted, are several parades, scheduled as follows: LaVale, July 24; Midland, July 30; Deer Park, August 12; Lonaconing, August 5, and Bowling Green, August 20.

Seattle Motorist's Automobile Overturns At Edge Of Ridgeley

An automobile being driven by R. D. Schmeideker, of Seattle, Washington, was involved in an unusual accident yesterday on the outskirts of Ridgeley.

Schmeideker's car was towing another vehicle behind it, and when the driver suddenly applied his brakes to avoid hitting several youths on bicycles, the car jackknifed and overturned.

Schmeideker's wife, who was the only other occupant of the car, sustained bruises, but did not require hospitalization.

Ridgeley Chief of Police Harry Detrick investigated.

National WOW Director To Speak At Dreyer Service

Lawrence Oliver, of Richmond, Va., national director, woodmen of the world, will deliver the main address Sunday at 2 p. m. at Canada Hose House, during the memorial service for Frederick C. "Buck" Dreyer, water rescue and recovery expert, who served the surrounding area on a volunteer basis for many years.

A memorial stone supplied by Mountain City Camp 66, WOW, together with the assistance of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police, will be dedicated during the afternoon program which is expected to be attended by many of "Buck's" friends.

Plans Complete

Final plans for the program were completed during a meeting Wednesday night at the WOW Home on Union Street, according to Stoner S. Dowlan, general chairman, past grand consul of the WOW, who is being assisted by Sgt. John S. Newhouse, advisor to the auxiliary police, and John German, general secretary, WOW.

Oliver will speak on the community service of Woodmen of the World. Master of ceremonies for the afternoon memorial and dedication program will be Russell L. Reynolds.

After the national anthem is sung, invocation will be made by Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church.

An address of welcome will be extended by Mayor Roy W. Eves, which will be followed by an address, "Testimonial to Frederick C. "Buck" Dreyer," by Attorney James Alfred Avirett.

The main address and presentation of a stone erected in Dreyer's honor at Blue Spring on North Mechanic Street beside the Canada Hose House will be made by Oliver.

Accepting the stone on behalf of Cumberland will be William V. Keegan, commissioner of police and firemen, who will also give a short talk.

Remarks will be given by Dowlan and the program will be concluded with benediction by Rev. Robert Hopkins, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Native Stone

"Erected in memorial of Frederick C. Dreyer, 1880-1951. Beloved Humanitarian. Buck Dreyer lived for the well being of others. For a half century he voluntarily promoted life saving and rescue work along the Potomac and adjacent waters."

During the program Sgt. Newhouse and city police will be assisted in handling traffic by the auxiliary police. The WOW has a national program to honor persons who have donated their efforts unselfishly for their community. Last year there were only 84 persons throughout the United States honored in this manner by the WOW.

Dreyer will be the first person from the area to receive this honor. A small park area has been built around the memorial stone and plans are underway to beautify Blue Spring and restock it with fish.

An attractive dedication ceremony program has been prepared for the occasion and relates a history of Dreyer and his accomplishments.

Suit Filed In Property Disagreement

Lonaconing Alley Narrowed By Fence

An injunction suit and show cause order were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court against two Lonaconing property owners to enjoin them from interfering with the use of an 18½ foot alleyway off Allegany Street in Lonaconing.

The suit, filed by Attorneys James S. Getty and Edward J. Ryan, claims the two property owners, William G. Schaidt and John Anderson, have erected a fence along one side of the alley which narrows the roadway several feet. It also states a driveway from the alley to Anderson's property which was excavated lower than the alleyway has cut the alley's width in half making it dangerous for vehicles to pass to get to the property of one of the complainants in the suit.

The suit was filed in behalf of Thomas B. and Margaret Dick, Gilbert and Sarah Schlereth and Harold and Francis Connor against Anderson and Schaidt. Schlereth's property, which is located to the rear of the alley, can be reached only through the alley, the lawyers pointed out while the fence blocks off the rear entrance to Connor's house. A coal shed and garage owned by Dick can be reached only through the alley.

The injunction requested the court to cause the fence to be removed and the alley restored to its original state, pointing out it has been used by the plaintiffs and the public for more than 40 years.

The show cause order signed by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris gave Anderson and Schaidt until August 15 to answer why the injunction should not be passed as prayed.

Still Charge Trial Scheduled

Trial for Arthur D. Bowser, of Laurel Run near Moscow, who was released under $2,000 bond on a charge of maintaining and operating an illegal still for the purpose of manufacturing moonshine whisky, has been set next Friday at 7:30 p. m. in Westernport, before Trial Magistrate Carl W. Shaffer.

Bowser, an unemployed miner, was placed under arrest by Agent Charles McLane of the Maryland Alcohol Tax Enforcement Unit, assisted by Trooper Milton Hart of the Maryland State Police, Constable Leonard D. Murphy and Officer Richard Householder, of Westernport.

The still, located in the basement of Bowser's home, included such equipment as a gas stove, three tanks of bottled gas, several barrels of mash, and 30 gallons of moonshine whisky. Six gallons of whisky were also found in the bedroom.

Most of it was destroyed, except for the stove, one of the bottled gas tanks, and a quantity of mash and whisky, which will be used as evidence.

Before posting bond, Bowser had been lodged in the Westernport Jail.

Magistrate Defers Decision In Suit Against Muir Estate

In a civil suit yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court, Paul Haberlein, of Frostburg, seeks $192 from the administratrix of the estate of Clarence Muir, who was killed in a car-bus crash at the coal dipple near Pekin last Christmas Eve.

Haberlein, the driver of the Peoples Transit Line bus, asked for $192 as a result of a loss of three week's wages.

In a fatal accident, the drivers of the vehicles involved have their licenses taken away until an investigation is conducted by the State Police. Therefore, Haberlein was unable to drive the bus as he had no license.

W. Earle Cobey, attorney for the plaintiff, declared that Haberlein's license would not have been suspended had it not been for the accident, which was due to negligence on the part of Muir.

William H. Geppert, who represented the Muir estate, claimed that it was no fault of Muir's that Haberlein lost wages, as the license revocation is an intervening order of the State Police, enforced in the event of a fatal accident.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who heard the case, is expected to render a decision within the next few days.

School Board To Receive Bids On New Project

Addition To Be Made At Johnson Heights

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Education at the board's office on Washington Street until 2 p.m. Tuesday, August 17, for the construction of alterations and additions to the Johnson Heights Elementary School located on Memorial Avenue between Kent Avenue and Arundel Street.

Plans and specifications for the construction work can be obtained at the Board of Education office or at the office of the architects, Johannes and Murray, Silver Spring.

Several Class Rooms

The Johnson Heights Elementary School addition will include several class rooms and a new boiler, officials of the Board of Education pointed out.

The new construction work is the eighth project of nine in the $3,500,000 program authorized by the General Assembly of Maryland in 1953 for school buildings in Allegany County.

On July 13 the Board of County Commissioners of the county requested an additional $1,000,000 loan from the state to complete school construction until March of 1955. The loan is the third the county has received from the state for school building work. The first loan was $800,000 and the second $390,000.

Completed projects under the school building program include Lincoln school in Frostburg, an addition at McCoole elementary school, and remodeling of Lonaconing's old Central High School to an elementary institution.

Others Started

Now under construction are additions to Carver High School in Cumberland, Flintstone High School and Oldtown High as well as the new elementary school at LaVale.

Besides the addition to Johnson Heights school contemplated projects still in the planning stage include a new public school at Westernport.

Contractors proposing to bid on the Johnson Heights project may receive the loan of plans and specifications with a maximum of three sets per bidder, a $25 deposit required for each set. Additional sets may be purchased by the bidders.

Not later than 10 days after the opening of the bids August 17 all document deposits will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders upon receipt of complete drawings and specifications in good condition. Documents must be returned to the architects within 10 days after the opening of the bids or deposits will be forfeited.

The Board of Education will reserve the right to reject any or all the bids.

Major Algieri Is Honored By Observer Corps

The Allegany County Ground Observer Corps has announced that Major Patsy Algieri of 602 Maryland Avenue, was named "Observer of the Month" by its organization.

Algieri does his observing at a post near the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, where he is presently employed. He is a veteran of World War II, where he was awarded the Silver Star medal for bravery and the Purple Heart for a wound received in combat.

Between wars, Algieri accepted a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve and was called to duty during the Korean conflict. He again spent time overseas, this time in Korea. After his return to the states, he was mustered out, but stayed in the Marine Corps Reserve. In 1951 the Sixth Special Infantry Company was activated in the training center on McKaig's Hill.

Algieri became it's commanding officer and was subsequently promoted to Major, the rank he holds today in the Marine Corps Reserve. Major Algieri urges all citizens to do their share in helping to prevent a surprise air attack.

Clinics Are Planned

The Health Department has scheduled a child hygiene clinic today at 10 a. m. in Flintstone and a chest clinic at 9 a. m. in City Hall.

DAVID K. JENKINS

Frostburg Man Named To Teach At Allegany High

Jenkins To Direct Driver Education

David K. Jenkins, 33-year-old Frostburg native, has been appointed driver education instructor at Allegany High School, Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools for Allegany County announced yesterday.

Jenkins, who is married and the father of four children, will replace J. Hubert Radcliffe on the Allegany faculty. Radcliffe, who was chairman of the Driver Education Committee and taught general science, American history and economics also at the Campobello school, was recently named principal at Oldtown High School.

A graduate of Beall High School in 1937, Jenkins went to Frostburg State Teachers College in 1946 and was graduated from the Frostburg institution in 1950. He completed some graduate work at Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa., and expects to attend summer courses beginning next month in driver education at West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va.

The new Allegany High instructor taught a half year at Prince Frederick, Calvert County, after receiving his degree, completed two years as a member of the Frederick High School faculty and for the past two terms was an instructor at Northern High School at the Cove in Garrett County.

Jenkins, his wife and family, reside at 60 Ormond Street in Frostburg.

County Rates Fourth In Bond Sales

45.1 Per Cent Of Goal Sold

Allegany County ranks fourth among the 23 counties of Maryland and Baltimore City in the sale of savings bonds, Lynn C. Lashley, chairman of the county's bond savings campaign, reports for the first six months of the the year.

Citizens of the county have invested $1,434,343 in series E and H savings bonds during the initial six months of 1954. This is 45.1 per cent of the yearly goal of $3,175,700 for the county, Lashley pointed out in urging the residents of the county to increase their purchases of savings bonds.

Noting that the county fell $153,507 short of the quota for the first half year, Lashley said that during the month of June E and H series bonds sales reached $215,861.

In boosting the need for increased buying of savings bonds Lashley said local banks are contributing time and services and advice on the sales.

The bonds, of course, provide a dependable cash reserve, cost 75 per cent of maturity value and are easy to buy, have compounded 3 per cent interest with the principal and interest fully guaranteed by the United States government.

Washington County, with 59.3 per cent of its $2,940,900 quota met during the January to June sales, leads all the counties in the state. Second is Harford County with 52 per cent of $2,332,000 quota, and third is Baltimore County which has sold 45.3 per cent of its $7,981,600 quota.

The state as a whole has sold $30,558,418 in savings bonds. This is 40.5 per cent of the state's $74,200,000 quota for the year.

Garrett County ranked 18th among the 23 counties and Baltimore City, with 31.8 per cent of its $371,000.

City Officials Set Expressway Vote August 9

Mayor Cites Trend In Favor Of Project

BALTIMORE, July 22 (AP)—Cumberland will learn Aug. 9, one way or another, whether work will begin this year on a proposed 10 million dollar expressway through and over the heart of the city.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said today the question of city approval of the project will be put to the mayor and Council on that date—the final day for decision this year.

Mayor Eves led a delegation of city officials to Baltimore today for a conference with the State Roads Commission to learn the official and detailed status of the expressway, which has become the subject of a major controversy among its proponents and opponents in Cumberland.

Must Give Decision

They were told by Chairman Russell H. McCain of the Roads Commission that the commission must know by Aug. 9 whether the city will approve the project. Otherwise, McCain said, the commission will turn its attention elsewhere.

The commission originally had asked for a decision on July 26. But it extended the date two weeks because of the possibility that the recent city elections would have resulted in an entirely new administration.

Actually, McCain said, the SRC is "skating on extremely thin ice" by holding up the federal funds now available to the project as long as it has.

The only basis on which the funds are being held up, the commission chairman said, is a letter from the mayor saying a decision will be made. A more binding and official agreement is legally required, he said.

Trend Is In Favor

Mayor Eves told newsmen he believed sentiment toward the project has shown a marked trend in favor of it. Much opposition, he said, was based on misinformation which was cleared up by recent publication in Cumberland newspapers of detailed plans and financial data.

In the official party from Cumberland were Mayor Eves, Commissioners William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan.

Cumberland would be asked to contribute $490,000, spread over seven years at $70,000 a year, as its share in the project. It also would bear the cost of relocating utilities and pay for installation of necessary traffic signals, curbs and sidewalks.

Could Let Contracts

Chief Engineer Norman M. Pritchett of the SRC told the visitors that if approval is given by the City Aug. 9, the first contracts for planning work could be let this year.

The Roads Commission plan calls for a six-lane divided highway from Willowbrook Road and the Baltimore Pike on the east to a point near the intersection of the present U. S. 40 and Maryland 53 west of the city.

A viaduct would carry the road from the intersection of Maryland Ave. and Emily St. westward over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, the Western Maryland Railway tracks, and Wills Creek, terminating at Beall and Smallwood Streets.

There would be a number of interchanges to accommodate traffic into and out of the city, including a major interchange between the two railroads which would also connect with an industrial highway in South Cumberland.

Lamont Playground Holds Hat Show

Lamont Street Playground held a hat show last night, with 19 children competing for five prizes.

Judges were Mrs Emily White, Miss Pauline Geiger and Mary Elsa Huff.

Coming events include a games party, planned by the Lamont Street Playground Association today at 7:30 p. m., a bubble gum contest Monday at 2 p. m. and a button contest at 7:30 p. m., a square dance and cake walk Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. and a games party Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

LaVale Volunteer Firemen Will Stage Parade Tonight

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company will hold its annual parade today at 7:30 p. m., as a feature of the company's week-long festival and celebration. The line of march will form at the intersection of the Mt. Savage Road and Route 40 and will wind up at the Fire Hall.

Twenty-five units will take part in the big parade, including volunteer fire companies from Corriganville, Shaft, Bowling Green, Cresaptown, Midland, Mt. Savage, McCoole, Grantsville, Barton, Frostburg, Bedford Road, Clarysville, Flintstone, Bowmans Addition, District 16, Baltimore Pike, Deer Park and Salisbury, Pa.

There will also be ladies auxiliary units from three fire companies in this area taking part. They are from Bedford Road, District 16, and Deer Park.

The Ridgeleyettes, a group of baton-twirling exhibitionists under the direction of Miss Janet Ridge, ly will participate, along with the Lonaconing City Band and the VFW Drum and Bugle Corps.

Cromwell C. Zembower is president of the LaVale Fire Company, which stages a similar celebration each year, for the purpose of raising funds.
